Widower's Unusual Visit To A Seal Named For Wife

Great-Niece Calls Animal 'Aunt Alice'

By ALAN P. CUNNINGHAM

An 81-year-old Santa Cruz man and his great-niece yesterday paid what may well have been the most unusual visit ever at San Rafael's Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum.

They came to see the museum's big, enthusiastic sea lion, whose name happens to be Alice Parsons.

The man's name, by no coincidence, is Lee Parsons. To him, the seal was just plain Alice, while his great-niece, Selma Darnell of Reno called her "aunt Alice."

VERY ALERT

The connection between the family and the sea lion makes an interesting tale, indeed.

Parsons is a tall Mississippian, still remarkably alert at over four score years, who came west in 1917 and spent the next 40 years working all around California and the Pacific Northwest as a saw sharpener and salesman.

During those years, he and his wife, Alice, took in their great-niece and nephew, Selma and Lee Darnell, whose parents had died within three years. They reared the children like their own, Miss Parsons recalled fondly yesterday.

NEW SEA LION

Last Sept. 26, Alice Parsons died in Santa Cruz. Her husband made arrangements to ship her body back to her home town of Terry, Miss.

At the same time, the Boyd Museum was arranging to have its new sea lion shipped from Santa Cruz.

Somehow, in the shipping, the bill of lading that was supposed to go with the last remains of Mrs. Alice Parsons wound up with the crate containing the San Rafael-bound sea lion.

Museum workers, finding the tag, were perplexed. No one, then, know who Alice Parsons was, but the switch had one remarkable result.

"We tried several names for the seal," reported Mrs. Clara Evans the museum director, "but nothing stuck, and it always ended up Alice."

NAME FOUND

So the seal was named Alice Parsons.

Last month, someone related this to a San Francisco newspaper columnist who made a small item of it. The item was read by Selma Darnell, a dealer at Harrah's Club in Reno. The very next day, she came to San Rafael to see the seal.

Miss Darnell spent that day around the caged-in pool where

Alice got her name from a mis-placed shipping tag which was supposed to go with the body of Parsons' wife when it was shipped to Mississippi last fall. The great-niece believes the soul of the original Alice may have come along with the tag.

Brown Unhappy At Red Trawlers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Russian fishing trawlers now operating off the Oregon coast may pose a threat to California's $300 million-a-year fishing industry, Gov. Edmund B. industry, Gov. Brown said today.

The governor told his news conference he has contacted the State Department to see if an agreement with the Russians to protect the state's fisheries could be worked out.

"The State Department was not hopeful — as a matter of fact, they've been discouraging," Brown said.

Jury Convicts Alameda Tax Assessor Feragen

OAKLAND (AP) — Alameda County Tax Assessor Donald E. Feragen was convicted today of eight counts of bribery and was immediately removed from office.

The jury of six women and six men returned their verdict at 11:15 a.m. after seven and one half hours of deliberation.

His conviction was the first since an investigation began last year into alleged discrepencies in California's tax assessing in certain counties.

Feragen was automatically removed from office under a state law which requires public officials convicted of a felony to be removed.

He faces possible prison sentence of from 1 to 14 years on each count.

The assessor was accused of accepting $12,455 in bribes from Castro Valley tax consultant James C. Tooke in payment for lowering tax assessments for Tooke's clients.

Judge Redmond C. Staats had called Feragen from his home to the courtroom shortly before midnight, when it appeared the jury might be near a decision.

Feragen's trip was in vain.

Reapportionment Vote Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — An agreement has been reached for a Senate vote next Wednesday on Sen. Everett M. Dirksen's legislative reapportionment amendment. Opponents say they have enough votes to defeat the amendment.

The voting timetable bars any substantial change in the proposal which seeks to limit the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote ruling by letting states take factors other than population into consideration in apportioning one house of a state legislature.

The saving clause was insisted on by opponents of the proposed constitutional amendment to guard against any last-minute surprise by Dirksen. The agreement provides that any proposed change will have to be submitted and actedona any proposed change will have to be submitted and acted on a day before the vote.

Mozambique Takes Tanker

BEIRA, Mozambique (AP) — The Beira port captain boarded the oil tanker Ioanna V today and put her under control of Mozambique's Portuguese authorities, a government spokesman announced.

There was no indication of what might happen to the Ioanna's cargo of 18,000 tons of oil, which originally was destined for Rhodesia.

The British government has been putting pressure on the Portuguese government to prevent movement of the oil through the pipeline from Beira to Rhodesia.

Daylight Time Is Law

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) —President Johnson signed into law today legislation making daylight saving time mandatory through the nation from the last Sunday of April to the last Sunday of October, starting next year, unless a state exempts itself by special law.

Runaway Wheel Kills Marinite

Horace B. Dillehay of Terra Linda, on his way to a Giants baseball game last night, was killed in a freak accident on the James Lick Freeway in San Francisco.

Two large truck tires came loose from a northbound truck, about 7:45 p.m., bounced across the center divider barrier south of Army Street, and smashed into three cars, one of them Dillehay's. Four other persons were injured.

Dillehay, 49, of 145 Oleander Drive, owner of Tom Duffy Co., wholesale building materials, of San Rafael, was dead on arrival at Central Emergency Hospital in San Francisco.

The California Highway Patrol reported today the name of the truck driver was still unknown, and that he might not even know of the accident.

The wheels were bolted in tandem and must have come from a tractor or trailer with eight rear wheels, officers said. The truck continued on its way. A teletype was sent for officers to watch for a truck with missing wheels.

Riding with him was his brother-in-law, George B Knowles, 52, of 4 Luisa Court, San Rafael, who was treated at Franklin Hospital for a cut scalp and injured left wrist.

Less seriously hurt were three persons in another southbound car, Wilbert K. Aikens, 32, driver; his wife, Oweda Aikens, 27, and Lee Aikens, 28, all of Oakland.

The wheels also hit a northmound car driven by John P. Covey of San Bruno, but he was unhurt.

Dillehay, a native of Texas, had lived in Marin since 1941. He was a member of the Marines Memorial Club.

He is survived by his wife, Emily L. Dillehay of Terra Linda; a son, Kenneth Ray Dillehay of Terra Linda; three sisters, Mrs. Eva Minyard and Mrs. Gertrude Self of Napa and Mrs. Ethel Stocking of San Rafael; two brothers, Ray Dillehay of San Rafael and Doyle Dillehay of Washington.

Funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

COUNTY BUDGET MAY TAKE LEAP

Bruce, Mitchell Struggling To Hold Line At 21-Cent Tax Hike; $26.5 Million Seen

Prospects seemed firm today for a $26.5 million Marin County budget with a tax rate of about $2.39 per $100 assessed valuation to be recommended to county supervisors for fiscal 1967.

County Administrator Alan Bruce and Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell were struggling with figures to get the recommendation down to that level.

This fiscal year's budget totals $24.6 million. The county tax rate was $2.18.

Early this week, the first recapitulation showed the new budget total over $27 million, calling for a tax rate of $2.59, Mitchell said.

Bruce said today that he hoped to get the increase down "in the neighborhood" of the 21-cent increase he predicted to supervisors in January.

He said the budget of about $26.5 million appears necessary to "do what the county has to do and comply with state and federal requirements."

The new budget will include salary increases for employees to make the county "competitive in all areas" of employment, Bruce said.

MR. TAXPAYER, IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If line 8 turns out to be larger than line 9 on that familiar 1040A, brother, you've only got until midnight tomorrow to get up the difference.

Federal tax returns on income earned during 1965 with checks, if there's a balance owed must be postmarked by midnight, April 15. Late filers are penalized 5 per cent a month on their unpaid taxes.

This year, as every year, the government expects a last minute avalanche between now and the deadline. As of last week one out of every three persons expected to file had not yet sent in a return.

Committee To Study Schools

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Gov. Edmund G. Brown, flanked by Thomas Braden and Dr. Max Rafferty, today announced the appointment of a new citizens committee "to study the current condition and future development of California's public schools."

Brown told his news conference that Braden, president of the Board of Education, and Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction, had cooperated in choosing members for the 24-member group.

Braden and Rafferty, at odds over educational issues frequently in the past, both pledged cooperation with the new agency, which will be financed by a $400,000 federal grant.

Braden said the committee, whose membership will include University of California President Clark Kerr and author Irving Stone, was created largely because of recommendations from a consulting firm that studied California education two years ago. The consultants found a lack of machinery for developing educational plans.

"What we're really trying to do is to look ahead 10 years, 20 years and see what kind of education we need," Braden said.

Novato Youth Killed In Viet Combat Duty

Pfc. Robert A. Johnson, 18, of Novato has been killed in action with the First Infantry Division in Viet Nam.

His mother, Mrs. Eleanor Kegg, of 863 Pine Street, was notified of his death Tuesday night. There were no details of the action.

A native of San Rafael, Johnson grew up and attended schools in Novato, including three years at Novato High School. He had been in the Army for 10 months.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by a brother, Jack Kegg, and a sister, Marsha Kegg, of the home and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Strockbine of Novato.

The body will be returned to the United States, for burial in Golden Gate National Cemetery, Mrs. Kegg said.

Poverty Faction Boos Shriver

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sargent Shriver, head of the anti-poverty program, attempted to defend the operation today but was hooted down by dissident members of the Citizens' Crusade against Poverty.

As Shriver told of the programs that the Office of Economic Opportunity has promulgated, people representing grass-roots organizations interjected hoots and boos. They rose from their seats and moved toward the speaker's platform and yelling: "He hasn't done anything for us. Where does the poor have an opportunity?"

Senators Debate Abandoning War

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON— Many senators disagree on whether the political situation in South Viet Nam may force the United States to pull out of the war.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., told his colleagues yesterday that if the South Vietnamese don't want to continue the war "It's obvious the United States should not do it for them."

Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, felt that the possible fall of Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime may force a reassessment which could end with American withdrawal.

NO SUBSTITUTE

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., expressed belief at a New York news conference that "intensified military action north of the 17th Parallel is not going to be a substitute for the right kind of political action south of the 17th Parallel, in South Viet Nam."

He obviously was alluding to the B-52 bomber raid on a North Vietnamese mountain pass.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., back from a six-day visit to Saigon, predicted Ky's government "can survive if it moves carefully," but that Ky's role was more "iffy" than that of the junta as a whole.

SAME VEIN

In the same vein, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told reporters that the Buddhist-inspired turmoil may look more serious in Washington than in Saigon.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., said in an interview he could see down the road the possibility that a new civilian government might bring about negotiations with the Viet Cong that would end the fighting, even though the terms might not be acceptable to the United States.

Cooper, former ambassador to India, said the political unrest poses serious military, as well as diplomatic, problems. He said the struggle will withdraw Vietnamese units from battle and make it more difficult for Americans to defend themselves from such attacks

SAIGON — U.S. officials said today that for the first time in the Viet Nam war more American servicemen were killed during a one-week period of the fighting than South Vietnamese soldiers.

The officials said 95 Americans were reported killed during the week ending April 9 compared to only 67 South Vietnamese during the same period. In addition, 504 Americans were wounded and four others were listed as missing.

Terrorists attempting to exploit this political unrest struck two government installations in the capital in hit-and-run grenade tossing attacks today, stabbed a U.S. serviceman on the street and machine gunned a vehicle.

On the war front, U.S. officials disclosed that U.S. Marine "tunnel rats" armed only with pistols and flashlights slithered into a Communist underground hideout near An Hai village 340 miles north of Saigon today and captured 15 guerrillas and an arms cache.

The officials said 38 more guerrillas were killed in the Marine action and in sweeps by other U.S. forces, along with 35 captured and 117 suspects arrested.

Buddhists Joyful Over Vote Pledge

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thousands of jubilant Buddhist demonstrators marched peacefully through Saigon today in a victory celebration after the military regime decreed elections for a civilian government in three to five months.

A ranking Buddhist leader said the junta's formal pledge "satisfies our main demands."

The willingness of the Buddhist hierarchy to accept the election pledge may mean the survival of the U.S.-supported military government until the nationwide elections. On Sunday, the Buddhists had demanded the immediate resignation of the junta.

In contrast to the clashes last week between demonstrators and police and troops, police cleared the way for the marchers and held back watching crowds as the demonstrators moved alowly along.

The military chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, signed the election decree at the close of a three-day political congress called by the military junta to recommend ways to achieve the changeover to civilian rule.

The Buddhists softened their boycott of the congress by sending a lay observer to the final session. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky summoned the congress on April 3 in an effort to stem the rising tide of antigovernment demonstrations in Saigon and Buddhist strongholds in the north.

Johnson, Family On Way To Mexico

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, accompanied by her daughter Luci and a high level delegation headed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, left the capital today to meet the President for a trip to Mexico.

The First Lady's jetliner took off from Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington at 12:50 p.m. EST. It was scheduled to land at San Antonio, Tex., to pick up the President and then continue to Mexico City.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Iraq President Dies In Crash

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—President Abdel Salam Aref of Iraq, who survived repeated violent political upheavals in the past eight years, has been killed in a plane crash, Baghdad Radio announced today.

The Iraqi Radio said Interior Minister Maj. Gen. Abdel Latif Daraji and Industry Minister Mustafa Abdullah also were killed in the crash near the Persian Gulf port of Basra. A sandstorm was blamed.

Aref

Premier Abdel Rahman Bazzaz will be acting president until the Council of Ministers and the National Defense Council elect Aref's successor within a week, the broadcast said.

Diplomatic observers in London said Aref's death seemed likely to set off furious political infighting.

Aref was 45. He had maintained a precarious dominance over his country's bitterly feuding political and religious factions.

A Pan-Arab group wants Iraq to unite with President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic while a rival nationalist faction is against giving poverty-stricken Egypt access to Iraq's huge oil revenue.

Aref's regime also was plagued by a conflict between two Moslem sects.

Distributor Stops LSD

HANOVER, N.J. (AP)—The only licensed American distributor of the hallucinatory drug LSD has voluntarily halted distribution.

The action by Sandoz Pharmaceuticals was attributed to unforeseen public reaction against LSD, or lysergic acid diethylamide, produced in Switzerland by the company's parent firm, Sandoz limited.

Dr. Craigh Burrell, medical director for Sandoz, said last night, "We brought it (LSD), in from Switzerland for experimental purposes and released it only to highly qualified clinical investigators. Our stuff hasn't gone into the black market but the impression does persist among some people that it may have gone there."

Russ Off Viet Coast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia is maintaining two oceanographic vessels, presumably with "electronic intelligence capability" off the coast of South Viet Nam. Navy Capt. Carl A. Sander of Baltimore, just back from duty in Vietnamese waters, told newsmen yesterday "as far as we know they are engaged in oceanographic research . . . but I assume they also keep track of where our ships are."

Measles Outbreak

EL CENTRO (AP)—Immunization programs continued today in Imperial County in the wake of an outbreak of measles. Some 3,000 school children were immunized yesterday at schools in Brawley, Calexico and El Centro. In Los Angeles County 50,000 doses of the vaccine will be used because of the increasing number of measles cases.

Kenya Leftist Quits

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Oringa Odinga, who lost the No. 2 spot in President Jomo Kenyatta's ruling Kenya African National Union last month, resigned today as vice president of Kenya. The Communist-leaning Odinga charged the country was being ruled by "commercial interests, largely foreign."

Wolden Linked To Loan By Defunct Bank

Defense Counsel, Judge Bicker Over Manners

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —A liquidator testified yesterday he believes San Francisco Assessor Russell L. Wolden borrowed $34,500 from a now defunct bank to buy stock in a friend's dress firm.

James P. Hudson, Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. liquidator, said Wolden borrowed the money from the San Francisco National Bank. There was no bank record showing what Wolden intended to do with the borrowed money, he said, but he did find three bank debits showing the stock had been purchased in Wolden's name.

The stock was in Lilli-Ann Corp., of which Adolph .P Schuman, a friend and benefactor of Wolden, is president.

Sol Postyn, an accountant, had testified previously that Schuman paid for European trip tickets for Wolden and Mrs. Wolden in three different years.

James M. MacInnis, defense attorney, asked Postyn if he knew that Schuman donated $21,500 to Gov. Edmund G. Brown's campaign fund four years ago or $15,000 to President Johnson's.

Judge Lewis Drucker ruled the questions were not pertinent and refused to let the accountant answer.

MacInnis disputed when the judge, through a slip, called a question by the prosecuting attorney "cross examination" instead of "direct examination."

MacInnis said, "I'm glad you recognized it as cross examination," and the judge replied: "Just a minute, I am going to expect you to show respect for this court."

MacInnis then said: "I object to the language of the court. I am going to cite the court for cumulative misconduct. I am doing my best to be respectful under the circumstances."

While the trial was in session, the city retirement board unanimously approved granting about $400 a month to Max J. Newstat, a former Wolden aide who has testified against the assessor.

Registration Deadline Tonight

Registration of Marin County voters for the June 7 primary ends at 9 p.m. today, George H. Gnoss, county clerk, warned.

He said both his office in San Rafael courthouse and at Civic Center will remain open to the late hour to accommodate persons wishing to register.

A record high of about 90,000 registered voters is expected, Gnoss said.

Chessman's Execution Held 'Waste'

LONG BEACH (UPI)—Byron E. Eshelman, chaplain at San Quentin Prison yesterday said capital punishment serves no purpose and described the execution of Caryl Chessman as an "incredible waste."

Eshelman, speaking to students at Long Beach City College, said "there is no evidence that the death penalty has any deterrent effect whatsoever" to capital crimes.

KILLERS DON'T PLAN

"Murders are usually crimes of passion," the chaplain said. "The murderer simply doesn't sit down ahead of time and consider the possibility that he may be caught and punished by death. There is no evidence that the death penalty has any deterrent effect whatsoever."

Eshelman told of his acquaintanceship with Chessman, who spent 12 years on death row before his execution, and described him as "a brilliant man, with an enormous fund of knowledge about capital punishment, penology and crime. It was an incredible waste that he should have been put to death."

He told of his findings while working 12 years at San Quentin and three years at Alcatraz. Eshelman, a former San Rafael resident, now lives in San Quentin Village.

He said every prisoner he had ever spoken with had suffered "emotional stunting" as a juvenile and "the obvious solution to crime problems was simply for society to recognize that each of its members was a human being, not a faceless soul-cipher."

VICTIMS THEMSELVES

"No person can be a criminal who has not himself been the victim of a crime," he said.

In hitting at the traditional way of attempting to halt crime, he said, "The community's law is kept with a gun. Just because a criminal is sent to prison doesn't mean that his criminal way of thinking ceases. There are robberies, rapes, forgeries and murders inside prison as well as outside."

Eshelman called San Quentin a paradoxical community — on the one hand subjecting its 3,700 inmates to primitive, degrading treatment, and "inhuman style of living" in an atmosphere "less attractive than that which we cultivate in our city zoos"—and on the other, providing resources matched by only a few communities in the world.

Red Cross Asks Aid For Java Flood Woes

Some 300,000 persons were said to have been made homeless in the heavily populated island.

Diplomats' Biographies Now Secret

State Department officials said today they have ordered a new edition of the bulky, much-used volume and that it will bear a security classification for the first time. On security grounds, they declined to say why.

Other sources said the Central Intelligence Agency wants the book withheld from the public to help conceal who in the U.S. diplomatic lists overseas are really CIA men.

The State Department register, nicknamed the "stud book" because of its biographical data, never lists anyone as a CIA man or espionage agent. It gives birthplaces and dates, education, rank and career with non-secret organizations.

But from these summaries of career, even with some falsified, it is sometimes possible to make a good guess at who is a professional State Department Foreign Service officer and who might be a "spook" — the diplomats' slang for undercover men put on embassy rosters.

Intelligence men contend that even if hostile agents do find out who are not the real diplomats in American missions abroad, there is no point in making it easier for them by publishing it.

The State Department's library copies indicate the register was first published in 1833, carrying the names of U.S. diplomatic and consular officers. Biographical information was included in the series starting about 1909.

The latest register was issued in 1964, totals 576 pages and has been on public sale at the U.S. government printing office for $3.50. It is a standard reference work not only in the State Department but also in newspaper offices, libraries and other places needing short summaries of U.S. diplomats' careers.

Two Youths Face Quiz In Murder

ALBANY (AP) — A police inspector says he plans to requestion two young men in the slaying of Judy Williamson, coed whose body was found a week ago.

Miss Williamson vanished Oct. 29, 1963, while en route from her home in Albany to the University of California campus in Berkeley. Her skeletal remains were found a week ago in a mountain revine north of Santa Cruz.

Arthur K. Smith, a police inspector, said two youths who had been questioned at the time of the disappearance were familiar with the Santa Cruz area and would be talked to again.

He declined to name them, saying there was insufficient evidence to pinpoint any one person.

Working on the case are the Albany police; the San Mateo County sheriff's office, because the body was found there; the Santa Cruz County sheriff's office, because the road to the site was in that county; and Dr. Paul Kirk, University of California criminology professor.

U.S. Trims Nuclear Air Force Operations In Spanish Territory

MADRID, Spain (AP) —The U.S. Air Force is sharply reorganizing its activities in Spain in the wake of the loss and recovery of the H-bomb off Palomares Beach, Spanish sources reported today.

They said the shifts would involve phasing out of the U.S. 16th Air Force which since July 1956 has operated in Spain and Morocco as one of the Strategic Air Command's two nuclear bomber forces overseas.

Presumably the U.S. Air Force command in Europe with headquarters in Weisbaden, Germany, would take over future American Air Force activities in Spain.

The changes had no direct connection with the crash of a B-52 bomber carrying nuclear arms on Spain's southeast coast last Jan. 17. But following the incident, Spain banned overflights by U.S. planes carrying nuclear arms and this admittedly curtailed some of the 16th Air Force normal activities.

Competent sources said that while phasing out of the 16th Air Force had been contemplated for some time, the timetable likely was advanced by the bomber crash and by French President Charles De Gaulle's ultimatum to the United States to get its forces out of France by the end of 1966.

OFFICIAL'S ABSENCES SET RECORD?

County Park and Recreation Commissioner Peter Gottheiner of Greenbrae is setting some kind of a record for absenteeism.

His absence at yesterday's commission meeting brought to seven the number of regular and special meetings missed since his appointment last August. The commission has held 13 meetings since Gottheiner was appointed.

The seven is without counting a special meeting on the park bond issue last month when Gottheiner was present at the start of the session but left before the vote was taken.

Gottheiner was nominated for the appointment by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Cemetery Is Voted Down For Park Use

The Marin County Park and Recreation Commission yesterday decided by 4-1 vote that Fernwood Cemetery, near Marin City on Tennessee Valley Road, has no potential park use.

DEVELOPMENT

The threat of development was told in a letter to Supervisor Thomas T. Storer from Mrs. Jean Barnard of Mill Valley, written some time ago. Mrs. Barnard said Gerald Gooch of Russell and Gooch Mortuary told her the property might be sold to a San Francisco funeral operator who planned to develop or sell off about three acres occupied by graves.

George Kowski, president of the Sausalito Cemetery Assn., which owns the cemetery, wrote supervisors last month a set of conditions under which the county could acquire the property.

MAINTAIN GRAVES

These included maintaining graves and continuing to allow burials on previously assigned plots, and construction of a gate and road.

"It would put us in the cemetery business," Commissioner Melton Ferris commented gravely.

Commissioners told Mrs. McClain that the desire to stop development was a consideration separate from the issue of the land's value as a park.

Commissioner Elizabeth B. Davies was absent at the time the vote was taken. Commissioner Peter Gottheiner was absent all day.

The Marin County Park and Recreation Commission yesterday also:

1. Endorsed proposed expansion of Tamalpais State Park.
2. Asked Director Pierre W. Joske to prepare rules and regulations on county park use.
3. Learned from Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen that an office at 1005 A Street in San Rafael has been rented as headquarters for the park bond campaign and a professional manager will be retained. All this will be financed by private contributions, Kettenhofen said.
4. Directed Joske to see if the Easter Seal Society could take on the recreation program for handicapped that has been conducted as a pilot study at the Terra Linda Recreation Center with county support.
5. Adjourned at 5:40 p.m.

Who Says Cars Travel Faster?

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Commentary on progress, provided in Washington speech by Dr. Constantine Doxiadis, internationally known city planner from Greece:

In these days of the automobile, crosstown travel in the bigger cities averages about 9 miles an hour.

Pooch In Dog House After Fire In Home

San Anselmo firemen reported the animal pulled a blanket over a floor furnace in the house Tuesday night and left it there. The blanket began to burn, scorching the floors and walls to the tune of $100 before Pierard doused it with water, they said.

Baring The Bacon

OTTOWA (AP) — Canada's health minister, Allen J. MacEachen, told a questioner in the House of Commons that meat packers will have to show the full width of a slice of bacon through the windows of their packages by May 1.

Bill Would Allow More Bond Funds For Transit Tube

SACRAMENTO (AP) —A bill to use more bond money to finance the San Francisco-Oakland Rapid Transit Tube has been sent to the Senate Finance Committee.

The measure by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco, was unanimously approved yesterday by the Senate Transportation Committee.

The bill would raise the bond limit for financing the tube, its approaches, the railroad and the electrical work from $133 million to $180 million.

The request for the extra funds by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District led to a probe by Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post.

McAteer testified yesterday that the Post study showed the added funds were needed because of increased labor costs and a lack of sufficient competitors to bid on the tube's contracts.

"Have we closed the open end?" asked Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, committee chairman, in reference to the tube's financial ceiling.

McAteer said he was advised by Post that the answer was uncertain because the state is committed to build the tube, an underwater structure which will form the core of the system.

Artist's Work Shown At Gallery

Dixie Board Orders Work On Addition

Trustees of Dixie School District last night awarded a $214,715 contract to Ira W. Coburn of San Francisco for construction of an addition to Dixie School in Lucas Valley.

Coburn was lowest of four bidders last month on the job which will include four classrooms, a library, two kindergartens and a special classroom.

The job was originally bid in January, but all six bids submitted then were too high, District Supt. Dennie B. Willis said. By reducing many items, including quality of carpeting and elimination of drapes, about $15,000 was taken out of the job prior to rebidding, Willis said.

The Dixie School District board also:

1. Agreed to participate in reading improvement projects for primary grades under the state Miller-Unruh Act should the district's April 19 tax election pass. District and state funds are used under the act to hire reading specialists.

2. Tentatively approved a school calendar for next school year that would provide 179 days of classes beginning Sept. 6 and ending June 15.

3. Adopted a requirement that district teachers to be checked once a year rather than once every two years for tuberculosis, at request of the Marin County Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

4. Approved payroll deduction for "tax shelter" annuities possible for teachers under the state teachers retirement system.

5. Granted permission for the Marinwood Little League Assn. to construct a small building on the Mary E. Silveira School playground for a concession stand and storage.

6. Hired Mrs. Mavis G. Ayres at $1,552 to teach at Dixie School and Mrs. Joan Wheeler at $1,341 to teach at Nova Albion School for the balance of the year.

7. Approved application for $12,596 in National Defense Education Act funds for the purchase of science equipment.

WAR

have 160 machine gun-equipped craft ready to run down Viet Cong vessels by July.

Indications are this is only the beginning of a large-scale operation — the first of their kind for the Navy since the days of the American Civil War.

The first two of the Navy's new 31-foot fiberglass, water-jet propelled PBR's (patrol boat, river) began operating Sunday in river waters about 30 miles southwest of Saigon. They halted and inspected 19 junks.

Thousands of junks and sampans traverse canals and streams interlocking the rivers — and many are Communist vessels hauling food and, to a lesser extent, arms northward to Viet Cong strongholds.

In an effort to choke this many-veined pipeline, the Navy is embarking on "game warden" patrols.

The Air Force jets returned yesterday to the strategic pass on the Laotian frontier, 230 miles south of Hanoi, where B-52s dropped 1.4 million pounds of bombs on Tuesday in the first raid by the stratofortresses on North Viet Nam. Military sources in Washington said some of the big bombs were rigged with delayed-action devices to explode days later, thereby discouraging Communist road clearing work.

The Thunderchiefs spotted 12 trucks on Route 15 at the entrance to the bottled-up pass. At least four were destroyed, an Air Force spokesman said. He also said aerial photographs confirmed that the pass was completely blocked by landslides.

There were indications that the destruction wrought by a Communist mortar attack on Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport early Wednesday was more serious than announced by U.S. officials.

Military sources said 23 helicopters were damaged and that as many as a dozen probably would be written off as total losses. U.S. authorities initially announced that four planes — two U.S. C123 armed transports and two Vietnamese C47 transports — were destroyed and several other aircraft were damaged. The Viet Cong mortar men also knocked out the main control tower and hit a fuel storage tank. The tank still smoldered today.

ALICE

the museum keeps the sea lion and a smaller harbor seal named Scuba. As she chatted with the sea lion and tossed it chunks of fish, Mrs. Evans discovered her visitor felt strongly that the switch in shipping tags and the naming of the seal, had been more than coincidence.

Miss Darnell was convinced her aunt's soul was present in the museum's new sea lion. Further, she believed Aunt Alice "had something to do with the switching" of the labels.

She was far from amazed at the whole idea, reported Mrs. Evans, although one thing bemused her: the original Aunt Alice couldn't swim a stroke.

Yesterday, Miss Darnell returned to the museum, with Uncle Lee. While his great-niece fed fish to Alice until she couldn't hold any more, Parsons reminisced about his marriage.

"We were man and wife 55 years," he said in soft southern tones. "I was never a husband to her—I was more like her baby. She always laid out my clean shirts and socks and everything, and she always wanted the colors to match up the way she thought they should."

How did he feel about his wife's name being given to a caged sea lion?

"I consider it a compliment," said Parsons.

His great-niece was more emotional—and more explicit—when asked whether she felt the soul of her beloved great-aunt had followed an amphibious creature to a natural science museum.

"I don't know how my uncle feels, but I do," she replied. "There are so many related circumstances between the two events.

"We think it is beautiful. That's all I can say."

Parsons was not ready to commit hemself on the theory of transmigration of souls. But he promised that, after he returns next month to his native Mississippi to live out his days with relatives, he will come back to San Rafael "at least once in six months" to see Alice.

His great-niece said she will come back often.

San Quentin Accident Injured Motorist

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Lowman, 31, of 17 Shell Road, Alto, suffered a minor spine fracture and cuts at 9:15 a.m. today when her westbound car left Sir Francis Drake Boulevard east near the east gate of San Quentin Prison and rammed into an embankment.

The car left the road on a curve near the prison entrance, reported California Highway Patrol Officer Ivan D. Jump. Mrs. Lowman, who was alone in the auto, was taken to Marin General Hospital, where her condition was reported as "good."

as that of the Viet Cong on Saigon's airport.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford today charged the Johnson administration with "shocking mismanagement" of the war in Viet Nam.

It was the first direct criticism of the conduct of the war by the Republican leadership in congress.

While not mentioning Johnson by name, Ford told a news conference "the shortage of bombs and the backup of ships in Viet Nam is a national scandal."

"When I read what is happening over there and how we are running short of bombs despite all the billions we have voted for defense, I wonder how long we can underwrite shocking mismanagement in the name of national unity," the Michigan congressman said.

He lashed out at administration handling of the political situation in Viet Nam.

Di Giorgio Land Picket Line Set

DELANO (AP)— Picket lines have been established around Di Giorgio Corp.'s huge Sierra Vista Ranch near Delano as part of the National Farm Workers Assn's nationwide boycott of Di Giorgio products.

The boycott was announced after Cesar Chavez, NFWA director, rejected terms of the company's offer to conduct an election among its employes to determine if they wanted a union.

Chavez said the Di Giorgio offer had "too many preconditions, including compulsory arbitration and a no-strike clause.

Pickets were set up on roads adjacent to the fields which surround the ranch headquarters east of Delano.

Chinese Students Are Welcome

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has informed Red China and several U.S. universities that it is willing to have Red Chinese scientists and scholars visit American universities.

A State Department spokesman reported today this latest expansion of declared Johnson administration efforts to open contacts between this country and China.

In recent months the State Department had made known U.S. willingness to approve passports for the travel of American scholars, doctors, and public health officials to China. The Chinese Communists, who were informed of those moves, were also advised that they could send newsmen here.

Appraiser Pay Sought By Pace

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A petition asking that State Controller Alan Cranston be ordered to turn over earnings reports of his inheritance tax appraisers was filed today by Mayor Joseph L. Pace of San Jose, who is seeking the Republican nomination for controller.

Pace said there was "undue secrecy in the controller's office" and that Cranston had refused to show him the earnings records.

Cranston replied that he gave 15 pages of information on appraisers' income to Pace two weeks ago. Cranston said in a statement that he is the only controller in the state's history to release income figures on the state's inheritance tax appraisers.

Assembly Votes Tahoe Sewer Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly today unanimously passed a Senate bill that would keep sewage out of the blue waters of Lake Tahoe.

The measure by Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-West Point, would require that once any sewage system is built in the Tahoe Basin, septic tanks at private homes could be prohibited. It now returns to the Senate for approval of house amendments.

The Assembly earlier passed a bill that would loan state funds for construction of a 17-mile sewage system to carry effluent from the lake to Diamond Valley in Alpine County.

Sub Rescue Craft Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy announced today it has ordered construction of its first rescue submersible equipped to retrieve crewmen trapped in disabled submarines.

The prototype will be designed and built by Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., Sunnyvale.

This will be the first of six 24-ton, 44-foot subs capable of attaching like leeches to sunken submarines and rescuing a dozen crewmen at a time.

Statewide Scholastic TV Network Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A blueprint for a statewide educational television system to "reach every community in the state" was unveiled today by Gov. Brown.

The governor said a new report from his Television Advisory Committee, based on a study made by the constulting engineering firm of Hammett and Edison," provides a first step toward implementing statewide educational television."

Marin Transit Survey Set —Including Ballpark Line

By FRANK FARRARA

Marin County Transit District directors last night hired a New York consulting firm to conduct a $60,000 bus transit study, to be completed by Oct. 31.

The study by Coverdale and Colpitts is intended to provide facts leading to an interim solution to bus transportation needs in Marin.

The investigation is to include the feasibility of coordinating school bus service with mass transit facilities and the possibility of running direct buses from Marin to Candlestick Park during the baseball season.

One of the key points of study will be the method of operation of a transit system, whether under private ownership with public subsidy, public ownership and operation, or a combination of public and private.

The study will include origin and destination surveys, estimates on capital outlay, revenue and operating expenses, routing and bus schedules, according to Arthur C. Jenkins, engineer for the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Jenkins, who was hired by the transit district to work part-time on the study project, recommended last month that the contract be awarded to Coverdale and Colpitts.

Mrs. Margaret Azevedo, a member of the Marin Council of Civic Affairs, told the transit board there were allegations at a recent council meeting that Coverdale and Colpitts had made errors in traffic estimations "in three instances," one of them the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

Mrs. Azevedo said she was raising the question reluctantly, but felt that the allegations "seemed serious and factual" enough that they could not be overlooked. "It would be serious if a cloud were to rest on the results of the study," she said.

Jenkins replied briskly that he didn't know of any firm that always made "an accurate estimate of traffic in the future."

"On a number of toll roads in the East, there were poor estimates, and it was no reflection on the engineer," Jenkins said.

State engineers made wrong estimates of auto traffic on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, Jenkins said. "When they designed the Golden Gate Bridge, they estimated that it had capacity for all time to come."

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, a board member, said Mrs. Azevedo provided "a public service in bringing this out so it could be answered. I'm sold on the recommendation."

Directors voted 6-0 to approve the contract. Mayor Edward W. Colthurst of Corte Madera, a board member, was absent.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, a board member, noted that Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors had agreed earlier to pay $30,000 toward a proposed $90,000 study, and proposed the district be asked for that amount.

Thomas D. Hardcastle, a Marin director of the bridge district, said the offer to contribute $30,000 was made about a year ago. Instead of the $90,000 study, Marin got "a bargain package which didn't turn out," he said, referring to a study by retired transit executive Paul J. Fanning.

"In the meantime, said Hardcastle, "the bridge district has reduced the bus toll from $1 to 13 cents as a cost of $135,000 a year. Because of this reduction, they (bridge directors) feel they are contributing $135,000 a year."

Board Chairman Byron W. Leydecker said "significant financial assistance" may be needed later.

The question of "collateral benefits" of a bus transit system was raised by Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who wanted to know if the transit district could run buses to Candlestick Park for baseball games and Kezar stadium for football games.

Ernest R. Gerlach, senior engineer for Coverdale and Colpitts, said the district could provide such runs "as long as they didn't overlap the routes of other carriers," and "as long as the buses were run on an individual fare basis," as compared to charter runs.

Jenkins said the study would investigate the possibility of combining school bus service with the bus transit system. This has been done in other areas, he said.

Next meeting of the transit board was set tentatively for June 15.

Laborer Sues After Freak Job Accident

Roosevelt Taylor, about 54, laborer injured in a freak accident on Las Gallinas Avenue in San Rafael on July 20, filed a $250,000 damage suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday.

Taylor, an employee of Brown-Ely Co., San Rafael, charges he was standing on a street construction site when a piece of lumber extending from a moving Linscott Co. truck struck him, causing back injuries.

He alleges negligence by the company, of 30 Belevedere Street, San Rafael, and the employee-driver, David Portfeld.

Italy's Costs Stable

ROME (AP)—Italy's cost of living index remained unchanged in February as compared with January, official statistics showed. It stood at 126.7—the base for 1961 equals 100—an increase of 2.5 per cent over February 1965.

Donald Dixon Gets Coro Internship

Donald Dixon of San Rafael, a senior at Sonoma State College, has been awarded in internship in public affairs by the Coro Foundation.

He will receive a $2,700 grant to take part in a nine-month program with 11 other Northern California students in San Francisco.

The program is designed to give each intern a comprehensive view of public affairs at the local level. The foundation grants 24 internships annually, with a dozen each in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Dixon, a political science major and honor student, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Dixon of 1135 Mission Avenue. He is married.

Inflation Hits Hard

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) —Uruguay's cost of living has risen 803 per cent in the seven years, the Industries Ministry announced. It said the inflation rate for the first quarter this year was 13.6 per cent compared with 72.5 for all of last year.

Driver Is Injured As Car Strikes Pole

A San Francisco man was injured Tuesday when his car went off Highway 101 near the Richardson Bay Bridge and crashed into a pole.

Herbert H. Shapiro, 58, was treated at Children's Hospital, San Francisco, for abdominal pains. He told the highway patrol that he was driving home about 5 p.m. when he was cut off by an unidentified car and drove off the road.

Transit Tax Rate Pegged At Maximum

Marin County Transit District directors voted last night to levy the district's maximum tax rate, five cents per $100 assessed valuation, in the 1967 fiscal year.

Vote was 5-1, with Supervisor Thomas T. Storer dissenting. Mayor Edward W. Colthurst of Corte Madera was absent.

County Administrator Alan Bruce estimated the five-cent rate would bring in $235,000.

Storer said he objected to "putting this added burden" on taxpayers "when it would appear not to be necessary."

Bruce estimated the district's foreseeable financial obligations would be about $70-$75,000, including a $60,000 study authorized by the board last night.

African Capital Has Rather Damp Climate

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Conakry, capital of Guinea, has an average yearly rainfall of 169 inches.

Ferry Petition Given To Transit Directors

Marin County Transit District directors last night received a petition with 402 signatures asking restoration of ferry service between Marin and San Francisco.

County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer presented the petition, which he said contained mainly signatures from residents of Southern Marin.

"How many are using the present ferry," said Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

"About 100," said Storer.

"Maybe we should encourage the other 302 to use the present ferry system," Kettenhofen commented. The ferry—actually a sight-seeing vessel—provides morning and evening commute service between Tiburon and San Francisco.

At Storer's suggestion, the transit board agreed to have staff members consult with the operator of the Tiburon ferry "to see if there is any way to augment the service."

Cuban Export Funds Said Down

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fidel Castro's commercial attache in London, who defected and came to Miami, says Cuba's money intake is about "one-seventh of former levels."

The exile, Miguel Tararb Miranda, told a news conference yesterday that Castro's sugar and molasses sales on the world market will bring him about $60 million this year. About $50 million more may come from other exports including nickel and tobacco, Tarrab said.

In 1959, the year Castro took over, Cuban exports obtained $700 million, the defecter said.

Nevada Trying Hard To Boost Population

The U.S. Census Bureau says that between 1950 and 1960 the population in Nevada increased by 54.2 per cent to 440,000 persons.

Bolinas Cliff Areas Ownership Cloudy

Marin county park and recreation commissioners yesterday learned that Bolinas cliff property which everyone once thought was in public hands is privately owned.

Commisisoner Melton Ferris said that the cliff and beach frontage from Bolinas all the way west to Agate Beach County Park was thought to belong to Bolinas Beach Public Utilities District. He said subdividers of the Bolinas Mesa, Arthur and Ruth Smedbak, deeded the frontage to the Bolinas Property Owners Assn., predecessor of the public utilities district.

However, "for the past three years, said, "the county assessor has had the property on his books as lands belonging to Smedbak, address unknown," Ferris reported.

Ferris said the situation will undoubtedly raise some legal problems.

Park and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske, who has been looking into further park possibilities at Bolinas, reported that one spot where there is a shelf part way down from the mesa would provide easy access to the beach and could be developed with little cost.

He said extension of Wharf Road along a jetty, in connection with proposed harbor development, would be very desirable, but might cost the county up to $70,000.

Joske suggested the Army Corps of Engineers might be interested in a beach reclamation project that would provide jetties to build up the sand along the beach frontage. Ferris said local property owners might participate in such a project. The state contributes a fourth and the federal government half toward the cost of such jobs, Ferris said.

Firm Told To Move From Right-Of-Way

Eberhart Enterprises in Mill Valley has been found to be 30 feet on city right-of-way and last night the city planning commission recommended that the company find another location within 90 days or negotiate with the property owner to move back on adjacent property. The company is at 630 East Blithedale Avenue.

A use permit was denied to Kirsten Mills for a day nursery to accommodate a maximum of 24 children at 2 Dorset Lane, commissioners saying the use is incompatible with the residential character of the neighborhood.

Fan Sues Giants, Alleges Rough-Up

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A baseball fan sued the San Francisco Giants for $30,000 saying he was manhandled when he tried to give away a ticket for the season opener Tuesday.

Elroy D. Joyce, 48, a sheet-metal shop owner, says two Giant gate guards roughed him up.

The suit, filed in superior court yesterday, related:

Joyce , accompanied by his wife and a friend, went to the game. Another friend for whom he had a ticket couldn't make it, so he tried to give away the spare. Joyce complained tha' the guards grabbed him and slammed him against a wall and threatened him with a club.

Bruce Wants Park Lands Budget Cut

Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce will recommend a $50,000 cut in funds for park acquisition in the proposed park and recreation department budget for fiscal 1967.

This news was received with long faces by members of the Marin County Park and Recreation Commission yesterday.

The budget earlier approved by the commission calls for $222,000 for park improvement and purchase. This includes $172,000 toward purchase of Manzanita Marina Green near the south end of Richardson Bay Bridge.

If $50,000 is cut, it would knock out the marina green and reduce second phase development of Paradise Beach Park near Tiburon, park and recreation director Pierre W. Joske told commisisoners. However, general site acquisition balance would be boosted from $50,000 to $106,300.

Joske said the mathematics invloved was "somewhat complicated."

Salmon Trollers Seek More Cash For Catch

Fishermen in the Salmon Trollers Assn. are asking increased prices for their catches from fish dealers prior to opening of salmon season tomorrow.

Prices are now 40, 50 and 65 cents per pound for small, medium and large fish. The fishermen seek raises to 45, 55 and 68 cents per pound, Cass Gidley of Casserino's in Sausalito said today.

Association memebrs, representing fishermen from Sausalito, San Francisco, Bodega, Fort Bragg and Eureka, were to meet again today to attempt to settle on a price.

"I don't think there will be a tie-up," said Gidley, a wholesale and retail fish dealer on Napa Street pier, 'because this year there isn't any surplus salmon in stocks back East. We generally have a big carry-over of mild-cured fish which we ship back to New York. This year all the fish is gone, so we ought to get a good price and I look for an increase. It looks much more healthy this year to the fisherman."

Gidley estimated that about 150 boats will leave Sausalito to fish salmon in the season which runs to Oct. 1. He said not all of these fishermen are from Sausalito, but have congregated here for the beginning of the season.

Atoms To Hungary

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission says it has issued a license for the export of a small quantity of radioisotopes to Hungary to be used for medical purposes.

Reds Denounce Polish Cardinal

WARSAW (UPI) —The Communist organ Trybuna Ludu denounced Stafan Cardinal Wyszynski as an "anti-Communist fanatic" today at the opening of rival anniversary celebrations which may lead to a showdown between church and state.

Trybuna said the cardinal has persistently attempted to create the impression abroad that the Communists persecute the church in this country.

The official publication charged that "the cardinal has in fact never given up his fight against the state and the law" despite the church's 1956 pledge to work for the good of the country.

World War 'Sea Devil' Von Luckner Dies

MALMOE, Sweden (UPI) — Count Felix von Luckner, the "Sea Devil" scourge of Allied shipping during World War I, died yesterday at a hospital in this southern Swedish town. He was 85.

Von Luckner was born in Dresden, Germany, in 1881. He spent several years as a merchant seaman and was called into the German navy in 1912.

In 1916, Von Luckner was given command of the Seeadler (Sea Eagle), an American windjammer the Germans had captured and fitted as a raider.

With false papers, Von Luckner duped the British navy into letting him through its blockade into the Atlantic. Once in the Atlantic shipping lanes, Von Luckner's innocent looking raider ravaged Allied and neutral shipping, sending an estimated $25 million worth of war cargo to the bottom of the sea.

He held to the great traditions of the sea and never sank a ship until its crew had abandoned it. His gallant treatment of the captured crews led to his own capture by the British, when they learned the Seeadler's location from released crewmen.

Von Luckner became known as the German navy's pirate skipper and the Australians gave him the name "Sea Devil."

After the war, Von Luckner lectured throughout Europe and North America on his exploits and wrote a book about them in conjunction with Lowell Thomas.

He had been living with his Swedish-born wife, Ingeborg, in Malmoe since 1945.

Ventura is derived from Saint Buenaventura fro whom the Spanish Visitador-General, Don Jose de Galvez, decreed that the mission at this place be named. In Spanish buenaventura means "good fortune."

Coal Miners In Appalachia Ignore Back-To-Work Order

PITTSBURGH (UPI) —Central Appalachia soft coal miners defied a back-to-work order from union leaders for a fourth consecutive day today. The return to work by miners in other sections came to a virtual standstill.

One United Mine Worker (UMW) official said: "If I knew what the hold up was about I'd be out there arguing with them to return."

C.I. Bean, president of District 30 in eastern Kentucky, said "none of my men have returned." His district represents about 10,000 miners in 11 counties.

He said "most local union officers have indicated we would be back to work this weekend." He said his officers were "perfectly satisfied" with a proposed contract, which is patterned after one signed by the Peabody Coal Co. last week.

The back-to-work movement which had gained momentum in the South and Midwest came to a near halt today.

The women are wives of some of the 130 miners who work in the New River's Stanaford No. 2 mine.

"They show up right at work time and stay until the miners leave," the witness said.

Defiant bands of pickets roamed the eastern Kentucky coal fields for the second day. Chief target of the pickets were the hundreds of non-union mines in the area. There are 700 non-union operations in Pike County, Ky., alone.

Sutter (original pronunciation Soot-er) was named for Gen. John A. Sutter, soldier of fortune, who established Sutter's Fort at Sacramento.

Youths Responsible For Seven Burglaries

Seven burglaries involving a total of eight Novato youths over a seven-week period were believed cleared up by sheriff's juvenile officers today.

Inspectors William Johansen and Charles T. Prandi said two youngsters, 14 and 15, broke a sliding glass door of the home of Mrs. Betty Couacaud, 8 Rose Court, Novato, on Feb. 6, and made off with a small amount of jewelry.

The following day, officers said, the youths jimmied a rear window of C. R. Frederick Inc., 320 Deer Island Lane, Novato, and took $125 cash from a cash box.

On the next day, the 14-year-old and another friend of the same age, broke into a trailer at the Marin Aggregate Co., also on Deer Island Lane, by jimmying a window, and stole some small change.

On March 7, Inspector Johansen said, the two 14-year-old youths hit the Frederick building through the same window again, taking a small amount of cash from a drawer.

Officers said the two 14-year-old boys are in county juvenile hall, a 15-year-old has been cited to juvenile probation office, and the other youth, 15, is believed out-of-state.

A different group of youths, two of them 16 and the other two aged 17, broke a storeroom hasp at Black Point Inn, 10 Grandview Avenue, on Feb. 5, making off with 13 cases of beer, officers said.

They added that the boys drank some of the beverage, then sold the remainder. On March 4, the two 17-year-old youths returned to the inn, smashing the same storeroom door and driving off with an additional 42 cases of beer.

Officers said the loot was hidden five miles west of Novato Boulevard, but was later stolen by other youths, yet unidentified. The four boys involved in the two burglaries have been cited to the county juvenile probation officer.

About 82 per cent of the millions of workers commuting daily to work in the United States use an automobile to get there, says the American Automobile Association.

Flood Warning Said Improved

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bigger and better flood warning system will be protecting the north coastal area by the time this year's rainy season starts, the state's water resources chief reports.

William E. Warne said yesterday that a telemetering system being set up will allow reading of stream gauges by radio from hundreds of miles away in Sacramento.

The result will be earlier and more accurate flood forecasts, he said.

Red Ballet On Tour

Election Signs Control Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Sen. Alvin C. Weingand wants campaigning lawmakers to refrain from posting their political signs in the state's rural and scenic areas.

The Santa Barbara Democrat introduced a resolution yesterday asking legislators and all those running for political office "to restrict these signs to business and commercial areas."

Diabetes Increasing As National Disease

NEW YORK (UPI) —Of the estimated 4 million persons in the United States with diabetes, only half of them know they have the disease, reports the Health Insurance Institute.

It says that in a span of 15 years, diabetes has increased in the U.S. by 100 per cent.

Senate Passes Chemical Test Driver Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has handed Gov. Brown a breakthrough in the main element of his traffic safety campaign—a bill sharply increasing penalties for drunken drivers.

On a 27 - 4 vote, the upper house did yesterday what it refused to do in past year: Accept a bill requiring chemical tests for suspected drinking drivers.

The measure now goes to the Assembly.

A similar bill was dealt a sudden death on the upper house floor last year, without a roll call.

But things were different this year. Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, appeared to voice the feelings of lawmakers running for re-election when he said he'd vote for it "because if we don't we'll be placed in the category of cold-blooded killers."

Eleven months ago, during the 1965 session, Burns was told by an angry woman "You're keeping the drunk driver on the road" after he helped kill the same bill he voted for yesterday.

The measure by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, declares that any California motorist is deemed to have given his "implied consent" to a test of his blood, breath or urine if stopped for suspected drunken driving.

Refusal to take such a test would mean a six months' suspension of a driver's license. The driver could appeal the suspension to an administrative hearing, then to the courts if he wished. He could continue to drive during this period, the suspension beginning only after final determination of his appeal.

Belvedere To Lose One Polling Place

The Belvedere Volunteer Firemen's Assn. last night voted not to allow the city to use its clubroom as a polling place for municipal elections.

Michael Shea, president, said the 27 memebrs thought the city "should find its own place." He said the clubroom beneath community hall is supported and maintained by association funds.

The knotty pine paneled room was used on Tuesday's city election as a polling place for Precinct One.

Lawmakers Pushing For Higher Salaries

SACRAMENTO (AP)--California's legislators asked today for a $12,000 - a - year pay raise and promised strict conflict - of - interest limits on their outside activities if the voters give them more money.

The lawmakers' big push for higher salaries and annual legislative sessions picked up steam, generating so much enthusiasm that it even had a slight—but unfavorable —effect on Gov. Brown's fiscal program.

These were the developments:

1. Assembly Majority Leader Jerome R. Waldie, D - Antioch, offered a bill boosting salaries from the present $6,000 to $18,000 a year. But it would limit expense account fringe benefits that now boost total income to as much as $12,000 annually for many.

2. The Assembly prepared to decide on whether to ask the voters in November to approve a constitutional amendment permitting lawmakers to set their own pay and creating annual, 166 - day legislative sessions. Waldie's bill wouldn't become law unless the people approve the amendment.

The legislature now meets for six months in odd - numbered years and holds shorter sessions in even-numbered years.

In addition to boosting the pay, Waldie's bill would:

Forbid any legislator from representing a client before a state agency, board or commission —a restriction that would cut sharply into the incomes of some lawyer-legislators.

Require a legislator who has a financial interest in an issue to disclose the details in a statement in the legislative journal before he votes.

Scale down fringe benefits. Travel expenses, now 15 cents a mile, would be reduced to the amount given state employees—roughly the plane fare between cities. Legislative pensions would be limited to a maximum of $12,000 a year—two-thirds of the base salary. Now, they sometimes exceed the current $6,000. It would also take legislators longer to build up their pension rights.

Waldie said that if a legislative alumnus moved on to another public job that pays more than his pension, his state benefits would be cut off until he left the public payroll. If the public salary were less than the pension, it would be deducted from his state benefit check.

At present, Rep. Augustus Hawkins, D-Calif., for example, draws a monthly $718 state pension for his years in the legislature plus a $30,000 a year congressional salary.

Waldie said that judges receive $25,000 a year, executive branch officials more than $20,000 and "the legislative branch, the third branch, the most important, perhaps in terms of checking the executive, is not receiving enough money."

The proposed constitutional amendment, by Assemblyman James Mills, D - San Diego, would mean a basic change in state lawmaking.

Now, the general sessions last for six months—finishing in a tumultous explosion of bill passing in the final few days. Bills that aren't passed are dead.

In the shorter sessions, the budget is the main item of business, plus subjects proposed by the governor.

Under Mills plan, the lawmakers would meet 166 days every year — no real increase in their working time. But a bill that failed to pass one year would still be alive the next. And legislators would have full control of their subject matter every year—increasing their independence from the governor.

Brown Bars Farm Worker Action Now

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov Brown has offered general support for goals of striking farm workers, but added that the legislature must postpone action on their demands until next year.

The governor wrote a letter yesterday to Cesar Chavez, head of the National Farm Workers Assn. which led a march of grape pickers on the Capitol that ended with an Easter Sunday rally of 8,000 persons.

Brown was criticized for not meeting then with the strikers, but told Chavez again that the day is one "I have traditionally spent with my family."

Without being specific, Brown said he supported the "struggle for economic and social justice."

He reacted to requests that he intervene in the Delano area grape strike by saying Chavez shouldn't feel "government alone can solve your problems. It can't."

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Assemblymen of both parties agree to back bill that would raise their pay from $6,000 annually to $18,000.

Bill to crack down on suspected drunk drivers passes Senate easily, giving the governor a major break in his traffic safety campaign.

THE GOVERNOR

Bills signed:

Taxes—Provides that nonresidents of state must prorate deductions and exemptions as well as income when filing state income tax return; AB 10, Petris D-Oakland. Establishes uniform method of dividing corporate income of multi-state corporations and provides for off-setting credit against California use tax for taxes paid to other states; AB 11 Petris.

THE ASSEMBLY

Resolution adopted:

Legislative—Allocates $300,000 to Joint Committee on Legislative Organization to cover budget of State Constitution Revision Commission; ACR 26, Mills, D San Diego.

THE SENATE

Bills passed:

Drunk—Provides that person holding driver's license has given implied consent to blood, breath or urine test if arrested on drunk driving charge; SB 3, Collier, D-Yreka.

College—Authorizes California State College Trustees to establish separate California State Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo County; SB 45, Sturgeon, R-Paso Robles.

Resolutions adopted:

SOVIETS MUSTN'T TOUCH—San Jose gun dealer Frank Schilling holds the silent, rocket-firing pistol which he said two high-ranking Russian military officers tried to buy from him. The weapon is made in San Ramon (Contra Costa County.) (UPI Telephoto)

Russ Banned From Buying New Rocket-Firing Pistol

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Thirty rocket-type bullets for a newly developed pistol were purchased by two Soviet military officers at a San Jose gun shop last week, it was disclosed yesterday.

The ammunition is used in a gyrojet pistol, available to sportsmen, which fires silently. The bullets are propelled by rocket fuel and can pierce a steel plate from 50 feet.

They visited the gun shop last week during a vacation, but declined to tell a police offier their reason for buying the ammunition.

Police responded to a call by the shop owner, Frank Schilling, who said the Russians at first wanted to buy one of the pistols but gave the idea up when they learned state law forbids the sale of guns to aliens.

There is no prohibition against purchase of the ammunition.

Stop Signs Are Asked In Petition

James Lazor of 115 Eliseo Drive, Larkspur, last night handed Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. directors a 240-signature petition for stop signs at the intersection where Bretano Way, Eliseo Drive and Via Lerida converge.

Since the intersection is half in the county and half in Larkspur, directors ordered a letter requesting stop signs sent to the board of supervisors and delegated a committee to call on the Larkspur City Council.

Donald R. Frost, county public works director, reported on a program to replace street lights in the county section of Greenbrae. He promised wiring for the new system would be underground wherever possible. He also promised to study a request by the association that the county reduce the hazard to pedestrians on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Eliseo Drive to Wolfe Grade.

Picetti Urged For Commission

Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission last night recommended that the city council appoint Joseph Picetti of 25 Dartmouth Drive to replace Guilio Boeri on the commission. Boeri resigned when he moved out of the city.

Commissioners granted permission for an oak tree to be removed across the street from Monte Foster's home at 33 Redwood Avenue to make room for an off-street parking area.

They agreed to discuss next month a Larkspur Chamber of Commerce proposal for placing trees in planter boxes along Magnolia Avenue in the downtown area.

Deputy Prandi Gets New Job

Prandi was among deputies reassigned following protests by Marin City residents in the wake of a riot last week sparked by arrest of a youth for throwing rocks at a sheriff's car.

Drunk Driver Fined, Given Probation

Richard Wallace Jarett, 43, of 409 Greenfield Avenue, San Anselmo, was given a suspended $276 fine on condition that he pay $200, and was placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

He was arrested by San Rafael police April 2 on Grand Avenue.

Temporary Building Due For Marin City Recreation

County supervisors last week, following protests from Marin City youth about discrimination, alleged police brutality, and lack of recreation, authorized Bruce to negotiate for a temporary building.

The building that will arrive Monday is a portable, 40-by-32-foot classroom manufactured by Modulux Corp. It will cost the county $8,000 rental for two years. Bruce said this was the shortest rental period he could negotiate.

County public works crews were clearing the site for the temporary building today. It is expected to serve until the Manzanita neighborhood center, a county-federal project, is built. This is held up pending federal approval of funds.

Bruce said the portable classroom probably can be sublet to a school district when it is no longer needed in Marin City.

21,000 MILES BEHIND HIM

'Old Iron Legs,' 83, Trudging To Oregon

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The 83-year-old John F. Stahl of Redwood City started his walk Tuesday from San Francisco, crossed the Golden Gate Bridge and stayed overnight in the Sausalito firehouse.

Last night he stayed at the home of a friend, Mrs. Mary C. Vande, at 415 Holcomb Avenue, Larkspur. He was off again at 8 a.m. today. Tonight, he thought he might stop with some friends in San Rafael.

Old Iron Legs was in no hurry.

The gentle man, who wears a baseball cap, striped tie and polished black shoes, has 21,000 miles of walking behind him since he was asked to retire from his Menlo Park post office job in 1935 on a physical disability.

In his left hand he carries a staff his brother made from an old broom handle. In his right hand he has a white pouch with a canteen for water and his toothbrush. On his back is a six-pound pack with a change of clothes. The mark on the former Army pack reads: "Ammunition bag M2-1A."

He also carries a letter with a gold seal from John F. Shelley, San Francisco mayor.

The letter introduces Stahl as a "highly respected citizen of San Francisco and citizen of the U.S.A." It states Stahl has walked in the United States, Mexico, Central America and Europe since his retirement in 1935 and is affectionately known as "Iron Legs."

"We're both John Francis," Stahl said, referring to himself and the mayor.

Stahl said he has no particular destination in Oregon but plans to walk 1,000 miles, taking side trips en route to visit friends, and possibly walking into Nevada, too.

"I will try to go as many miles as I can," he said. He plans to walk until August or September, then return home by bus.

This is Stahl's third trek through Marin. Last year, he walked through en route to Helena, Mont. His first walk through the county was when he hiked to the Seattle World Fair.

Stahl's longest trek was his first one, from the Canal Zone to Austin, Tex., in 1939-40. Then, he said, "I turned around and did the walk in reverse and it took just about the same amount of time."

Asked the rewards of walking, Stahl replied, "I'm still alive after all these years." He said his heart is fine but his memory is failing a bit. He plans to celebrate his 84th birthday, Aug. 13, on the road.

Saigon Sailor Prepares For Blast

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—A U.S. sailor in Saigon wrote his parents in Fort Lauderdale that he was using Florida hurricane safety precautions to protect his quarters against Viet Cong bombs.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McCain said their son, radioman Thomas L. McCain, told them he stuck strips of tape across his windows to reduce the likelihood of their shattering in a blast.

Bill Unpaid

DODADDA, India (AP)—Electric power to the local office of the Uttar Pradesh state government roadways office was cut off for nonpayment of bills.

Millimeter Waves Waves Studies

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Millimeter communications is being studied by Sylvania Electric Products Inc., under a Navy contract — toward permitting limited range, high-information communication between surface vessels.

Millimeter waves (30,000 to 300,000 megacycles) offer the military virtually unused frequency space.

The waves can carry considerably more information, due to the broader unused band of frequencies available, than microwave transmissions (1,000 to 30,000 megacycles) commonly used for telephone relays and satellite communications.

Policeman Goes On Perilous Car Ride

NEW DELHI (AP) — A policeman saw a motorist starting to leave the scene after knocking down two cyclists.

He leaped on the car's hood and had a chilling ride for several blocks before the motorist stopped the car and surrendered. The motorist was charged with kidnaping a policeman.

Females Lagging

NEW DELHI (AP)—Females are lagging behind in India's population explosion. A government study showed there were 972 women for every 1,000 males in 1901 but only 941 per 1,000 males in 1961.

Car Manuels Will Indicate Tank Capacity

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Ever get upset when a service station operator put 21 gallons of gasoline into your tank which holds only 19 gallons?

William A. Kerlin, chief of the State Bureau of Weights and Measures, said it's hoped this problem may be solved in the future by accurate statements in automobile owners' manuals as to just what the capacity of the gas tanks are.

"The gallonage of vehicle tanks has never been accurately stated in car manuals," Kerlin said.

Kerlin said representatives of the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. had advised him that future operator's manuals would show the specifications about the capacity of gas tanks as "approximate" or "not less than."

Kerlin said his division has received complaints from motorists that service station operators are overcharging them for filling their gasoline tanks.

Irish Peace Ends In Blast, Gunfire

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — Extremists blew up the automatic telephone exchange at Kilmacow in southeast Ireland today, sawed down telephone poles and raked the village with rifle fire.

The exchange blast and another explosion in the Kilkenny-Waterford area shattered Ireland's trouble-free celebrations of the 50th anniversary of the 1916 uprising against British rule.

The first explosion came at Kilmacow, hometown of escaped extremist leader Richard Behal who broke out of Limerick jail in February. He was serving a sentence arising from the firing at a British ship during a courtesy visit.

The second explosion was at Mullinavat, about four miles away.

And Some Foreigners Don't Like Hotdogs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Black caterpillars are a treat in the Congo and Australian aborigines nibble ants like peanuts, says the National Geographic Society.

It reports that Eskimos like to eat the palms of polar bears, Chinese relish sharks' fins and Africans delight in crocodile tails.

Scientists Are Cool

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (UPI) —Nature's best efforts seldom exceeds 100 degrees below zero temperatures. But scientists have come within one degree of absolute zero — a frigid minus 460 degrees Fahrenheit.

Ex-Rep. Hays Eyes Arkansas Nomination

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Former Congressman Brooks Hays today resigned as an adviser to President Johnson and announced as a Democratic candidate for governor of Arkansas.

Hays, 67, said he can carry the Democratic banner against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller better than any other candidate.

Gov. Orval Faubus has announced that he will not seek re-election unless the Democratic party fails to find formidable opposition for Rockefeller, the GOP candidate.

Jim Johnson, who resigned earlier this month from the Arkansas Supreme Court, and State Rep. Kenneth Sulcer also have filed for the Democratic primary.

Reservists' Callups Ready For Computer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Half a million reservists could be mobilized during a national emergency thanks to the work of five reservists.

The reservists recently completed a set of computer programs for the Pentagon that will help mobilize manpower in case of war.

Yes, Sergeant Ma'am

ST. LOUIS (UPI) —Detective policewoman Sergeant Margot Warmann is the new president of the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Juvenile Officers Assn. She is the first woman to be elected president of the group.

AFTER 10 YEARS—This, the modern sanctuary of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Novato, was opened for its first worship services 10 years ago Friday, a fact which will be commemorated at a banquet Saturday. Guests will hear from the first pastor and will see pictures illustrating the activities of the past 10 years.

Grand Jurors Return First Indictment

The 1966 Marin County Grand Jury yesterday returned its first indictment, a charge of felony battery by San Quentin inmate Roy Lee Gatson, 24, against a correctional officer.

Gatson, serving a one year-to-life sentence for sodomy in Alameda County, allegedly attacked the guard, Robert E. Ledbetter, 44, of Petaluma, on March 20.

Prison officials said Ledbetter, who suffered a broken collar bone, bruised ribs, and a head injury, was checking on an inmate in the prison kitchens, ordered him away, and the two were walking out when the assault occurred.

Gatson was given a 29-day isolation sentence by the prison's institutional interdisciplinary committee on March 22 for the beating.

Grand jury foreman James S. Goodale reported the panel's law enforcement committee is continuing its investigation into recent uprisings against sheriff's officers in Marin City, but said no definite steps or recommendations have been reached.

The committee, headed by William R. Davis, spent two and one-half hours quizzing sheriff's officers April 6 following an April 4 riot in Marin City. Five Marin City youths have been charged in the affray.

Goodale said the probe will probably take many weeks.

Electric Organ Plays Own Music

Roseanne Hefner of Wichita was playing an electric organ when she started hearing voices. Turned out the organ's speaker was picking up a two-way citizen's band radio conversation.

Hamilton Status Shift Brings Reassignments

With the change in the status of the command at Hamilton Air Force Base several staff changes for the newly reactivated Fourth Air Force were announced today by base officials.

Col. W. H. Coons, now with the Western Communications, Region at Hamilton, will be director of communications and electronics for the Fourth Air Force, effective July 1.

He replaces Col. Jasper M. P. Vaughn, who was released as director of communications and electronics for Pacific Air Force Headquarters at Hickham Air Force Base, Hawaii, effective June 15.

New deputy of operations for the 78th Fighter Wing will be Col. F. J. Taylor, who will replace on July 1, Col. William C. Miller, who is retiring on June 30.

On Aug. 1, Col. J. G. Milne, now at Itazuke Air Base in Japan, will take over a new position, vice commander of the 78th Fighter Wing.

A new chaplain will come to the Fourth Air Force headquarters next month. He is Col. B. C. Trent, who has been stationed at March Air Force Base.

At the end of this month, Col. H. C. Hancock, now commander of the 329th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at George Air Force Base, will become director of safety at headquarters, Fourth Air Force. He replaces Lt. Col. Theodore A. Faber, who is retiring.

The Fourth Air Force comptroller position will also change hands. Col. R. W. Keller will leave in June for Stewart Air Force Base, N. Y. He will be replaced by Col. N. O. Wahlstrom, who comes to Hamilton from McChord Air Force Base, Wash.

Driver Is Cool In Hot Spot

He was in an alley picking up trash when he saw smoke pouring from the back of his truck. He hopped in the cab and drove a block and parked in front of the fire station.

Jungle Lakes

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The Peruvian Amazon jungle contains 700 lakes covering 3.75 million square miles, a study by Dr. Victor Pinedo del Aguila says. Botanist Pinedo says Peru's jungle is second in size and plant variety only to Brazil in South America.

Liberties Union Asks End To Oath

NEW YORK (UPI) —The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) yesterday urged the oath requirement for anti-poverty workers in community action programs.

John De J. Pemberton Jr., executive director of the ACLU, said that to "rely solely upon the standards of 'manifestations of disloyalty' and 'membership in subversive organizations' without definition or precision invites those who are most unsophisticated in political affairs to pass judgment in a wholly arbitrary manner."

Do-It-Yourself Telephone Service

LORDSBURG, N.M. (AP)—A do-it-yourself construction plan by ranchers in the Red Rock area north of Lordsburg resulted in 15 of its 17 families receiving telephone service.

Residents did $5,000 worth of work to lay $36,000 in telephone company equipment the 25 miles from Lordsburg, in southwestern New Mexico, for the hookup.

Trip Sought To Ask Cash For Airport

County supervisors, attending a Marin Transit District board last night, were polled by Chairman Byron W. Leydecker to see if there was agreement for him to go to Washington early Senate subcommittee on federal allocations for small airports.

The board agreed, but will take formal action at a regular board meeting when the dates and costs are known.

Leydecker was asked to attend by a counsel for the National Assn. of Counties, to explain why Marin needs federal funds for development of the county airport at Novato.

The federal budget proposes a cut in allocation of federal aviation agency funds from $71 million to $50 million, and a limitation of aid to those airports which would be essential in improving national commerce.

Cost of Leydecker's trip will not be limited to the $300 travel cost maximum for out-of-state conventions and conferences, since this would be more in the nature of a "mission," County Administrator Alan Bruce said today.

Ganges River Route Leaves City Short

LUOKNOW, India (AP)—The holy Ganges River changed course away from the industrial city of Kanpur, leaving it short of water.

"Mother Ganges is angry with us and is leaving Kanpur in the lurch," a member complained in the state legislature here.

Planes Must Aviod Cows On Airfield

Good Shepherd Church To Mark A Decade

Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Novato, will mark its 10th anniversary with a banquet at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the Lodge.

Rev. K. G. Egertson, who was the church pastor when it held its first worship service on April 15, 1956, will be keynote speaker. His remarks will be titled "Yesterday, Its Blessings and Purpose."

At Sunday services, speaker will be Dr. Gaylord Falde, president of the American Lutheran Church's South Pacific District, while Rev. Stanley Gjervik, present pastor, will be the liturgist.

The church has grown to 600 members in its 10-year history. Rev. Egertson was pastor until 1959, and was replaced by Rev. Ole Winter, who filled the pulpit until Rev. Gjervik came two months ago.

Couple To Design Rhododendron Show

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm G. Smith of Larkspur have been named as designers for the 1966 Rhododendron Show of the California Chapter, American Rhododendron Society, to be held Saturday and Sunday at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

The Smiths were designers of last year's competition held in Piedmont City Hall. Francis W. Mosher Jr. of Mill Valley will serve as a member of the exhibit arrangements committee for the show.

Water District Not Pleased With School Land Request

The Marin Municipal Water District board yesterday expressed displeasure over a Fairfax School District request for an acre of district land to expand Deer Park School, but agreed to study the matter.

Board President William A. Marcus told Fairfax Supt. Homer Sisk: "You built the school there against our advice and now you must pull the laboring oar."

The school lies in a panhandle leading to 500 acres of water district park land.

Sisk requested the land so the district could fill an adjacent creek and expand the school playground. Water district directors told him the district should study an alternative so the only access road would not be through the school grounds.

Marin Municipal Water District Board Also:

1. Agreed to submit a letter to Marincello developers that the district would agree to provide water service. General Mgr. William R. Seeger said this would be "the first in a long series of steps" between the district and Frouge Corp., Marincello developer.

2. Called for bids, to be opened April 27, on construction of a five-million gallon Mill Valley tank, estimated to cost $140,000; painting four steel storage tanks at Strawberry, Hamilton Avenue, Mesa Vista and Fawn Drive, estimated at $30,000; maintenance painting of tanks at Los Ranchitos, Terra Linda and Marinwood, estimated at $4,500 and annual supply of 2,000 various sized water meters, estimated at $60,000.

3. Also called for bids for April 27 of a liability insurance contract for next fiscal year.

4. Accepted low bids by F. M. Speekman Co. of San Francisco of $3,208 for 100 tons of lime for the San Geronimo treatment plant and by P. E. O'Hair and Co. of San Francisco of $3,925 for 313 various size welded fittings.

6. Authorized Seeger to sell at the best possible price about $7,000 worth of scrap iron.

Women Less Likely To Achieve Diploma

NEW YORK (UPI) —Girls are less likely to stay in college than men, says Gayle Wilson, associate director of admissions at the University of Michigan.

He gives five reasons: marriage, lack of career goals, lack of motivation, lure of jobs around the college community and the probability that a girl will bow to a boy in the family if the family finances can pay for only one education.

Litter Barrels Now Number In Thousands

NEW YORK (UPI) —Motorists will have less excuse than ever for littering in 1966.

Keep America Beautiful, Inc., the national anti-litter organization, reports a survey of state highway departments shows there are tens of thousands of litter barrels awaiting travel trash in almost all the 50 states. All but three states said they had at least some trash receptacles along their highways, at roadside rests or other places.

Delta Zeta Plans Benefit Tomorrow

Members of the Marin County Alumnae Chapter of Delta Zeta sorority and their guests will enjoy a noon luncheon and an afternoon of games on tomorrow at the Marin Golf and Country Club in Novato.

Proceeds from the annual event will go towards purchase of supplementary equipment and materials for the hard-or-hearing county classes at the Las Gallinas School, following the sorority's national philanthropy of aid to the hard-of-hearing.

Chairman of the benefit is Mrs. Frank Gloistein of Fairfax. Reservations chairman is Mrs. Norman Spangenberg of San Anselmo. Luncheon arrangements are being directed by Mrs. Robert Pritchard of Lucas Valley, and the decorations committee is headed by Mrs. James A. Smith of Terra Linda.

Special events committee chairman is Mrs. John A. Sproul of San Rafael, and Mrs. Decora D. Abramson of Tiburon is publicity chairman.

Margaret Campbell To Wed Albert Heideman In August

Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret L. Campbell, and Albert N. Heideman of San Francisco.

Margaret is the sister of Rev. David A. Campbell of Missouri and Mrs. A. J. Ford of San Rafael. She was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended Healds Business College in San Francisco. The bride-elect is employed with Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco.

Albert, the son of Mrs. Anna Heideman of Worthington, Minn., and the late Henry Heideman, is employed at Golden Gate Hospital in San Francisco. He is the brother of Mrs. Mike Grimmius and Mrs. Ben Ennenga of Worthington, Minn.; Mrs. Al Fath of Glenwood, Minn.; Mrs. Etta Remhof of Marshall, Minn.; Frederick Heideman of Worthington, Minn., and Henry, James and Frank Heideman of Rushmore, Minn.

Plans are being made for an Aug. 14 wedding at the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

Marin Women

Red Cross Will Organize Club For Military Wives

A military wives club will be organized in Marin County, sponsored by the American Red Cross, Marin County Chapter, announced Mrs. Douglas M. Christensen, chairman of the planning committee.

The group will meet the fourth Tuesday of each month, from 10 a.m. to noon, beginning April 26, at the American Red Cross chapter house, 712 Fifth Ave., San Rafael.

"The purpose of the club is to provide an opportunity for wives of men in all branches of the armed forces to meet new friends and share interests, experiences, knowledge and problems," said Mrs. Christensen.

"It will also offer a chance for the wives to learn about decorating, preparing meals on a small budget, sewing, arts and crafts, and numerous interesting projects."

The chapter will provide baby sitting and transportation for those who may need it.

Mrs. Christensen said all wives of military personnel are invited to attend this first meeting, which will be a get-acquainted coffee.

Assisting Mrs. Christensen on the club planning committee are Mrs. Vincent Ashmore and Mrs. Richard Blondin of Hamilton Air Force Base, and Mrs. Joseph Cooper Jr., of Kentfield.

To Sponsor Movie

A movie will be shown at the San Jose School multi-use room in Novato at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

"Second Time Around," starring Debbie Reynolds, is being shown as the fund-raising project for the San Jose Parent-Teacher Assn in place of the annual San Jose Capers.

SPRING 'PARTY' TIME

Modeling a colorful ensemble at yesterday's "Party, Party, Party" spring benefit of the Marinwood Guild of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum is hostess Mrs. D. Gwynn Thomson whose Ross home was the setting for the event. Mrs. Jack Usilton was in charge of the party games which followed the luncheon.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Welcomed From South Africa

By MOLLY MARIN

Welcomed home by their many friends in Marin are the Howard Sieverses and their daughter, Penny, who are again at their home at 92 Central Avenue, Sausalito, after living for two years in Johannesburg, South Africa. They left for South Africa the end of March two years ago when Mr. Sievers, an electrical engineer, was assigned to a job there by the Bechtel Corp. Penny, 18, was graduated from high school in Johannesburg last December and will enroll at the College of Marin in the fall.

Mrs. Sievers says that they enjoyed living in South Africa and having the opportunity to see such sights as Victoria Falls and the wild animals in the Kruger Game Preserve. Especially glad to have them home are their married children, Mrs. Gary Wold of Sausalito, Robert Sievers of Mill Valley and William Sievers of Mountain View. Entertaining the Sieverses at dinner tomorrow evening will be the Bernard Gratamas, who visited them in Johannesburg while they were on a six weeks' safari in Africa last July.

ENTERTAINING ON opening day at the Belvedere Lagoon sailing season, April 24, will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Temby. Each year the Tembys share the colorful event with 25 "land-locked" friends from the East Bay and Contra Costa County. Guests are invited to come at 1 o'clock to watch the parade of small yachts and to stay on for cocktails and dinner.

HONORED AT the Tiburon Peninsula Club's opening day ceremonies Saturday was Mrs. W. Elilott Judge. She gallantly officiated at the dedication of the new pool and tennis courts despite an unexpected spring shower, and turned the first spadeful of earth for the planting of a time capsule dramatizing the occasion as committee members held an umbrella for her. The Judge family donated the land which gave the club its start in 1948.

A LUNCHEON tomorrow wil be given by Mrs. Bullard Nugent in her Ross home honoring Mrs. Howard Hammond of Kentfield who, with Dr. Hammond, will visit the Greek Islands on their trip abroad.

A BON VOYAGE PARTY also will be given for Mrs. Lucille Graham Boole of Belvedere by Justice and Mrs. Richand M. Sims Jr. of Tiburon and Mr. and Mrs. James Adams of Woodland at the Sims home in Rolling Hills on Saturday. Fifty guests have been invited for cocktails. The honored guest leaves for a three-month European tour at the end of April. Mrs. Boole is the aunt of Mrs. Sims and Jim Adams.

BUSY WITH THE Office and Industry tour that will be given April 24 in San Francisco at such varied places as the Playboy Club, Newsweek magazine and the On Broadway Theater, are a number of Marinites beside the sponsoring Senior Center Auxiliary's president, Mrs. Thomas Marshall of Kent Woodlands. On her committe are Mesdames Joseph Cresalia of San Rafael, Robert Dougherty of Ross, John B. Hall of Greenbrae, Hayden Shuey of Kentfield and Gordon Hazlett of Sausalito and David Artsen of Tiburon.

THE ALFRED WILSEYS of Kent Woodlands have returned home after a six weeks stay in South America, where they visited their son, Michael, who is on a Fulbright scholarship to Santiago University. The Wilseys started a tour in Mexico City, then to Lima, Peru, and on to Santiago where they met Michael and went on to the lake country for fishing and the Mardi Gras carnival in Rio de Janeiro. From there they traveled to Buenos Aires where they boarded the SS. Brazil for a 17-day trip to New York. They returned to Marin after spending four days in New York City. Michael will return home in July and plans to attend the Harvard Business School in September.

SAN FRANCISCO Yacht Club, Belvedere, will be the setting for a bon voyage party to be given by Mesdames George Fritz, Albert Weinstein and Maury Saltzman Tuesday to honor Mrs. Albert Hand and Mrs. William Ryder, both of Belvedere, before their departure for a trip to Europe. Twenty-four guests will attend the affair.

The travelers will spend several weeks touring England, which is Mrs. Hand's native country. Her most recent trip to London was four years ago. The travelers will also tour the Continent and anticipate an extended stay on the Riviera.

MRS. FRANK WILLIAMS will be guest of honor at a sherry party to be hosted by Mrs. John Koenig at her Sausalito home Wednesday. Guests will go on to the St. Brigid's Guild luncheon, card party and white elephant sale in Campbell Hall of Christ Church, Sausalito.

Also having guests for sherry before the luncheon is Mrs. Frederic Palmer III. Her guests will be Mesdames Justin Day, Knox Finley, Robert McGlashen and Edward C. Maney. Mrs. Clyde Trudell, a Guild past president, will be coming down from Sacramento for the luncheon and will be a house guest of Mrs. Willard A. Hall.

Judith Fenton Betrothed To Howard C. Gold, Greenbrae

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Fenton of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judith Anne Fenton, and Howard Charles Gold of Greenbrae.

The bride-elect is the sister of Dennis J. Fenton of San Rafael and attended Terra Linda High School and was graduated from Marinello Beauty School. She is employed at Clyde's of Barcelona in San Rafael.

Howard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reid Gold of San Rafael and the grandson of Mrs. Esther Hertler of Lagunitas. He was graduated from Redwood High School and is employed by Olson-Baum Construction Co.

Plans are fr a June 25 wedding at Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia. They will honeymoon in Tahoe, after which they will reside in San Rafael.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Child's Screams At Bath Cause Neighborhood To React In Panic

DEAR HELEN:

If I had seen the following situation on a television show, I might have found it amusing. Since it really happened to me last night, it's anything but. Here goes:

My 2-year-old has always detested her bath. She not only cries, but screams at the top of her lungs until it's over.

Last night this same thing happened but this time two different neighbors alerted the apartment superintendent that not only one but both my children were screaming in terror. They went so far as to imply that they were left alone—or worse. The super's wife was on her way over here with a passkey just as my husband came home and she informed him about the two calls. Naturally, he ran in here almost sick with apprehension . . . and found only my daughter screaming up a storm in the bathtub.

My neighbors may have meant well, but couldn't they have called me, not the superintendent? Really, I don't leave my children alone nor do I beat them.

Should I just forget the whole thing or must I satisfy everyone's curiosity by posting signs all over the place, "Screams due to baby's bath. Don't panic." And who would believe me, anyway? — GRATEFUL FOR REAL FRIENDS

DEAR GFRF:

Might be a good idea. Now that it's over and you can finally laugh about the incident (can't you?), why not get to the heart of the matter and find out what makes bathing a dirty word to your baby. Re-educate her to like water by letting her discover it for herself—perhaps by paddling in the sink or dipping her toes into a half-filled bucket. Somewhere along the line she's been frightened and the time is overdue to start changing fright to delight.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

You listed what men should contribute to a marriage. How about giving some of the old-fashioned feminine wiles which lure him into a more active role in the house?

Feminine wiles were the last things my direct and honest self could employ; but my daughter taught me before she was three that her father enjoyed being conned by the ladies of the house. Now I am learning to pour on the flattery, all the while wondering how he can stand it; and yet something wonderful is happening in return. He is so much more relaxed that he is paying me compliments both directly and indirectly, and our children sense the change in our relationship.

Our daughter taught me, and I am trying to make it plain to our sons what I expect from their father and what their wives can expect from them to make their own lives happier.

We go out of our way to greet the man of our house with enthusiastic love: To thank him for small favors and big ones, like new shoes. At Christmas we write him to thank him for his goodness during the year—for things we take for granted most of the time. We are grateful for his love that is symbolized by the furnace going on in the middle of the night and the car having good brakes. My adored husband is happy to receive these letters; but how much more important for our boys to see what their father is doing for them day after day.

If a few wiles on my part contribute to the mental health of our children, the price is small. And the wiles are sometimes very indirect indeed. Only recently I discovered that when my husband came home to a disheveled wife, weary from caring for seven young children, he did not pitch in, but acted wearier than I. Somehow I learned, out of desperation I guess, that if he came home to a wife sitting down with a clean dress on, hair combed, lipsticked, he, no longer filled with guilt feelings at my working so hard, rested better, then really wanted to help me.—MEC

TO BE HONORED at a dinner on Sunday will be Cheryl Beebe and James D. Borup of Novato, whose engagement has just been announced. (Booth photo)

Child Who Steals Needs Firm Guide

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

What steps should be taken to correct it?

The answers depend, in part, upon the age and maturity of the particular child. A child below the age of three usually does not understand what ownership means. When he takes an item which does not belong to him, he is not really stealing. His experiences with toys lead him to believe that everything is shared. Don't get upset if a child of this age takes someone else's property but use the opportunity to explain the difference between sharing and ownership. It is important to realize that the child is probably not capable of full understanding and will need continued guidance.

THE THREE to five year old should be developing an increased respect for his own as well as other's property. As he becomes more independent of his parents, he learns to get along with his friends. The need to respect other children's property also grows. Continued guidance is important during this period.

By the age of six, a child should understand that it is wrong to steal. During these next few years, children tend to steal secretly and hide the objects.

THEY USUALLY deny the act. In such instances, parents should be particularly firm. Parents should explain that they love the child but do not approve and will not permit such behavior.

Children steal for many different reasons. Deprived children might resort to stealing if the need becomes strong enough. Stealing is not limited to the needy child. Children who appear to have everything are just as guilty of this objectionable behavior. A child who is lonesome or unhappy might turn to stealing. The lack of a warm relationship with parents is a possible cause.

THE CAUSE of the stealing should be analyzed. A child might be trying to gain attention or attempting to get even for treatment he feels is unfair. Regardless of the reason, stealing is not acceptable. Of course, care should be taken to make sure that such an accusation is accurate. On the other hand, a parent should not be blind to the possibility of their child's stealing.

Parents should recognize that young children may not understand what ownership means. Firm but understanding treatment is needed. Emphasize love but displeasure.

Rexroth Book Review Set

"An Autobiographical Novel" by Kenneth Rexroth will be reviewed by the Rev. Benton Gaskell at 2 p.m. April 21 at the Belvedere-Tiburon Community Congregational Church. The program is the fourth in a series of five book reviews sponsored by the Women's Fellowship of the church.

Rexroth, a San Francisco author, has had a varied career as poet, horse wrangler, hobo, painter and newspaperman. His early years among "refugees from the bourgeois society" colored his avant-garde outlook.

Mrs. Frank Neer of Tiburon is chairman and reservations chairman. A tea will follow the program.

Rubber Jewels

Rubber jewels are for wearing when swimming. They come styled like the big floral pins that have been around on jewelry counters for the past few years. But because they're rubber, they can be pinned to a bathing suit or clipped to the ear and take to the water.

P-TA Sets Date Of Installation

New officers of the Greenbrae Parent-Teacher Assn. will be installed at 10 a.m. on April 26 in the Greenbrae School library.

Tamalpais Guild To Fete Neophytes

Mill Valely's Tamalpais Guild of Sunny Hills will honor new members at an 11 a.m. luncheon Thursday to be held in the home of Mrs. Ralph Livingston in Mill Valley. Mrs. Charles Guichard is luncheon chairman.

New members who will be welcomed by president Mrs. Larry Boeck are Mesdames James Robert McHugh, George Wilson and Elgar Hill.

SPORTY IMPRESSIONS FOR 1966

Alas! He belongs to the riding club and you're afraid of horses. But don't fret—you're bound to impress him in this Western-styled dress and jacket from Don Sophisticates, left. He'll love the stitching on the collar, cuffs and breast pockets, set off by bright, white buttons. Underneath the jacket, the dress has a sleeveless, U-necked top in solid white, and the straight skirt has a dropped waist. Went to score with the baseball team? One method is with this adorable outfit by Bill Atkinson for Glen of Michigan Jr., right. The smart, A-line skirt has a matching blouse outlined with a wide, stitched band of the same fabric.

Marin City Pastor To Speak In Novato

"In Our Own Front Yard" will be the topic of Rev. Don Schilling, pastor of St. Andrew's United Presbyterian Church in Marin City when he is guest speaker at Wednesday's noon luncheon meeting of Novato's United Presbyterian Women's Assn.

Mrs. C. M. Croughan, program chairman, said Rev. Schilling will discuss not only the county's total race relations' picture, but also the special social problems in education, employment and housing which confront the resident of Marin City.

Rev. Schilling, a 1958 graduate of San Francisco Theological Seminary, was director of Neighborhood House in Sacramento and minister of social outreach for the Fremont church before his current pastorate.

He has been active in the civil rights movement and has been to Selma, Ala., and Hattiesburg, Miss. He also took part in the Delano strike last fall and marched with the strikers in Sacramento last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Schilling have two pre-school children and make their home in Marin City.

Members of Rachel Circle will be hostesses for the luncheon to be served in the Christensen oom of the church in Novato.

Genessee Council Will Meet With Anona Tomorrow

Genessee Council 180, Degree of Pocahontas, will host Anona Council 17, Degree of Anona from San Francisco, tomorrow at 8 p.m. This is the Junior Order for the Degree of Pocahontas, and girls from 10 to 15 years may become members announced Mrs. Salvatore Tartaul of San Rafael. This junior organization was founded 14 years ago by past great pocahontas, Mrs. Stanley Rice of St. Helena and past great imcohonee William Farrenkopf of Kentfield. Mrs. Farrenkopf is head of the state Degree of Anona board.

Heading the committee for this meeting is Mrs. Tartaul as chairman and will be assisted by hostesses Mesdames Axel Petersen, pocahontas; Herman Helpenstein, wenonah; Harry Wall, Walter Mazza, Horace Phillips and John Schroeder.

The council will have its business meeting at 7:30 p.m. at Portuguese American Hall, San Rafael.

Guild Plans Sale, Luncheon-Bridge

St. Brigid's Guild of Christ Episcopal Church will give a luncheon-bridge party-white elephant sale on April 20 at 12:30 p.m. in Campbell Hall, Sausalito.

Guild president Mrs. Wint F. Saint says that proceeds will go toward the building of a new sacristy to replace the old one which was condemned. Those planning to play bridge will bring their own cards and tally sheets.

Marin Women

Sausalito Women Will View Slides On Club Activities

Sausalito Woman's Club members will see slides of various club activities from 1956 to the present in a program starting at 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

Receiving guests at the door will be Mesdames W. T. Duggan and G. D. Percy. Tea will be served after the program by Mrs. Frederic Palmer III and her committee, and pouring will be Mesdames M. E. McAninch and Jack R. Lehmkuhl.

Potluck Supper Planned Saturday

One hundred newcomers to St. Hilary's Parish have been invited to the potluck supper sponsored by St. Hilary's Parent-Teacher Group Saturday. The event will begin with a social hour at 7 p.m. at Lyndon Hall, adjacent to the church in Tiburon. Supper will be served at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Joseph Keller is chairman, with Mesdames William Kelley, Frank Wilson, Leighton Hatch, Jerry Connelly, Pierce Powers and W. J. Brightbill assisting.

Commodore's Dinner Dance Is Planned

Members of the North Bay Yacht Club of San Rafael have received "golden" invitations for the commodore's dinner dance sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary.

The semi-formal affair honoring the six past and present commodores will be held at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel, San Francisco on April 23.

Guest commodores will include George Robinson, Robert Mouzakis, Durand Hall, Frank Pianca, Raymond Peterson and Elmer Hedlund.

Cocktails will be served in the Monterey Room at 7 p.m. followed by dinner in the Empire Room at 8:30 p.m. Auxiliary president Mrs. Charles B. Kennedy and her husband will lead the grand march.

Yacht Club Sets Island Style Show

"Fashions For Island Hopping," whether it be Bora Bora, Hawaii, Fiji, Belvedere, Corinthian or Angel Island, will be displayed at the luncheon which the Women's Auxiliary of the Corinthian Yacht Club will give at noon April 21.

Mrs. Fred McPherson is program chairman; Howard Bean, commentator; Mrs. John R. Malone and Mrs. Bean, fashion coordinators; Mrs. Allan Axford, music; Mrs. Kenneth Merklin, publicity.

Mesdames George Berticevich, L. B. Everett Jr., Ken Abernathy, A. R. Fischer, Anthony Guzzardo, Emerson Best, Kenneth Merklin, Edwin Kingsland, Donald Beacock, George Filippis, and W. B. Johnson will model.

Bridge for members making up their own tables will begin at 10 a.m.

TURNING OUT AN EXHIBIT

Darrell Rolston, a student at San Rafael High School, makes pottery for exhibit at the eighth annual Marin County Public High School Art Show being held through April 24 at the Frances Young Gallery of the Marin Society of Artists in Ross. Other students taking part are from Terra Linda, Tamalpais, Redwood, Novato and Sir Francis Drake high schools. The gallery is open from 2 to 4 p.m. daily and from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays. A reception will be held Sunday at 2 p.m.

San Rafael Marching Band Wins TV Stint

The San Rafael High School marching band will star in a color television commercial to be filmed Saturday in San Rafael.

Band Director Terry Summa said his young musicians will appear behind six "cheerleaders" and one "co-ed," all of whom will actually be Los Angeles actors and actresses.

The project will be done by the same producers who recently finished filming cigarette commercials in Mill Valley. This time, however, the sponsor will be the maker of Brach's candies.

Ann Brebner of Sausalito is in charge of casting, while crew members will fly in from New York and Houston for the one day of shooting. It will either be done at the high school or at Dominican College.

Summa said the school apparently was chosen because the producers felt its red and white uniforms would look good on color TV. The name of the candy will be spelled out with big letters on six souzaphones, three of which Summa had to borrow from other schools.

In return for the band's services, the candy firm plans to make a sizable donation to the school band fund.

The youngsters will not be getting paid for their musical ability, however. They will be pantomiming to dubbed music which has already been recorded by professional studio musicians in New York.

Junior Theater Rehearses 'House That Jack Built'

"The House That Jack Built," performed by the Studio Players and sponsored by the Junior Theater of Marin, will be presented Saturday with performances at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the Marin Country Day School in Corte Madera.

Redwood's Band Sets Annual Tour

Redwood High School's band and orchestra will make their eighth annual tour of elementary schools in the Redwood attendance area this month.

Accompanying the band and orchestra will be the Redwood stage band, under the direction of senior Colman Shew of Larkspur.

The band's performances are scheduled today at Ross, Neil Cummins, and H. C. Hall Schools, and next Thursday at Ross, Del Mar, and Kent schools.

Two YMCA Clubs Plan Follies Benefit Show

The Hi-Y and Tri-Y clubs of the San Rafael YMCA will present a show, the "1966 Frantic Follies," tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium of the San Rafael Military Academy.

The show will consist of skits, dances and songs prepared by the high school club members and an added attraction will be an act by club advisors. Proceeds will go to the YMCA World Service program.

Yellowstone National Park is the largest national park in the nation, covering 3,472 square miles in Wyoming, Montana and Idaho.

STEIG KLEIN
Art contest winner

First Grader Wins County Art Contest

Stieg Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Judson Klein of San Rafael, was winner of an art contest sponsored by the Marin Museum Assn.'s art appreciation program which attracted 450 entries from children throughout the county, it was announced today.

The picture by Stieg, a first grade pupil at Oliver Hartzell School, will be reproduced on the museum's brochure this year.

Children receiving honorable mentions were: Maureen Campion of Greenbrae School; Nancy L. Smith of Brookside School, San Anselmo; Edward Fox and Timothy Davis of Coleman School, San Rafael; Linda Shafer and Jean Barrett of Gallinas School, Santa Venetia; Pat Coughlin and Libby Whitehead of Glenwood School, San Rafael, and Patty Ryan, Jody de Iongh and Diane Pederson of Blessed Sacrament School, Santa Venetia.

The work of all the winners will be exhibited at San Rafael Public Library during May and will also be on display at a luncheon of the association scheduled for May 4 at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Dixie Music Festival Set By 600 Pupils

About 600 pupils of schools in the Dixie School District will take part in the district's annual instrumental music festival Sunday at Terra Linda High School Gymnasium.

The program will be presented in two sessions. First, featuring youngsters from schools in Terra Linda, will be at 1:30 p.m. The second, with pupils from schools in Lucas Valley and Marinwood, will be at 7:30 p.m.

The all-district honor band will play at both performances. Also performing will be two beginning bands made up of youngsters who have studied under classroom teachers instead of music teachers.

These teachers, explained music director Joseph S. Curatilo, have learned how to play instruments and, in turn, how to teach instrumental music to their pupils as part of a special program sponsored by the district and Sonoma State College.

Curatillo will be aided by music teachers Lynn Dowdey, Marie Bishop and Betty Jo Barnes, plus about 35 classroom teachers in Sunday's program.

Toastmasters Club Installs Officers

Chris Madera, insurance agent of 143 Solano Street, San Rafael, has been installed as president of Tamalpais Toastmasters Club 1755, succeeding Edmund M. Steacy.

Other officers installed in a ceremony at the new San Geronimo National Golf Clubhouse were: Arthur Burton, educational vice president; Boyd Whitney, administrative vice president; Dean Greenstreed, secretary; Tony Schunk, treasurer, and Chester Lowney, sergeant at arms.

The name of the City of Pasadena was coined in 1875 by Thomas B. Elliott, of the original "Indiana Colony of Hoosiers" from several Chippewa Indian words. The meaning of Pasadena, by implication, though not literally, is "Key of the Valley," or "Crown of the Valley."

Sunny Hills Map On Hub Agenda

San Anselmo Planning Commission, meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in City Hall, will be asked to pass on the final map of the 52-acre Sunny Hills subdivision.

The subdivision includes four parcels: The present site of the orphanage, the site of the shopping center now under construction, the old orphanage building site which is under lease to commercial interests, and a parcel against Red Hill, for which there are no stated plans.

Commissioners will consider a proposal to hire county planning services on a part-time basis. They will consider Richard Catuna's application for rezoning of a lot between 4 and 6 Greenfield Court from single family to duplex residential.

BANDIT HOLDS UP HUB DRUG STORE

Gunman Buys Stomach Pills, Forces Pharmacist To Hand Over $500

A "50ish" bandit with a nervous stomach brandished a revolver in the face of pharmacist Aldo Parodi in the San Anselmo Owl Rexall Drug store at San Anselmo and Bolinas avenues last night and got away with $500 in cash and checks.

Parodi, who lives at 945 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon, told police the robber, who had red blotches on his face, entered the store at 9:40 p.m., just 20 minutes before closing time, and ordered a 16-cent packet of indigestion relief tablets.

The customer seemed about ready to leave, Parodi said, when he instead walked into the prescription office, sidled up to the pharmacist and said with a slight southern drawl: "This is a stick-up! I want the money."

Parodi said the bandit, with dark greying hair, held a blue-steel revolver and gestured at the cash register. The pharmacist later told police it may have been a .32 calibre.

Because of the late hour, Parodi said, there was no other customer in the store. A woman clerk up at the front of the large drug store did not see the bandit nor realize there was anything unusual going on in the back, police reported.

Parodi glanced at the weapon and handed over $100 from the cash register. The bandit quickly pocketed this, then stuck the gun against Parodi's side and said, "I want all of it."

The pharmacist then gave him a brown cloth money bag, containing about $150 cash and $250 in checks, from under the cash register.

Parodi said the bandit then waved the gun at him again and ordered him out the Bolinas Avenue side of the store. He faced him down a long driveway next door, and said:

"Get going! You walk down that alley and don't turn around. Give me plenty of time."

The pharmacist said he did just that. He said he did not hear a car drive away. After a couple of minutes of doubt, he ran back to the store and called police.

Parodi described the bandit as about 50 years old, five feet nine inches tall, 150 pounds, with dark graying hair and the red blotches on his face. He wore a brown sport coat, possibly a tweed, brown slacks, and a light brown dress type hat, Parodi said.

Terra Linda Students Vote On Two Run-Off Contests

A run-off election was being held at Terra Linda High School today to find out who will be student body president next school year.

In voting yesterday, neither Bill Sonnenschien nor Shand Stephens got a clear majority. The third candidate, Bill Cole, trailed by only a few votes, reported Daniel Thorner, assistant dean of students. The school's constitution calls for a run-off between the two top candidates in such a case.

The school does not disclose the number of votes candidates receive in elections, Thorner said.

Also to be decided in today's run-off was commissioner of social affairs, with Randy Eames and Peggy Minneman the run-off candidates.

Elected yesterday were Jan Lecklikner as vice president, Sheryl Kinchla as secretary, Jack Delman as treasurer, Terry Boggs as commissioner of assemblies, Robin Gacey as commissioner of public relations, and Pat Henry as commissioner of spirit.

Students approved an amendment to the by-laws providing for election of the school mascot, who must be an upper classman.

When Capt. James Cook discovered the islands in 1778 he estimated there were 300,000 Hawaiians. Their blood has been mixed by intermarriage.

Oldest Son Has Edge On Medical Training

NEW YORK (UPI) —An eldest son is more likely to go to medical school than a youngest son.

So report psychologist John R. P. French Jr., and Dr. Sidney Cobb of the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research. They are studying the effect of family relationships on medical school entrance.

Scouts Look For Naked Broom Rape, Frits, Thistles

BUTTERCUP
Four times normal size

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The scouts are out.

The Stinson Beach wild flower trio—Mrs. Anne Leary, Mrs. Roberta Shockey and Mrs. Arthur Menzies — are stalking through the forage and taking mental notes on where to find the finest wild ones such as: adder's tongue, red maids and naked broom rape.

On April 30 they will return to many of these sites with buckets, cans and cut-off milk cartons to collect wild flowers for the May 7-8 Stinson Beach Wild Flower Show at the community center. They usually collect about 500 species.

All wives, all mothers, all with lively tongues and a love of the land, they have strange cries such as: "Look at the shooting star!" "Look at the girls!" "Let's go see the frits!" and "Pipsisewa!"

Shooting stars are blue flowers. 'The girls' are cows. Frits are flowers, Fritillarias, and pipsisgewa, also called the prince's flower, is something of a war cry meaning, "Eureka, we have found it (the one.)"

Scouting for wiid ones with Mrs. Leary and Mrs. Shockey (Mrs. Menzies was busy scouting in Death Valley) from Four Corners to Nicasio, it was learned that this is a late wild flower year.

The trio breaks into three separate groups April 30 and for five or six days, with added manpower, works over much of the state to collect for the show which will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the weekend.

To scout, one must have a good eye for color. "Color is the most important to know in what you are looking for," Mrs. Leary remarked.

Another important requisite is "Marin Flora," a book by John Thomas Howell, curator of Botany at California Academy of Science, San Francisco. "That's our bible," said the collectors.

Both women complained that someone had been spraying ceanothus, chapparal pea and soap plant along Panoramic, not only killing the plants but making them fire hazards.

"In another few weeks the ceanothus will be lovely," one flower spotter rambled on. "There's manzanita in bloom. There are nine types on Mount Tamalpais. See the deer!"

Common names of wild flowers are very English, most descriptive and sometimes startling.

There is naked broom rape (it's naked. It has no leaves"), thistles, shooting star, adder's tongue, baby blue eyes, white forget-me-nots and hog fennell, parsley.

Stalking on, the amateur botanists pointed out tooth wort (dentaria), which is white, and onward to wild cucumber ("also called manrott"), buttercups, mustard and poppies.

"The natives," Mrs. Shockey explained, "took one half cup of olive oil and mixed it with the whole poppy and made hair dressing."

Flowers that are going down hill are described as "tired." The question asked more often than any other is, "How do you preserve them?"

"Simple," said Mrs. Leary. "In water. Really and truly, this is all there is to it. Plus, we get them back and put them in a cold building. And we strip stems on certain plants with our fingernails and we burn stems of milkweeds.

"On shrubs, we beat or pound the stems before putting them in water to give them more open area to absorb water. When all else fails, there is the hot water treatment. In the motel, when he have hauled all the flowers and they look sick and we want to revive them, we plunge them in hot water as hot as will come out of the tap and most of the time they survive."

Mrs. Shockey recalled the first year they looked for the pink frit. "We went to Guinda, Colusa County. Then we went to the Rumsey Post Office. The people knew about 'those pink things.' We went down roads 127 and 137 and 138 . . . finally, we towed a Jeep up to the Rumsey dump, parked the car and drove the Jeep to Arbuckle. It was a closed road (this is where I saw the rattlesnake the other day) and found the pink fritillaria. The fritillaria is also called the stink bell because it smells. Its scientific name is agrestis.

"The white frits only grow on the outcroppings of basalt in the Bay Area. Pink ones grow where there is adobe. And then there are those darling ones that grow in the Philo Cemetery."

"And then there is the surf thistle," continued Mrs. Shockey. "It's endemic of Surf (Santa Barbara County), a railroad station. One year we drove to a Marine sentry box and asked this little Marine in the sentry box, 'Do you know where the surf thistle grows'?"

"What the hell's that?" he said. "We said, 'Oh, it's a flower.' We found it—not with his help. Last year we went to the same area and were picking the surf thistle on the sand at Surf which now has become a part of Vandenberg Air Force Base.

"Three soldiers came along and said, 'What are you doing here? You have to come with us.' We were identified as 'unidentified civilian personnel.' Then they made a call to the commander of the base and he asked 'What are you doing here?' And then they called our husbands.

"'Is your wife in southern California picking flowers?' they asked. Ken said, 'Yes, why?' 'Oh, dear,' we said. I kept picking things while they had Barbara (Menzies) being interogated. Undaunted, we brought several surf thistles back to the show."

Asked about roads, Mrs. Shockey said that in difficult terrain, "You open the doors and let the water go through the car and keep driving with your foot on the brake."

Onward to huckleberry, wood anemone and more lupine. "There are 82 varieties of lupine in California but that doesn't include sub species," said Mrs. Leary.

Are there hazards for the hunters? "I'm very timid about dogs," answered Mrs. Leary. Mrs. Shockey said she had trouble communicating with deaf farmers.

At one dark curve, Mrs. Shockey slowed her car and said, "You always slow down at dark, mossy, rocky places where flowers often grow."

"We get the bulk of the flowers in the last five or six days before the show. We have a lot of help from the community. We clean, sweep, then we sit down Friday, the night before the show, and we cry."

More "girls" were spotted at Nicasio and lupin and poppy. "Where is Clyde?" asked Mrs. Shockey. "Clyde is a buffalo who roams with the girls," she explained.

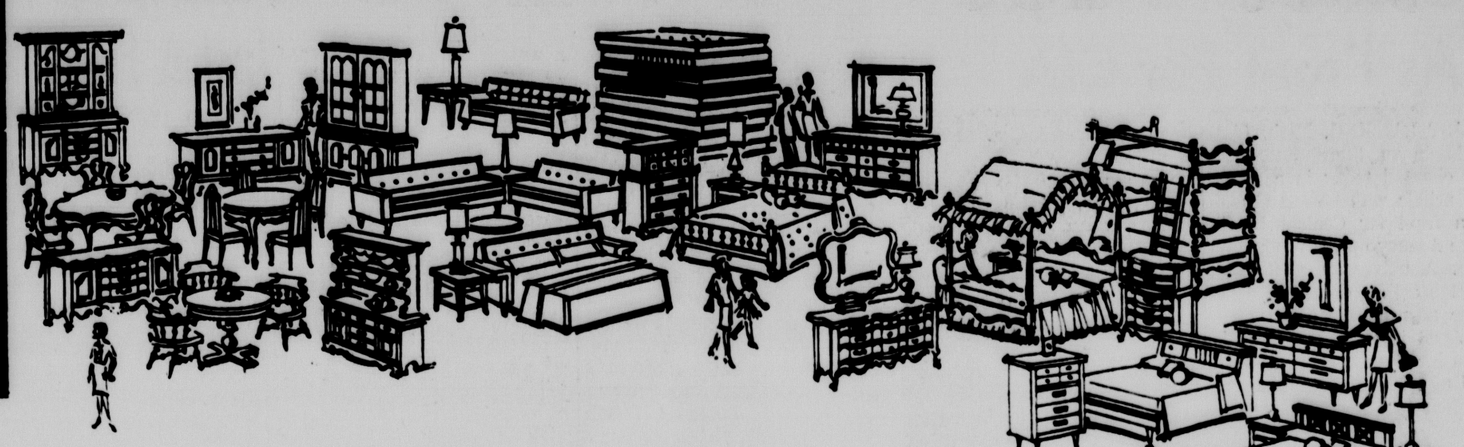
Bellach's Overstock SALE



We no longer have a separate warehouse building and are literally bursting at the seams with valuable furniture that should be properly displayed—not stacked in our store.

Space does not permit listing all the items on sale. This is one of the largest furniture stores in the area with a known reputation for the quality of merchandise shown. You will find almost everything sale priced for the next few days.

There will be extra salespeople on hand to serve you . . . and, as always, our staff of decorators will render any assistance you may require.

Buy in pairs for further savings! Since our object is to make room at once, there will be special price concessions if you buy a pair of chairs, lamps or tables rather than single items.

Choose from famous brands . . . Simmons, Drexel, Thomasville, Sealy, Crown, Lane . . . names you know and trust for quality!

Take advantage of our special buys now . . . and use one of our "custom" budget plans. There's one that's just perfect for your needs!

When it came personal property tax time every manufacturer rushed to reduce inventories by shipping merchandise in advance . . . results . . . an outrageously overcrowded store with no room to display fine furnishings in the manner you have come to expect.

In the face of rising prices we have decided to dractically reduce this stock at once by lowering your cost until our inventory is once again in line.

ARTICLE DENIED

University Charged As Front For CIA

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University was charged today in a magazine article with having provided a front for Central Intelligence Agency operatives in Viet Nam. A university spokesman said teh article was inaccurate.

The accusation was made in the April issue of the monthly magazine Ramparts, which said MSU also bought guns and ammunition for South Vietnamese security forces during the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem, who was deposed and slain in 1963.

Terming the article "full of distortion and plain fabrication," an MSU official said the university's Viet Nam project was undertaken merely to provide advice for setting up police organizations and establishing a civil service program.

"We did not knowingly hire any CIA men — and when we found out about their role, we dropped them," said James Denison, director of university relations and assistant to MSU President John Hannah.

Denison denied guns and ammunition were purchased by MSU for the Vietnamese government. However, in its capacity as adviser, the university sometimes made recommendations on what equipment might be needed by security forces, he said.

MSU's international programs have ranged around the world in such areas as Nigeria, Turkey, Brazil and Okinawa.

Most of the overseas operations are designed to help governments get started on projects such as agricultural planning, police administration and school programs.

The magazine said by advising the Diem government on police and security measures, MSU violated the 1954 Geneva agreement which limited the military capability of both North and South Viet Nam.

Dr. Ralph Smuckler, acting dean of the university's international programs, commented: "The International Control Commission is the enforcement agency for the Geneva agreement. The ICC was aware of what we were doing in Viet Nam and never filed any complaints."

Although the article says that the six-year Viet Nam project — which ended in 1962 — was worth $25 million to MSU, Smuckler said the basic contract did not exceed $1 million in any one year.

The article was endorsed in an introduction by Stanley Shienbaum, who was campus coordinator of the project for more than three years and now is with the Center for Democratic Studies in Santa Barbara, Calif.

The article, by Shienbaum and Robert Scheer, said the MSU project showed "the decay of traditional academic principles found in the modern university on the make."

THE COVER—This is the cover of the April issue of Ramparts in which an article charged that the University of Michigan at East Lansing was the front for a CIA mission in South Viet Nam during the 1950s. The article said President Ngo Dinh Diem was supplied with guns and ammunition. The cover depicts the slain leader's wife as a cheer leader. The university called the article "full of distortion and plain fabrication." The magazine is published in California. (UPI Telephoto)

Tokyo Terms 'Kidnaping' Just A Fight

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese foreign ministry today dismissed Soviet charges that American intelligence agents had tried to kidnap a Soviet diplomat in Tokyo.

The Japanese said the Soviet had been involved in a fight with two Americans and a Colombian, not a kidnaping attempt.

The Americans and the Colombian were not identified, but one report said they were tourists.

A foreign ministry official said the Soviets had not made a formal complaint to the Japanese government. He indicated the government planned no action unless it got a request from Moscow.

The Soviet government complained to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow yesterday that "American intelligence agencies" had tried to kidnap Georgy Pokrovsky, first secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Tokyo.

Unborn Monkey Studied In A Test-Tube World

RENO, Nev. (AP) — For more than 30 hours, the sometimes-kicking fetus of a mulatta macaque monkey, removed from its mother's body, lived in a test-tube world.

The breakthrough experiment was conducted by Dr. Donald E. Pickering, a pediatrician and head of the University of Nevada's Human Development Laboratory.

Scientists could view, for the first time, the development of a living, but unborn, animal whose reproductive cycle is virtually identical to a human's, Charles Armstrong, university president, said.

"It has the greatest scientific application for human development," he said.

For instance, Pickering said, experimenting with such a living fetus could have shown the deforming effects of the drug Thalidomide before it was given to expectant mothers.

The first sign of disease might be spotted in a visible fetus when it might not turn up in the living animal until years later, he said.

The fetus was removed by Caesarean section Monday, 106 days after conception and about 60 days before normal birth. It continued to receive nourishment from the mother by the umbilical cord.

Pickering ended the experiment late Wednesday night, saying the fetus had lived longer outside its natural world than he had intended.

"If we can go 22 hours, we can go 22 days," he had said earlier.

HOSPITAL'S NEW POST DEFENDED

Only One Of Four Radio Panelists Against Marin General's New Co-ordinator Job

San Rafael accountant Alex L. Backofen appearing on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board," today challenged the need for a $25,000-per-year medical co-ordinator at Marin General Hospital and argued that the money could be better spent on giving nurses a raise.

He found himself on the short end of a 3-1 majority favoring the idea, however. Other guests on the program, all disagreeing with Backofen, were Mrs. Marion C. Ibach, president of the Marin Hospital District Board, and two hospital staff members, Dr. Wilson P. Goddard and Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr.

The closest thing to criticism of the plan from anyone but Backofen came from Dr. Weden, who admitted he "had some mixed feelings" when he first heard of it.

He noted that the job description called for such a flawless human being that it might prove difficult to fill.

"Our last savior was 1,000 years ago," he quipped, "and the next probably will not come to Marin County."

Beyond that, he felt the coordinator could provide many needed jobs, including acting as medical adviser to the hospital administrator, and could "keep doctors on the ball" in the absence of an intern program, which he said often does this.

He related his own recovery at the hospital after being hit by a car in 1957, and concluded it was all due to doctors and nurses — not to administrators or board members.

Dr. Goddard, who served two terms on the board in the 1950s and was chief of staff between terms, said the role of a coordinator would not be to interfere with doctors' absolute authority in each case, but to assist the staff so that every patient gets the greatest benefit from hospital facilities.

He contended the co-ordinator could overcome problems stemming from the fact that a doctor "often becomes narrow as he gets better in his specialty."

Agreeing with Dr. Weden's estimate of the job qualifications, Mrs. Ibach said the post is not likely to be filled soon because it will be hard to find a qualified man. And when he is found, he may only be put to work on a part-time basis, she added.

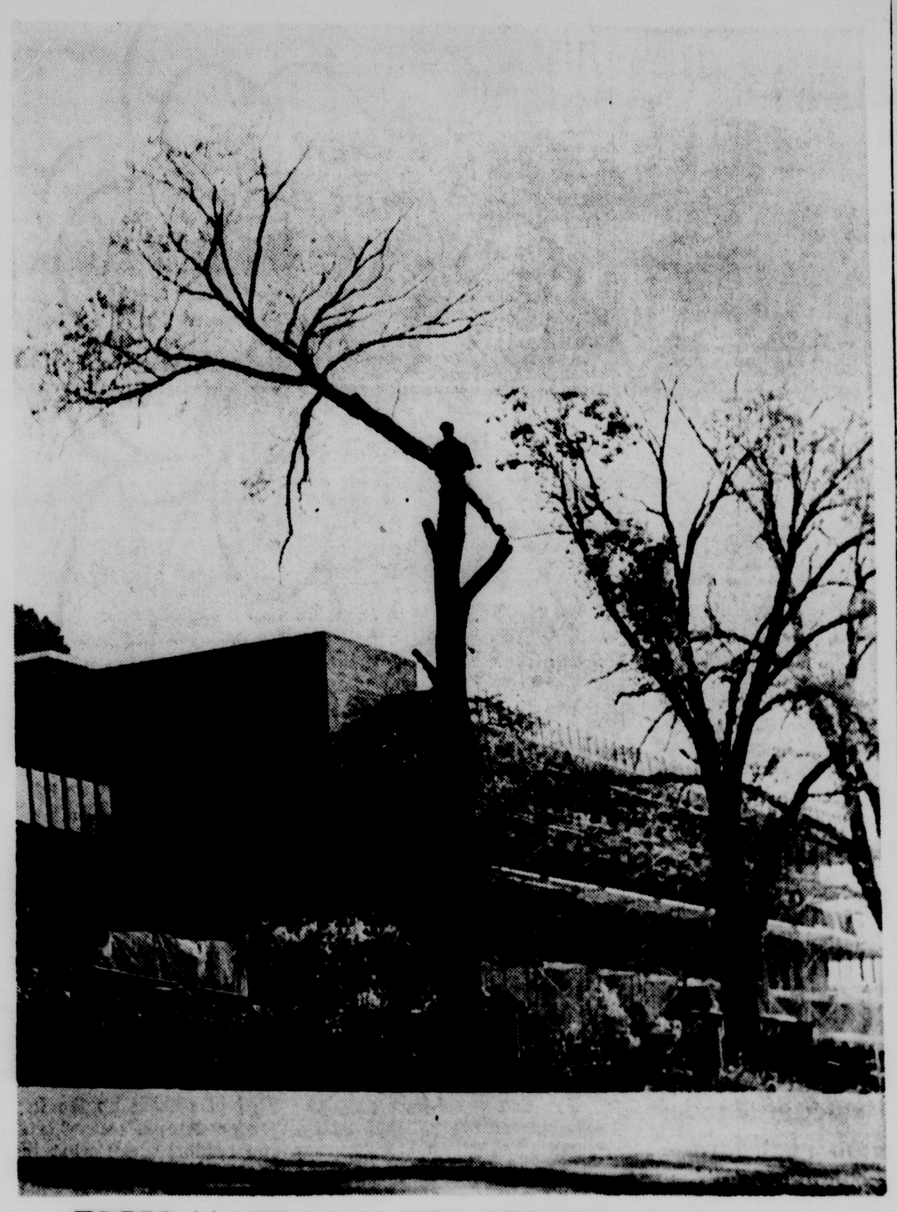
When a listener asked if the hospital was in danger of becoming "top heavy" with administrators, Mrs. Ibach countered that it is a $3.5 million business, thus "must have a good staff of executives."

She said the $25,000 figure was chosen only to give the board something to work from, and the man's full-time salary might eventually prove to be less than this—or more.

Distributing this same amount in nurses' salaries, however, would give them only a $4 per month raise and would contribute less to improving patient care, she contended.

To a listener who asked why Administrator William W. Turner's salary has been increased although his work was being cut, Mrs. Ibach insisted this is not the case. Rapid growth of facilities, she said, is making his work greater.

Backofen, nowever, disagreed. He speculated that the new man might eventually absorb the administrator's job entirely.



TREES MAKE WAY FOR STREET WIDENING

City street crew knocks down old elm trees along Fifth Avenue between C and E streets, in front of the new San Rafael City Hall under construction. The trees, many of which had been marked for destruction as rotten by William Vaning, city tree superintendent, were ordered all removed to make possible four-foot widening of the block of Fifth Avenue—bringing it to same width as that from Court to C streets. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said they will be replaced with large, 12-to-15-foot trees to assure quick shade. The man up the tree in picture is Denney Phillips.

Father Freed Without Bail On Beating

Michael Pardee, San Anselmo musician charged with the felony beating of his 2-month-old daughter, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday and plea entry continued unti 1:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

The child, Lias, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital. When she was admitted to the hospital April 4, she was in critical condition and was placed in the intensive care ward. She had suffered two skull fractures and severe bruises.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. released Pardee, 21, of 181 Oak Avenue, on his own recognizance on condition that he stay away from his wife, Barbara, and the infant pending outcome of the charge.

Deputy Dist. Attorney Michael Dufficy argued unsuccessfully that bail should be set. Original bail was $8,250.

Cohen Is Elected Head Of Association

Supt. Milton S. Cohen of the Larkspur School District was elected president of the Marin Assn. of School Administrators yesterday.

Other officers elected were: program chairman and vice president, Supt. James Bunker of Novato Unified School District; secretary-treasurer, Supt. Howard Browse of West Marin School District.

FLOOD OF WORDS

'Guided Tour' Seeks Recreation Areas

By RICHARD LYTTLE

With a firm hand on the tiller, county Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen yesterday guided the Marin County Park and Recreation Commission down Corte Madera Creek, pointing out the points of recreational interest.

The "trip" required almost two hours of words during the commission's meeting at the Civic Center. Though windy, the session did not get stormy.

It resulted in these motions:

1. That an 18-acre parcel owned by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco be placed on the "A" list of county park priorities, along with other "appropriate accesses" to the creek.

2. That supervisors investigate acquisition of state lands immediately east of the 18-acre parcel and within the right-of-way to be taken for the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

3. That state lands farther east along the north side of the creek also be investigated for acquisition.

Kettenhofen asked the latter two motions be made separately because "very bluntly, I think it might help in some kind of negotiation with Mr. Schultz."

He was referring to Niels Schultz Jr. of the Schultz Co. which owns most of the property in the area. His idea was that the state property might be traded to Schultz for land that would serve as a community park and provide access to the creek.

At the start of the discussion, commissioners questioned the value of "continuous access" along the north side of the creek from Highway 101 to Bon Air Bridge. Walter Horchler of the county planning department reported cost of buying all parcels needed would come to $487,000. Kettenhofen said it would be even higher, because Horchler's estimates did not include severance costs.

Sideswipe Collision Hurts Two

Two passengers were injured in a three-car sideswipe auto accident on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Lagunitas Road at 3:10 p.m.

California Highway Patrol Officer R. K. Richter reported a west-bound car driven by John L. Rilla, 24, of San Francisco crossed the center line on a curve and sideswiped eastbound autos driven by Rudolph Jensen of San Francisco and Richard B. Shelley, 57, of 4 Havenwood Drive, Novato.

The Jensen car went off the road and hit a tree. The Shelley car went into a ditch.

All drivers escaped unhurt, but Estelle Heydon, 72, and Elfriede Jenseon, 49, both of San Francisco, passengers in the Jenson car, were treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises.

The highway patrol cited Rilla for speeding.

Marin Hospital Chief Takes Florida Post

William W. Turner, 47, Marin General Hospital's fourth administrator since it opened in 1952, has resigned from that position effective May 20.

In a letter to Marin Hospital District directors mailed Tuesday, Turner said he has taken a job as executive director of Mound Park Hospital in St. Petersburg, Fla., "a much larger institution."

Mound Park Hospital has more than 700 beds, Turner reported. He declined to divulge his new salary, saying only that it will be higher than his $24,300 per year at Marin General.

Turner was hired in January, 1961, to replace S. Ames Pence as hospital administrator. Before that he served as assistant administrator of Memorial Hospital of Long Beach and administrator of Logansport, Ind., Memorial Hospital.

WILLIAM W. TURNER
To bigger job

Turner offered to assist the board in the recruitment and selection of his replacement.

"Marin General Hospital is well on its way to becoming an outstanding health center and it is a pleasure to have had a part in its development," he said in a letter to the board. "I have enjoyed the association and thank you for the help and cooperation I have received."

Board President Marion C. Ibach praised Turner for "superb job" at Marin General. She said the board will begin steps to secure a replacement at its meeting next Tuesday night.

Marin General Hospital opened in the spring of 1952 with Henry Jackson as administrator. He left in September of that year and was replaced by William S. Weeks, who was succeeded by Pence in 1956.

Different Grand Theft Charges Filed

Court trial of Archie Joe Fields, 28, on a charge of grand theft, scheduled for today in Marin Superior Court, was cancelled with filing of an amended information.

The new information also charges grand theft of about $5,000 from Sausalito Pharmacy, 701 Bridgeway, but changes the time of the alleged thefts from a period of two months to a period of 12 months, ending Sept. 1, 1965.

Fields, a part-time bookkeeper of Del Monte Hotel, 7 Excelsior Lane, Sausalito, had waived preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court on the original charge. Today, however, he requested such a hearing on the amended complaint.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner referred the case back to the lower court for setting of preliminary hearing, then scheduled April 25 for setting of a new trial in superior court.

Freedom Is Short For Two Inmates

Freedom lasted less than nine hours for two San Quentin prisoners who left a minimum security dormitory outside the prison walls last night.

Delbert McClary, 25, of Monterey County, and Glen Kinsey, 24, of Los Angeles, were recaptured early today near Yuba City.

The two were discovered missing by prison authorities at 9 p.m., but Sutter County sheriff's deputies notified the prison at 5:25 a.m. today that they were in custody.

Sheriff's deputies saw them walking along State Highway 20 a half-mile west of Yuba City at 4:30 a.m., and stopped them for a routine check.

The deputies found an abandoned truck belonging to a San Rafael fireman near the site of the recapture. James W. L. Park, associate warden at San Quentin, said the escapees apparently stole the truck, which belongs to Vincent Pallavicini of 31 Skyline Drive, San Anselmo, from the No. 4 fire station at 46 West Railroad Avenue.

McClary was imprisoned in 1962 for escaping during a jail sentence at Monterey County Jail—there, he walked away from a minimum security job. He was due to be discharged April 21, 1967.

Kinsey was imprisoned in July, 1962, for armed robbery, paroled in July, 1965, and returned to San Quentin for parole violation in January. He would have been considered for parole in January, 1967.

McClary was assigned to work in the prison detergent plant, and Kinsey worked in the prison sewage plant, both outside the walls. Both lived in the ranch dormitory, about 400 yards west of the main prison wall, and inside a high wire fence.

Bolinas-Stinson Schools Chief Plans To Step Down

Peter M. Auer, superintendent-principal of Bolinas-Stinson Union School District, resigned last night effective June 30.

Auer, who was highly commended by the board for his work, has been with the district six years, the last four of which he has been superintendent-principal. In this capacity he also taught fifth and sixth grades at Bolinas School.

He told trustees at last night's meeting he would like to become a fulltime principal or curriculum adviser but named no specific job as yet.

Trustees instructed Auer to give notice of his vacancy to the Marin County Superintendent of Schools and the San Francisco State College placement bureau.

Applicants are also being sought for the job of Mrs. Grace Abbett, kindergarten teacher who also resigned, effective June 30, reported board clerk Arthur E. Carpenter.

The board heard that Auer has appointed Maureen Dougan of Bolinas as substitute teacher for Mrs. Erika Zettl, who ended her job yesterday as special and remedial and accelerated class teacher. Mrs. Zettl is accompanying her husband, an art professor, on a European tour.

The 1966-67 preliminary budget was discussed but no action taken. Preliminary budget figure is $124,000, compared to the current budget of $168,935, a figure which included a sum saved over the years to build the new addition at Bolinas School. This addition is expected to be completed this month.

Tax rate for fiscal 1967, said Carpenter, is expected to remain about the same as it is now. It is $1.27 per $100 assessed valuation. In addition there is an 11-cent tax in Stinson Beach for bond retirement on the Stinson Beach School.

The board agreed to hold a special meeting at 8 p.m., April 27 in Bolinas School to discuss the salary schedule for fiscal 1967.

Senior Center Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Community Facilities Administration has approved a $2.1-million loan to Jefferson Center, Inc., to construct a 10-story apartment building for elderly persons in Sarasota, Fla.

Two Are Injured In Car Crash

A San Francisco driver and his passenger were injured at 1:30 p.m. yesterday when their station wagon hit the rear of a truck on Highway 101 near Puerto Suello Hill, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The driver, Solomon Day Sing Kan, 42, suffered head cuts; his passenger, John Chan, 30, broken ribs. Both were reported in "satisfactory condition" today at San Rafael General Hospital.

The truck was driven by Robert J. Hunter, 34, of Petaluma, the highway patrol reported.

Interviews Are Set For Planning Work

The San Rafael Planning Commission will hold a special meeting Tuesday to interview representatives of two consulting firms, one of whom may eventually be hired to help revamp the city's outdated zoning ordinance.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

Acting City Planner Charles J. Linthicum has recommended that commisisoners interview menf rom the Institute for Planning and Development of San Francisco and Warren W. Jones and Associates of Berkeley. They were among several submitting letters.

San Rafael Board Rejects Complaint Againt Voydat

A complaint by the American Federation of Teachers against Mitchell L. Voydat, assistant superintendent of San Rafael schools, was rejected Tuesday night by the San Rafael Board of Education when it he-hired him and the other assistant superintendent, William C. Jordan.

The complaint, lodged by the union's Marin County local through attorney and former board member Bella H. Aaron, was heard in a closed session after the board's regular meeting. No mention was made of this, however, in the agenda's reference to the closed meeting.

The board also approved the roster of principals, department heads, counselors and other administrators for the elementary and high school districts.

Only change in department head assignments for the high schools was assignment of George Starn as Terra Linda High School physical education director, replacing William O'Bayley, who was given the new title of director of athletics.

Left off the list of San Rafael High School departments was the humanities department. John C. Curtin, who teaches the only humanities class, has previously been listed as department head.

In the elementary district, Mrs. Lee Heise was made full-time director of special education. She now holds this job on a part-time basis and is also principal of Laurel Dell Intermediate School.

Her job at the school will be taken by Martin Parlan, now vice-principal at Gallinas School. The Gallinas post, plus those of teacher-in-charge at several elementary schools, have not yet been filled, reported Jean Wilcox, personnel officer.

Other changes in principalships were reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Probation Visitors

Several persons prominent in correctional and mental health fields and attending the American Orthopsychiatric convention in San Francisco have visited Marin County this week to study probation department's field and institutional programs, Walter H. Busher, probation officer, said today.

Student 'Juries' Mature Enough To Be Civic Boon

A proposal that student "juries" sit in on juvenile traffic cases as an advisory body to recommend punishment of those convicted sounds like a good idea.

Recent conferences involving youths have shown that the big majority in Marin are mature enough to understand responsibility and are willing to accept guidelines necessary for maintenance of law and order.

We recall the YMCA delegation which proposed and pushed through a "bill" in the Model Legislature, calling for penalties more severe for juvenile drunken drivers than for their adult counterparts.

A conference staged by our young people also supported the retention of the curfew law and laws against marijuana.

These conclusions reflect the down-to-earth thinking of young citizens who put law and order before license and freedom to experiment with whatever hits their fancy.

Why not put such minds to work in an advisory capacity in juvenile traffic court, which is being jammed with traffic violators.

Such a student advisory body may have beneficial effects in several directions.

First of all, the juvenile offender will be less inclined to feel he is being "picked on" by adult restraints if he finds a body of his student peers urging a stiff license suspension.

Students, who would take turns on the advisory "jury" will be able to see first hand some of the problems faced by the court in trying to cut down on repeat violators.

As long as the judge retains firm control over the court proceedings and has final authority on the disposition of each case, there is little likelihood that offenders will get less than they deserve. In fact, we believe that some of the penalties "recommended" by student groups may turn out to be harsher than some of the sentences handed out by a court which leans over backward to give youth a second or third chance.

The judge in charge of juvenile traffic court has changed the time of court sessions from 1:30 p.m. to 3:45 p.m. so that juvenile traffic court will not cut into the school day.

This change in time, plus an advisory body of students to suggest penalties in case of license suspension may have a sobering effect on the young violator. If the mechanics can be worked out, it sounds like a worthwhile experiment.

BOY UNDAUNTED BY STAY IN CAVE

Spending 26 hours head-downward in a V-shaped crevice under 35 feet of rock severely tried one teen-ager's nerve but he never once panicked.

The 15-year-old boy was on an outing near Medina, O., when he wandered into the cave. He slipped and fell into the crevice at a 45-degree angle.

Rescuers labored through the night to inch him loose. A tiny nurse crawled 60 feet through the narrow cave to put a rope around the boy's waist. Then another teen-ager made three trips to put straps around his legs. Neither could budge him.

Finally a 12-man rescue team was flown in. Under its direction, a board was slipped under the lad. After hours of tugging he was wrenched free.

The Lord has endowed people with the power not only to do great things but also to endure more than they ever imagined.

Be steadfast in intention, prayer and action —and you will find strength when you need it.

"When I called, You answered me; You built up strength within me." (Psalm 137:3)

Guide me, Holy Spirit, so that I may be ready for crosses and afflictions.

Taxpayers Association Sounds Warning On Brown Accrual Plan

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—One of the major subjects of controversy over Gov. Edmund G. Brown's plans to pick up some $245 million in so-called "revenue" and avoid tax increases in this election year, through adoption of the accrual system of bookkeeping, is gaining momentum in discussions on the 1966-67 fiscal year budget.

Plans of the governor are to switch to accrual, rather than cash, and thereby put revenues on paper that do not actually exist as money in the till.

ADMITTEDLY, the plan is a "one-time shot", and could not be applied to a later year, when accrual would continue, but no additional tax money would be in the offing to balance the budget.

Much has been said about the accrual system, and the general concensus is that the state could adopt it without damage to the financing operation, provided a full system were enacted, taking accruals of expenditures into consideration as well as revenues.

But this is not the intent of the Brown administration, which is going about putting the system into effect on a piecemeal basis.

NEITHER DOES the administration plan to maintain a reserve for "cash liquidity", which in layman's language means keeping enough cash on hand to meet the demands on the state treasury. This would mean the borrowing of millions of additional dollars from other funds to pay the obligations of the general fund, with resulting additional interest to be paid by the taxpayer.

The California Taxpayer's Assn. has explored the proposal. It says of the plan:

"It is an expedient structured primarily to meet the anticipated revenue-expenditures gap, and provides an undesirable degree of flexibility to the administration.

"THE IMPACT of this change on the fiscal integrity of the state and possible adverse effect on California bond sales has not been explored. There is also little incentive to further reduce expenditures."

So far, very few if any expenditures have been reduced, but as the association points out, where there is sufficient money on hand to pay the bills, there is little incentive to keep the bills to a reasonable level.

But considering the situation as it will exist next year, the association sees little chance of avoiding a tax increase to make up the $245 million the administration plans to put on paper this year. And in addition to new taxes, or increased taxes to make up the $245 million, additional increase will have to be put into effect to meet the normal and consistent expansions of state government under the Brown administration should it still be in charge after the elections.

ALL IN ALL, the association has not painted a pretty picture of state finance juggling. Rather, it puts the public on warning that the day of reckoning sometime will be here.

Medicare Signups High For Marin

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The sign-up period for Medicare for those who turned 65 before January 1 has ended — although an extension was granted. But in Marin County the job has been done, no small thanks to your splendid cooperation. It is my understanding that the sign-up rate was over 98 per cent, and that fewer than 1 per cent may not have been reached.

On behalf of those you helped many, many thanks to you and to those who helped through Marin's "Neighbors to Neighbors" reminder program.

Have-Nots Need Example

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What the have-nots need, more than anything else, is a good example of moral and fiscal integrity.

For instance, restoring the honest value to our dollars would cure "poverty" for all the people who invested in bonds, annuities and other fixed incomes, only to find that more than 50 per cent of their savings has been confiscated!

Any further tax as a hedge against inflation would be self-defeating if the revenue derived therefrom is used by government as a club to enforce its policies, or is dangled, as matching funds, before unwary citizens for projects they do not need or could better do themselves. If it were applied on the national debt, that would be a prestige builder in the national interest!

Socialism has already been tried in this country and proven a failure.

Exorbitant corporation taxes discourage expansion and employment. Excessive unemployment benefits induce people not to work and pay taxes. Inheritance and gift taxes are unfair.

The graduated income tax is unjust discrimination. Congress was told the tax would never be more than 10 per cent. Everyone should be taxed at the same rate. "The income tax is the root of all evil."

It enables government to use funds for unconstitutional, unfair competition with business and industry, causing many bankruptcies. It permits sending "foreign aid" to socialist and Communist governments, which is unconstitutional, and results in aiding enemies and hurting friends.

The U. S. should at least not be hindering Cuban patriots, or opposing Rhodesia's duly elected government, or preventing Nationalist China from liberating their homeland.

Likes Article On Marin City

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The enclosed article was clipped from the Marin Guide, and it seems to me that if the Independent - Journal printed something like this about Marin City instead of what they need and what they want, your circulation would probably increase by 10 or 20 per cent.

I for one am getting very tired of picking up the Independent-Journal every night and reading about what they want and what they have done and how much damage these people are doing in Marin City. A lot of time and money have been spent in Marin City to better living conditions from the time I first moved out here.

I too used to live in a housing project, but I worked and finally was able to leave the project; but still I don't have anything to compare with what some of the places in Marin City have today. (At least from the way it appears from the highway).

Viet Nam More Important

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of April 2 re: "Dope Problem in Marin" was read with interest, and I thought reflected some serious appreciation of the complex problems — that is until I neared the end with the reference to Dr. Spock. You say, "Perhaps Dr. Spock will one day cease putting all his energy into criticizing the government's efforts in Viet Nam and turn his attention to the problems of teaching morality to the young."

The clue to your posed problem of "teaching morality to the young" is, I think, contained (inadvertently) in your own words. May I suggest that by "putting all his energy into criticizing the government's effort in Viet Nam" Dr. Spock is in fact EXEMPLIFYING morality to the young? I say exemplify, because morality cannot be taught. It is observed, copied and absorbed by the young. Morality cannot be learned. It is lived.

Herein, I believe, lies the confusion, frustration and utter helplessness of the adult community which your editorial so sadly reflects.

Adults can't fool the kids. They're more observant than we may suspect. Years ago (both white and black) they became aware of the great gap between the "all men are equal" shibboleth ritualistically "taught" to them — and the actual behavior of their "teachers" who suppressed, starved, robbed and lynched the Negroes. Today the young are becoming increasingly aware of the magnificent hypocrisy of the U.S. government "saving" Viet Nam for democracy by suppressing, starving, burning and bombing the Vietnamese people.

You state that the use of narcotics "for kicks is plainly wrong" and "further, we must be prepared to explain why, convincingly" to the young people.

I submit that when we are able to justify "convincingly" the whole tragic morality of our being in Viet Nam, then the problem of marijuana will be as nothing.

TRY AND STOP ME

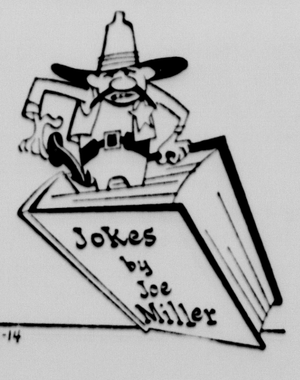
HERE ARE a couple of stories told on a "cowboy" TV program within the past fortnight, and though they date all the way back to either Joe Miller or his father, they still were good for non-sound-track laughs:

1. Poker game in a rootin', tootin' Wild West saloon. Seven participants, including the sheriff. One shifty-eyed player —the sole winner at the table— has only one eye. Sheriff lays his pearl-handled six-shooter on the table, deals, and announces, "Efn I catch any so and so cheating on this hand, I'll shoot his other eye out!"

2. Wondered the parson, "Whatever can have become of Three-Finger Mulvaney?" Spoke up a bar fly, "I got an idea, Parson. He came to town last Saturday, got likkered up, stuck his head out of a second-story window, and hollered 'Fire.' I reckon a couple of the boys took him at his word."



QUOTABLE:

"A producer once flattered me by assuring me I was the wit of two continents. Then I discovered he meant Africa and Asia."—Harry Kurnitz.

"All of us remain children most of our lives, seeking praise at any cost, relishing it most when it is deserved, taking it, nevertheless, when it is not deserved, and resenting criticism as being unfriendly, if not criminal."—Herbert Bayard.

Reapportionment, Tax Sharing Only Hope For States' Future

The public would like to see the flow of power to Washington reduced. Practically nobody does anything about it.

One reason, I think, is that they see it as a hopeless task.

But is it hopeless, is it impossible?

THERE ARE, in fact, two lines of action now within reach which could greatly strengthen state and local government without weakening the Federal government, and thus the balance would begin to readjust.

One action is to carry speedily forward, without any attempt to block it by the Dirksen Amendment, the nationwide reapportionment of the state legislatures. This is essential since there can be no rebirth of state government until the state legislatures are made responsible and responsive to the voters.

The second action is to begin to return to the states a share of the burgeoning Federal revenues, so that the states can have the means to do what can best be done on the local level. This step is being endorsed by governors of both parties, by political scientists, economists, and others.

On the basis of a task force report headed by Robert Taft Jr. and Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, the Republican Coordinating Committee has come forward with a carefully drafted plan to do it.

This is a stout beginning. But one condition must be kept everlastingly in mind if any headway is to be made toward arresting the evergrowing centralization of government.

Only by taking both of these steps can the balance of power between state and Federal government begin to be restored.

It will be of little value to reinvigorate state government politically through unimpeded reapportionment unless the states can also be reinvigorated financially through Federal tax-sharing.

This means that the Republicans will get absolutely nowhere with their initiative until the Dirksen Amedment, designed to derail or dilute the Supreme Court one-man, one-vote decision on reapportionment, is scotched. Congress isn't going to share Federal revenues with states in which a minority of voters is permanently able to dominate one house of the legislature and thus exert a veto over the whole legislature — and it shouldn't.

FEW REALIZE the vast growth of Federal grant-in-aid programs to state and local projects and institutions. In 31 years they have mounted from 18 to 140 different programs and in appropriations they have gone from $126 million to more than $10 billion annually. They involve such minute and pervasive Federal controls over local planning and operation that the states are becoming little more than disbursal units of the Federal government.

"At the worst," the Republican task force concludes, "the states will continue to sink into a morass of finnancial inadequacy and eventual bankruptcy. At best, they will become mere administrative appendages of the national government."

TOGETHER, reapportionment and tax-sharing could hold the answer.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Cuban Unrest Rising; Kremlin Bears Down

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Disaffection and unrest in Cuba are at the highest peak since Fidel Castro came to power.

That's the universal report of defecting Cuban diplomats and the hundreds of refugees weekly fleeing the Communist-ruled island. Castro has been forced to resort to mailed-fist measures to avert open outbreaks.

THE MOST deliberate of these first-hand sources carefully do not say an upheaval is imminent. But they do stress that highly inflammatory conditions and factors prevail that could readily lead to one.

Cited as foremost among these potentially eruptive forces are:

1. Three attempts to assassinate Castro and his brother Raul since the first of the year.

2. Student demonstrations at Havana University and in other cities. All have been forcibly suppressed by troops and militiamen, with many of the participants sent to heavily guarded concentration camps.

3. Establishment of numerous new prison camps. Refugees estimate they now hold more than 80,000 political and religious prisoners.

4. The food situation is steadily worsening. As of March 15, the individual rice ration per week was cut to three pounds, butter to one pound and eggs to 12 a month, and meat can be purchased only once every two weeks and then is limited to one pound.

5. Fourteen Cuban diplomats have defected since the first of the year. Only a few have been revealed — for security and other reasons. It can be reported they have provided much valuable secret information.

WITH THE SOVIET bloc pouring around $1 million a day in economic aid into Cuba, the Kremlin is steadily expanding and tightening its reins over both Castro and the island. Russian "experts" have virtually taken over control of the Cuban National Bank, the Central Economic Planning Council, operation of the sugar mills, and management of the fishing industry. The Cuban Confederation of Labor is being junked and the unions are being put under immediate Communist Party domination.

Apparently, much of this Russian ascendancy is not to Castro's liking. But he has no alternative. Since his public clash with Red China—forced by Moscow—he is wholly dependent on the Soviet.

According to refugees, the number of Cubans eager to escape the growing Soviet-type rule runs as high as 50 per cent of the 6 million population.

Significantly, the number of Negro refugees is showing a marked upward trend. According to latest Immigration Service figures, more than 600 have come to the U. S.

Inner advisers of President Lyndon B. Johnson are split over making public important information regarding conditions in Cuba.

Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., head of the Refugee Subcommittee, and Rep. Michael Feighan, D-O., head of the House Immigration Subcommittee, favor public disclousre. Feighan has indicated he may make known much information his committee has obtained if the White House doesn't act.

ONE SIGNIFICANT item reported to Feighan is that some 8,000 Russian military troops of various kinds are still in Cuba. Also that more than 225 Soviet sugar technicians and specialists are now literally running this key industry in an all-out effort to increase production—which admittedly will be below last year's output of 6 million tons.

MORRIE RYSKIND

The Bible Tells Simple Tale Of The History Of Double-Talk

If I cite the Bible now and then, it is with no pretense to any special piety. Read simply as literature, the King James version is surely English at its very best. And, like all good literature, it contains some universal truths, well worth rereading.

Take the descendants of Noah who, journeying eastward, found a promising plain in the land of Shinar and decided to settle down there.

THOUGH BASICALLY an agricultural folk, they apparently adapted themselves easily to industrialization. "They had brick for stone, and slime had they for mortar," and there is no record that this led to any serious economic dislocation.

Indeed, if one may judge by that wise adage, "Happy is that people whose annals are few," things went along swimmingly. Had there been wars or plagues or excessive income-taxes or an unbearable national dept, Genesis would surely have mentioned it. These things have a way of getting out.

But, lo, it came to pass that some whiz kids came to a town meeting and spake thus: "Verily, ours is an affluent society on the surface, for none goes hungry. But let us face it, brothers, how often do you have pie? Thanksgiving and Christmas, maybe. Why not every day?

"THE POWER STRUCTURE tells us there is plenty of pie — and angel cake — in the sky. Why should we wait when we could have it now? Go to, and let us build us a tower whose top may reach into heaven that we may partake of the pie now reserved for the overprivileged angels! Then we can all have pie daily and be a truly Great Society. Selah!"

There were some objections voiced on the ground that the proposed tower might interfere with the statues against high-rise buildings, but these were shouted down. The bill was put into the hopper at once and passed overwhelmingly, with six Progressive Republicans crossing the aisle to vote with the Democrats.

The contract went, naturally, to a stone and mortar man who had contributed heavily to the previous campaign and was a personal friend of the whiz kids.

The building began to rise, but — communication was a difficult thing then — the angel hierachy knew nothing of the plan at first. But there came a time when the tower had passed its 80th story, and the sound of the hammering began to disturb the Heavenly Choir at their hootenannies. They could hardly hear themselves play the harps.

THEY FLEW an investigator down to see what was the cause of the disturbance, and his report on the earthly doings dismayed them enough to take up the matter with the Boss.

"Heavens!" said the Head Man, studying the dossier. "This is a clear violation of the covenant I made with Noah. I must teach these earth people to stop this flagrant attempt at colonialism and stick to their own territory."

"Another flood?" asked one of the seraphim.

"No," said the Chief. "I promised Noah, if you remember, that there'd be no more floods. Wait a minute — I've got it. I'll give them the confusion of tongues." And He confounded the language of the people of Shinar, so that they could no longer understand one another's speech.

YOU KNOW the rest. That was the end of the Tower of Babel — and should have been the end of the dream of getting pie you hadn't earned. But, alas, double-talk is still with us, and there are politicos who have mastered it and turned it into a fine art.

How else do you account for the fact that the spendingest President in our history turns out a few lights in the White House and advises the housewife to buy cheaper cuts even as he unfolds plans to spend additional billions?

Or that England explains that she has no authority to prevent her nationals from trading with Hanoi, even as British warships seize a Greek tanker carrying oil to Rhodesia?

Or that we back Great Britain and boycott Rhodesia, though that latter country isn't supplying our enemy?

THERE MAY BE a better explanation of these and a thousand other contradictions. But until somebody comes along with it, I'm sticking to Genesis, 11.

Tax Collectors Must Get Tired Of Same Old Quips Every April

"What has the government ever done for me?"

"You'll have to explain it again. I didn't understand a word you said."

"IF MY CAT has kittens, can I list each one of them as a dependent? I am their sole support. Their father ran away."

"Do you think that'll satisfy you—or do you also want the gold fillings out of my teeth?"

"In the old days they used to tax salt. How come you guys overlooked that one?"

"So this is the Internal Revenue Service. Boy, I'm already nervous from the service."

"Why should I have to stand in line? I came here to pay taxes, not to watch a hit movie."

"Why don't you fellows just take what you want from my paycheck, and let me spend the rest in peace?"

"IF YOU GIVE a depreciation allowance for an oil well, why not give one for a wife? My wife spouts even more than an oil well."

"What do you guys know about business expenses? I'd like to see you have to meet a payroll — just once."

"So throw me in jail. You still can't get blood out of a turnip."

"The poor pay taxes, and the rich hire attorneys."

"I came here in place of my husband. He says he's too sick and tired to fight the government. Well, I'm not!"

"TELL UNCLE SAM for me it's time he went on a diet."

"Please inform your Mr. Lyndon B. Johnson that I do no longer feel I can support his government in the style to which it wants to become accustomed."

"Let's make a deal. You say I owe you $988; I say you owe me $576. Let's split the difference. You pay me $150 — and we'll forget the whole matter, and start all over next year."

10 YEARS AGO

First talks on merger of North Marin's two school districts, San Jose and Novato Unified, were scheduled at Pacheco School in Raphael Village.

An official of the State Division of Beaches and Parks said there was little hope that Paradise Cove Park and McNear's Beach-China Camp area would be included in the state park system.

Club Favors Park Instead Of Marincello

Homestead Valley Improvement Club directors Tuesday agreed to support the Golden Gate Headlands citizens committee in its efforts to halt development of Marincello in hope the property can be preserved as park land.

Directors also voted unanimously to recommend to the Mill Valley School District Board that Gerald G. Weisbach of Homestead be appointed to replace John G. Donhoff as trustee. Donhoff resigned Monday.

The board is backing Weisbach, reported Bernard M. Weinstein, club president, because of his civic activities, particularly in work with the school district.

An estimated operating budget of $10,000 was discussed but no action taken. Current budget is about $6,000, said Weinstein.

Novatan Gets Service Pin For Service Work

William J. Jacobi of 712 Tamalpais Avenue, Novato, has been given a 20-year pin for his work at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Jacobi served as a chief petty officer in the Navy during World War II and started his civil service career at Mare Island. He has been at Hamilton since 1955, as an electronics technician for the 78th Armament and Electronics Maintenance Squadron.

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Patrick To Talk At GOP Luncheon

William Penn Patrick of Tiburon, who seeks the Republican nomination for governor, will speak to Marin Federated Republican Women at next Tuesday's luncheon at Gregory's in Corte Madera.

A business meeting at 11:30 will be followed by luncheon at 12:15.

The Marin Federated Republican Women's luncheon on May 2 will feature a fund-raising fashion show at the newly opened San Geronimo Valley Country Club.

BRADEN FETE

Thomas W. Braden, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, will be honored at a Marin reception on April 28 from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron W. Leydecker, 12 Oakmont Court, San Rafael.

Hosts will be the Leydeckers and Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Collins of Mill Valley.

CHRISTOPHER AIDES

Thirty-three prominent Republicans in Marin were appointed this week to the steering committee for the Marin County Christopher for Governor campaign.

They met Monday night at Sabella's in Mill Valley to map campaign plans and accept committee asignments. Charles Michals of Greenbrae, executive director for the George Christopher campaign in Marin, presided.

Pipe Wrench Thief Hits In Sausalito

Pipe wrench burglars apparently struck again in southern Marin County Tuesday, sheriff's officers reported, with a residence at Eden Roc Apartments, 1 Eden Roc Drive, just outside Sausalito, looted of a small amount of jewelry, a typewriter, and a new television set.

E. R. Swiden, Apartment 357, reported the front door was forced. Marks on the door knob indicated it could have been forced by a pipe wrench. The intruders entered between noon and 4 p.m., officers said.

Burglars Take Clothes, Radio From Home

Burglars broke a rear window of the home of Fred Lee Gibson at 69 Cole Drive, Marin City, and made off with an estimated $100 worth of clothing, a radio, and eight phonograph records, sheriff's officers reported today.

Willard L. Augustine, operator of Maytag Launderette, 5951 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, told deputies someone broke open 14 of 20 washing machine coin boxes and pried open a coin-changer during open hours. Total loot was about $45, he added.

Burglars also removed an automobile stereophonic set from the car of Ronald Gene Van Bebber, 39 Ross Street, San Rafael. Van Bebber told deputies the $200 item was taken while the vehicle was parked at a Marin General Hospital parking lot.

No forced entry was evident.

Novato's Share Up On Auto License Fee

The City of Novato received $118,646 for the first and major payment from the state on its share of the auto license fees, Charles Foster, finance officer, announced today.

This compares to $100,708 for the same payment last year, he said.

Do tire ads speak with forked tongue?

Unfortunately, they often do.

And those big come-ons dissolve when you read the fine print.

$7.95 tires turn out to fit only a few old-model cars. And when the "second tire is half-price," the price on the first tire is higher than you'd usually pay.

At B.F.Goodrich, we deal in straight talk. We won't try to con you. Or confuse you with mishmash about cords, plys and miracle rubber.

All we're concerned about is selling you the right tire for your kind of driving. And we do it with something new: the BFG Tire Value Calculator.

You tell it how you drive—the speeds, the roads, the loads. Then it tells you which BFG tire suits you best.

Now, we can't promise to save you money on your next tires. But we'll try.

The straight-talk tire people. B.F.Goodrich

Today is Thursday, April 14, the 104th day of 1966 with 261 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning star is Venus; the evening star is Jupiter.

Anne Sullivan, teacher of blind and deaf Helen Keller, was born on this day in 1866.

On this day in history:

In 1775, Benjamin Franklin served as the president of the first society for the abolition of slavery, which was organized in Philadelphia.

In 1865, John Wilkes Booth crept into President Lincoln's box at Ford's Theater in Washington and shot the President, who died the next morning.

In 1890, the first International Bureau of American States, later known as the Pan American Union and now the Organization of American States, was created.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Famous Player Slips Badly, Misses Seeing Safe Way Out

There was a way out, but his foot slipped.

Opening lead — ♡ J

After much thought South allowed West to hold the first trick with the jack of hearts.

West led his other heart to dummy's king, and declarer led dummy's queen of clubs to force out the ace.

SOUTH HAS HOPES

East returned the queen of hearts to South's ace. Now South had to hope that West had the ace of spades and that he could manage to get three clubs, three spades, two hearts and one diamond.

For this purpose he needed a 3-3 break in clubs, a successful finesse against the jack of spades, and a split in the two black aces.

It was too much to hope for. East turned up with the ace of spades and ran the rest of his hearts to defeat the contract.

BETTER CHANCE

South had a better chance for his contract.

Even if East had both of the missing aces, which was a near certainty, the contract could be made if West had the doubleton J-9 or J-10 of hearts. This was not a great deal to hope for.

South must win the first trick in dummy with the king of hearts and lead the queen of clubs to force out the arce.

If East returns a low heart, South plays low and allows West to win with the nine. Then West must switch suits, and South has time to develop his tricks.

East cannot save his suit by leading the queen of hearts because then South's eight will serve as a third stopper.

Nines and eights have their uses.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. You have only 5 points in high cards, but your trump length should protect you from a disaster.

When you are short in both major suits you should stretch a point to keep the opponents out of the auction.

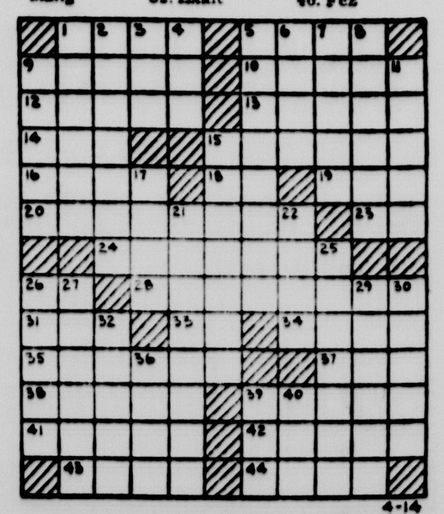
Yesterday's Answer



Car Owners Not Told Of Defects: Nader

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Auto critic Ralph Nader charged today that General Motors never notified owners of certain 1962 Pontiacs, Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Cadillacs that bearing defects could lock the steering.

"G.M. contacted dealers, not owners, and suggested that the dealers, who are suddenly called 'independent businessmen' by the auto companies, contact owners," Nader said in testimony presented to a Senate roads subcommittee.

Nader, continuing his excursion behind what he called the "chrome curtain," today broadened his criticism to include foreign car manufacturers.

He also said insurance companies have imposed "a strict lid of secrecy" on information which could promote auto safety.

Earlier, Nader told the National Highway Users Conference that Congress could eliminate 75 per cent of auto traffic deaths.

Another convention speaker, Federal Highway Chief Rex Whitton, said the purpose of the administration's auto safety proposal was to provide every American car buyer with the assurance that the vehicle he was purchasing was as reasonably safe as possible.

Whitton said the federal government had no desire to supervise design or styling. Nor, he added, did it wish to stifle innovation or stymie improvements.

Yesterday, the delegates to the users conference were told by a spokesman for the automakers that car manufacturers welcomed a larger federal role in safety but that laws dealing with safety should be left to the states.

Nader appeared at a meeting of the consumer assembly where he said stringent auto safety legislation could produce cars that would protect occupants at speeds up to over 50 miles an hour.

He said current auto designs "now kill at speeds as low as five miles an hour."

At the highway users conference, Roy Abernethy spoke for the automakers. He is president of American Motors Corp. and the Automobile Manufacturers Assn.

He said the most effective way of attacking the safety question was through the cooperation of the state and federal governments with the auto industry.

Abernethy said the current wave of criticism for the industry was blurring the fact that driving has become safer, and industry has been doing something to make things even safer.

Three Malcolm X Killers Sentenced To Life Terms

NEW YORK (AP)—The three convicted slayers of Black Nationalist leader Malcolm X were sentenced today to life terms.

The defendants were sentenced in a heavily guarded State Supreme Court room.

The three will be eligible for parole after 26 years and 8 months.

Norman 3X Butler, 27, and Thomas 15X Johnson, 30, both of the Bronx, and Talmadge (Thomas Hagan) Hayerr, 24, Paterson, N.J., were found guilty by a jury of three women and nine men — three of them Negroes—last March 11.

Malcom X, a defector from the Black Muslim sect, was cut down by shotgun and pistol fire as he stood before 400 of his followers in a Manhattan ballroom Feb. 21, 1965.

Ad Protests Income Tax Payment

WASHINGTON (AP)—An advertisement in the Washington Post today, the day before income taxes are due, protested the payment of federal income taxes because of U.S. involvement in war.

It carried the names of some 350 persons headed by Joan Baez of Carmel.

It said, "We will refuse to pay our federal income taxes voluntarily."

Internal Revenue Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen expressed confidence "that with rare exceptions American citizens will fulfill their obligation this year as they have in the past. In those exceptional cases, Internal Revenue Service will take appropriate action in fairness to the many millions of taxpayers who do fulfill their obligations."

Folksinger Joan Baez, has protested in the past against paying income taxes. She has said she is a pacifist.

The advertisement said the U.S. government has not reacted constructively to legitimate criticisms, protests and appeals and, "We believe the ordinary channels of protest have been exhausted and that the time has come for Americans of conscience to take more radical action in the hope of averting nuclear war."

Income Tax Law To Gain State Added Revenue

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill increasing by $3 million annually the inocme taxes paid by persons who earn only a part of their incomes in California has been signed into law by Gov. Edmund G .Brown.

The bill by Assemblyman Nicholas Petris, D-Oakland, provides that when a person pays tax on only part of his annual income, he will be entitled only to a proportionate part of his exemptions and deductions.

Under the old law, a person who earned part of his income in the state was entitled to full exemptions and deductions.

Brown also signed another Petris bill yesterday establishing a uniform method of dividing corporate income of multistate corporations. It provides for an off-setting credit against the California use tax for sales or use taxes paid in another state.

Economists Ask 'Value' Tax As Inflation Curb

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Council for Economic Development believes the federal government should give serious consideration to a "value-added" tax on business.

If taxes have to be raised to finance the war in Viet Nam and head off inflation, the value-added tax would be a good way of raising them, the CED said yesterday.

The committee defined its proposed tax as a "flat rate, unduplicated tax at the business level on the increase in the value of the products as they pass through successive firms in the production and distribution process." For example, a company which paid $1 million for raw materials and sold finished goods for $2 million would be taxed on the $1 million value added.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE—EXECUTION
No. 127 323

SHERIFF'S OFFICE,) COUNTY OF MARIN) ss.
STATE OF CALIFORNIA)

BY VIRTUE of an execution issued out of the Municipal Court for the Oakland-Piedmont Judicial District, County of Alameda, State of California, in an action wherein Wilfred E. Fitzgerald, et al, plaintiff, and Roy Wertheimer, defendant, upon a judgment rendered on the 27th day of February, 1962, in favor of said Wilfred E. Fitzgerald and Zelda B. Fitzgerald and against said Roy Wertheimer, for the sum of Four Thousand Five Hundred Ninety Four and 91 100 dollars, in Lawful money of the United States, besides costs and interest, I have this day levied upon all the right, title, claim, and interest of said defendant, Roy Wertheimer, in and to all that real property situated in the Central Judicial District, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows, to wit:

BEGINNING at a point on the Southerly boundary line of the Golf Course Tract at an angle point in said boundary formed by the intersection of the two courses, "South 51° 56' 40" East 223.423 feet and South 70° 10' 20" East 556.995 feet," in the description of said Golf Course Tract, as described in that certain lease from San Anselmo Holding Company, a corporation, to H. Redwood Newspaper Earns Top Ratings

Redwood High School's student newspaper, the Bark, has been awarded a first class honor rating for the fall, 1965, semester by the National Scholastic Press Assn.

The Bark scored 3,555 out of possible 4,000 points at the University of Minnesota School of Journalism, a rating topped only by the All-American award. Entries are judged from coverage through writing and make-up.

WALTER B. HOFMANN
Body found in canal

Body Of Drowned Man Is Recovered

The body of Walter B. Hofmann, who drowned when a boat capsized Tuesday in San Rafael Canal, was found by grappling hooks at 1:35 p.m. yesterday after a day-long search by San Rafael police and sheriff's officers and the Coast Guard.

Hofmann, 58, of 263 Forrest Avenue, Fairfax, a waiter at the New Tivoli Restaurant in San Francisco, drowned after he, his wife, Edith, and friends Arthur T. Boericke of 18 Power Lane, Fairfax, and Herman A. Fiedler of San Francisco were thrown from the boat.

The others reached shore safely. The accident happened when the four were returning from an afternoon on Marin Island and were about halfway from the island to the Loch Lomond Yacht Harbor.

The body was brought to a landing on Beach Road and turned over to the coroner. An autopsy showed death was from drowning.

Hofmann, a native of Hamburg, Germany, was a 15-year resident of Fairfax. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Claudia Hofmann, 14.

A memorial service will be conducted for Hofmann at 4 p.m. April 23, at the Unitarian-Universalist Church, San Rafael. The family has requested tributes be contributions to the Claudia Hofmann Scholarship Fund, in care of the Bank of America, Fairfax.

Valuable Penny Is Stolen

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—A copper penny with a 1943 date worth as much as $4,000 was stolen from a local collector.

Police feel certain that the thief who took the collection had no idea of the value of the penny and has probably long since put it in circulation.

The U.S. Treasury Department says only aluminum alloy pennies were made in 1943. But collectors say they know of at least three copper pennies dated that year. Two or more are known to exist in private collections on the East Coast.

Artificial Flavors Go A Very Long Way

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI) —Synthetic flavors can be so concentrated that one gallon of flavoring can give flavor to 2 million glasses of carbonated beverages.

Rutgers University's College of Agriculture and Environmental Science contrasts that with the 30 pounds of fruit it takes to make one gallon of natural fruit extract.

For Picnics, Though

WASHINGTON (UPI) —So-called "picnic hams" sold by butchers are really not hams at all, but come from the front shoulders of the hog, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Board Hears Concrete Arguments

A three-way argument about concrete testing at the Novato Fire District board meeting last night wound up with agreement to let the insurance companies figure who must pay approximately $800 cost of replacing a 250-foot section of paving.

About three weeks ago a section of six-inch thick concrete was poured in the San Marin station. Tests were made by the building inspector for architects Gromme and Priestley. The inspector ordered the concrete removed as having too much water content.

Everett Pozzi, who furnished the concrete, hired the full crew of Contractor E. H. Chapman and his own men to remove the fast-hardening concrete. Pozzi claimed the concrete should have been tested immediately as it came from the truck, but was allowed to partially harden before the test was made.

It cost $300 to remove the wet concrete and replace it, he reported.

He declared indignantly that it was the first batch of concrete in his 27 years in business which had not passed a test.

Fire district directors decided they had no jurisdiction in the dispute, which was among the insurance companies of the architect, contractor and Pozzi.

Chapman said the building would be completed the first week in May.

Tassajara (valley in Contra Costa County) was named from Tasajera, a place where strings of beef or venison (jerky) are hung out in the sun to dry.

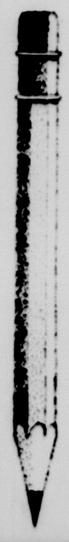
there are 28 lightly used Redwood Parks in our district now... can we afford more?

let's put the parks where the people are!

Some 28 redwood parks already encompass well over 100,000 acres of Northern California redwoods. Attendance at most of them has been declining for three years. Less than two percent of these park areas have picnic and camp sites. Yet current, irresponsible park proposals would take even more of your tax dollars to seize many more thousands of tax-paying acres in the remote, northernmost tip of California for additional park lands . . . lands not needed for the preservation of park-type redwoods. Let's spend our tax dollars for parks where people can enjoy them.

don't "PARK" jobs and payrolls

If these irresponsible redwood park plans were to be adopted, the economy of the northern half of our Congressional District would be irreparably damaged. The growth of the forest products industry would be choked off. Every business in the Redwood Region would suffer. Thousands more acres would come off our Congressional District's tax rolls. Drastic unemployment and higher taxes would be the result.



You can help put the parks where they will be used...

It would 1) Increase redwood park lands to over 115,000 acres. 2) Make practically all the finest old-growth, park-type redwoods available for park lands. 3) Keep at least 260,000 acres of privately owned land open for outdoor recreation.

Bolin Wins, Now Herbel And Shaw Get Chance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pitching, supposedly the San Francisco Giants' premier problem for 1966, looks like their biggest asset so far.

Of course the Cubs finished eighth in 1965. And the season is only two days old going into today's game.

"I figured this year I'd be a starting pitcher instead of a reliever," said Bolin, who posted a 14-6 record last year.

Bob Shaw came out of the bullpen last year and became the Giants' No. 2 man behind Marichal. But Shaw reported late to camp this year because of his holdout. He may start tomorrow night against Houston with Saturday another possibility should Jaun want an extra day rest.

The Giants spoiled the comeback attempt of Ernie Broglio last night. The big right-hander, a 21-game winner six years ago, was only 1-6 last season because of a slow recovery from arm surgery.

A first-inning single by Hal Lanier, followed by a walk to Len Gabrielson and Willie McCovey's single got the Giants one run—all they needed—in the first inning.

But they took advantage of Broglio's wildness in the third for three more scores. Willie Mays and McCovey walked. Jim Hart singled, but Mays was thrown out at the plate.

The runners advanced on a wild pitch. Jesus Alou brought in one run with a sacrifice fly. Tito Fuentes knocked in another with a single and Tom Haller, who had been intentionally passed, also scored when Cub left fielder George Altman let the ball get through him for an error.

"I couldn't understand my wildness," said Broglio. "I had good control all spring. But my arm feels good, I feel good and I'm generally encouraged."

While Broglio was surrendering six hits and as many walks, Bolin cruised along. He walked none, although he hit a batter and threw one wild pitch.

The Cubs got more than one man on base only in the third inning when a bunt single and the hit batsman put runners on first and second. But Bolin struck out dangerous Billy Williams for the third out.

"That's the first time I've ever got Williams out four times in one game," said Bolin, who struck him out the first two times. "I think he was guessing after the first time. When he expected a change, Tom (Haller) called for a fast ball. And when he was looking for the fast ball, I threw the change."

Bolin said he "never did try a curve ball, except twice. I expect to get faster later."

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

Hogan Heads Mill Valley Golf; Marin's Mature Cyclists Unite

HEADLINE: "Hogan Heads Mill Valley Junior Golfers!" Don't get excited. It's not Ben Hogan, but young Kevin Hogan who last week was elected president of the M.V. junior duffers.

SPEAKING OF local angles, there was a great one in the Masters tourney last weekend: Billy Casper and Bob Rosburg shot identical scores of 297 to win $1,770 each.

Casper, as you all know, represents San Rafael's Peacock Gap on the pro tour while Rosburg is golf director for the National Golf Courses Inc., of which the new San Geronimo links is a member.

SAN RAFAEL photographer Ken "Click" Molino, owner of a new Italian Ducata Monza motorcycle, is organizing what he calls a "Three M.C. Club."

That stands for Marin County Mature Citizens Motorcycle Club. "No dues, no meetings, no nothing," says Kandid Ken. "Membership is open to anyone over 40."

Since I have a bike (the kind you pump, Bunkie), Molino says he'll make me an honorary member.

HEY, WHAT has the Burch family of San Rafael got against the University of Santa Clara?

In recent baseball action Marin Catholic High pitcher Ben Burch beat the Santa Clara frosh, 5-4; and a few days later his older brudder, Frank, pitched the USF varsity to a 9-5 win over the Santa Clara varsity.

GOVERNOR BROWN gave away free eye shades at Candlestick Tuesday with, of course, his name prominently displayed on them. I overheard some Republican snap: "Just what I always thought—a shady politician."

YES, YOU can buy Giant tickets in Marin. Roos-Atkins at the Northgate Shopping Center in San Rafael is the local ducat agency for the Candlestick capers.

RANCHO BUENA VISTA, the popular La Paz, Mexico fishing and vacation resort, sends along news that architects Jack Hermann of Kentfield and Allan Steman of Belvedere caught mucho deep sea fish on a recent outing.

GREG KAST, who helped Redwood High to two straight golf championships in 1963-64, is now No. 1 golfer for Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Bahston. He's only a soph.

Some Red-Hot Shooting As Hawks Trim Lakers 131-127

ST. LOUIS (AP) — If there were any disappointed St. Louis Hawks after last night's rousing 131-127 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers, it probably was Bill Bridges. He kept moaning about the rebound shortage.

"I can't believe I got only 11," he said.

But the way the Western Division playoffs of the National Basketball Association heated up the reason was clear. Almost everything that went up, went in.

To prolong the best-of-seven series to a seventh game, the Hawks had to overcome the Lakers' 50.5 per cent shooting from the field with 52.5 per cent of their own. Their shooting forced the teams' return to Los Angeles for the deciding game tomorrow night. The winner will meet the Boston Celtics for the NBA title.

"There weren't many baskets given away," said Hawks' Coach Richie Guerin, who hit eight of 16 himself, "although you wouldn't think so from the score."

Laker Coach Fred Schaus agreed.

"I was disgusted after we lost Sunday," he said, "but I thought we played well in this game. We made the Hawks take the shots we wanted them to take, but they hit them. They're not usually an outcourt shooting team."

"I told my boys at the quarter and again at the half that the Lakers are shooting the heck out of the basket, but couldn't keep that up," Guerin said. His club managed a 36-36 first quarter tie and a 69-68 halftime lead, although the Lakers shot better than 60 per cent and the Hawks "only" 56 per cent.

Braves To Appeal Antitrust Decision

Next Step To Be State High Court

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Braves said today they will appeal a Wisconsin court decision which ordered them back to Milwaukee unless that city is given a National League team in 1967 by May 16.

"We believe that the Wisconsin court has exceeded its jurisdiction and has no rightful power to make us breach our lease in Georgia," said William Bartholomay, chairman of the board for the Braves.

"We have a 25-year Georgia lease requiring us to play our home games in Atlanta Stadium. The Braves have no leases, contracts or any other connections in the state of Wisconsin.

"The Atlanta Braves will fulfill their obligation to the people of the Southeast, who have accorded the team a tremendous receiption, Bartholomay said.

"The Braves shall appeal the Wisconsin decision. We are confident our legal position is sound, that no state can regulate or rearrange a national spot, and that the ruling will be reversed on appeal."

The Braves, who played in Milwaukee 13 years, were found guilty of violating Wisconsin's antitrust laws by moving South for the 1966 season.

They have played two games in Atlanta, both before Wisconsin Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller announced his decision last night.

Bartholomay said he had not been in contact with National League officials, but he added he understands the league also will appeal the state court ruling.

"There is no more possibility of the Braves playing in Milwaukee, Wis., than there is of the New York Yankess or any of the other major league teams," he said.

He said he believes the Braves' appeal will be filed in the Wisconsin Supreme Court. He decined to speculate on possible later court steps, if they are needed.

"We were disappointed by the ruling because we don't like to lose in court or on the field," he said. "But I will say that I was not surprised by the decision."

OFF AND RUNNING—Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers gets his first stolen base of the season, beating Houston catcher John Bateman's throw to shortstop Sonny Jackson in the first inning of last night's game in Los Angeles. It was the first of two steals by Wills.

Stage Fright For Koufax?

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax must have had stage fright.

What else could account for his fumbling performance in his first start of the 1966 baseball season?

Koufax, who ended his 32-day holdout and his movie career at the same time two weeks ago, was battered from the mound in the fourth inning last night in Houston's 7-6 victory over Los Angeles.

The brilliant left-hander glittered in the first inning, but there was nothing award-winning about his performance after that. He gave up five runs on five hits and two walks and was around long enough only to pitch to one batter in the fourth inning.

Although Koufax encountered such games last season — however rare — he never made an error. He did against the Astros, though, and that's what led him off the stage.

After Sonny Jackson beat out an infield single with one out in the third inning, Jim Wynn grounded to the mound. Koufax fumbled the ball for an error, and the Astros had two runners on.

Dave Nicholson struck out for what would have been the third out, but Bob Aspromonte singled for one run and Joe Morgan clouted a homer for three more.

The Dodger ace, who last year won his first start plus 25 more, thus departed with a fielding average of .000, a mere 1,000 points below his showing in 1965 when he accepted 46 chances flawlessly.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh whipped Atlanta 6-0, San Francisco defeated Chicago 4-0 and Philadelphia nipped St. Louis 3-2 in 12 innings. Rain washed out New York at Cincinnati for the third straight day.

After Morgan's homer gave the Astros a 5-3 lead, John Roseboro tied it with a two-run homer. The Astros finally won it in the ninth when Chuck Harrison singled, was sacrificed to second and raced home as Rusty Staub singled.

Law stopped Atlanta while Willie Stargell and Donn Clendenon each hit two-run homers. Stargell added two other hits and drove in another run.

John Herrnstein's pinch-hit, run-scoring single in the 12th inning carried Philadelphia past St. Louis. Rich Allen singled with two out and stole second before Herrnstein singled. Allen also figured in the Phillies' other two runs with a single and a double.

Tam Nine Crushes Redwood

Tamalpais High's baseball team crushed Redwood in Marin Athletic League action, 14-3, as Gary Draper and Ron Gilliam teamed to toss a two-hitter at the Giants, yesterday on the Redwood diamond.

The game was marred in the seventh inning by a fight which caused Tam's catcher Gary Stephens and shortstop Steve Woodward and Redwood's second baseman Jay Capell to be tossed out of the game.

The Redwood baseballers committed 12 big errors before it was all over, but the Tam moundsmen and batters could have cared less. The Indians chased three Redwood hurlers off the mound, mounting a 10-hit barrage before the Giants' nightmare ended. And Tam sent 11 men to bat in the sixth.

Draper went the first three innings, struck out 2 and walked one before being relieved by Gilliam, who fanned 3 and issued 7 bases on balls.

Jim Garret started for the Giants but was knocked out of the box after 1⅓ innings. Bill Pool was tagged with the loss.

The Indians are now 1-1 in league play, and Redwood has an 0-2 won-loss record.

Tar Netters Win, 6-1

College of Marin's tennis team won its sixth straight match yesterday when the Tar netters whipped Vallejo J.C. 6-1 in a non-conference scrap on the losers' courts.

The Tars' overall record this season is 6-2, including a 5-0 mark in Golden Valley Conference action.

Singles winners for Marin were Greg Parkerson, 6-4, 6-2; John Zwieg, 6-4, 6-3; Jeffery Herr, 6-1, 6-0; Ron Theisen, 6-1, 6-0; Steve Spurling, 6-1, 6-2.

Doubles winners were Theisen-Zwieg, 7-5, 6-3.

Stanky Again Proves He Is No Conformist; Let's Wait 'N See

HANLEY

Eddie Stanky never was a conformist. So it really came as no surprise when he pooh-poohed a basic belief held sacrosanct by other baseball managers. "The most insignificant part of managing is handling men," said Stanky, new manager of the Chicago White Sox

Perhaps the man who was known as The Brat when he played second base for the pennant-winning Giants of the early '50s has a valid point. Perhaps there is a fallacy in the concept that the key to managerial success is in handling men.

IT WOULDN'T be the first time that universally accepted axioms have been challenged successfully. But Stanky must still prove his point. The best proof he could offer would be a White Sox pennant this year.

"I've never heard of one manager being fired because of the way he handled men," said Stanky.

Maybe baseball owners who become disenchanted with managers never have cited that as a reason for a firing. But it definitely has been a contributing cause of dismissal in at least two specific cases.

TAKE, FOR example, the case of Bill Rigney's midseason dismissal in 1960 as manager of the Giants. Rigney became involved in a delicate player problem that revolved around Orlando Cepeda and Willie McCovey. Cepeda, then as now, couldn't play left field and Rigney ultimately moved the Bull back to first base. When he did, Rigney said: "I'm making the move even if it costs me by job."

It did. Horace Stoneham fired him a couple of days after he made the move. Now, it isn't illogical to conclude from the timing of the two events that there was some connection. Of course, Stoneham didn't cite Rigney's handling of the Cepeda-McCovey problem of 1960 as the reason for Rigney's dismissal but it assuredly was a contributing factor.

FRANK LANE didn't fire Joe Gordon in 1960 as the Cleveland Indians slipped into fourth place in August when they were supposed to be leading the American League. Lane, living up to his reputation as baseball's greatest trader, swapped Gordon for Jimmy Dykes of the Detroit Tigers. It was the first time managers ever had been traded.

The unique swap of managers obscured Lane's reason for getting rid of Gordon. Only this spring in Arizona, Lane disclosed the underlying reason. "Joe was in a personality clash with Billy Martin and would not play Martin at second base," said Lane.

NOTWITHSTANDING the 1960 cases of Rigney and Gordon, Stanky may be right in his belief that handling men is an insignificant part of managing. Still, the record doesn't support him. It's up to Stanky to prove the record wrong.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New Baltimore Dance Called Robinson Rock

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baltimore is doing the Robinson Rock, a swinging new step that could make a lot of American League pitchers look like monkeys before this season is over.

It's really a simple step. First Frank Robinson works over an opposing pitcher. If the hurler still shows any signs of fight, Brooks Robinson steps in and finishes the job.

The Robinson boys continued their steady tatoo against the Boston Red Sox yesterday as the Orioles completed a two-game sweep 8-1. In the only other American League game played, Minnesota used an eighth inning home run by Tony Oliva to get past Kansas City 5-3.

The Robinsons practiced their thunder and lightning routine on Dave Morehead after the Red Sox starter had struck out the first two batters he faced. Then Frank pounded his second homer of the season and Brooks followed with his No. 2.

That was enough for Jim Palmer, who limited the Red Sox to five hits and walloped a two-run homer of his own in the second. Paul Blair ripped a bases-loaded double for three more runs in the eighth.

The homers brought the Robinsons' two-day haul in Fenway Park to a combined 7-for-18 including four homers and six runs batted in.

Minnesota was trailing Kansas City 3-2 with Athletics' rookie Paul Lindblad working on four shutout innings of relief in the eighth when the Twins rallied.

With two out, Zoilo Versalles singled and moved up on Sandy Valdespino's hit. Then Oliva walloped his first homer into the bullpen in right center field, 420 feet away.

Kansas City had taken advantage of some shoddy Minnesota fielding for two runs against starter Camilo Pascual in the fourth. Ken Harrelson singled and came all the way around on Ed Charles' hit when Harmon Killebrew let athrow from the outfield skip past him. Charles then stole third and scored when Earl Battey's throw went into left field.

Cassius Is Claiming Hardship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cassius Clay, the heavyweight boxing champion, is appealing his 1-A draft classification on grounds of hardship, a National Selective Service spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the fact that Clay has filed an appeal in Kentucky means he did not seek to be classified as a conscientious objector. This would not be done through the appeal procedure.

Clay recently was reclassified from 1-Y, qualified for military service only in the event of a national emergency to 1-A, available for service at any time.

Last week Clay escaped a 30-day jail sentence in Miami for contempt of court by two hours when, his lawyer said, friends provided $26,250 to pay two months back alimony, $23,500 of legal fees and $250 for expenses of Sonji for a trip to Miami.

Clay is a member of the Black Muslim sect and prefers to be known as Muhammad Ali. Because of his Black Muslim membership there have been reports he would seek to be classified as a conscientious objector.

U.S. Amateur Cagers Arrive

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — The United States amateur basketball team arrived here last night for the world championships without four of its leading players.

All America Cazzie Russell, Oliver Darden and John Clawson of the University of Michigan and Lance Olson of Michigan State remained home because of academic pressures. They are being replaced by Darrel Carrier of Western Kentucky, Jay Miller of Notre Dame, Warren Rustand of Arizona and Leon Clark of Wyoming.

DETROIT (UPI) — Outfielder Gates Brown and catcher Bill Breeham of the Detroit Tigers hit the first grand slam home runs of their major league careers in 1965.

Swimming Coach Named For Yanks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Gambril, coach of the City of Commerce swimming team, has been named coach of a U.S. team that will compete in Russia in July.

Seals Lose Playoff Opener To Victoria

Vancouver and Victoria had little trouble turning back the American invaders last night as the Western Hockey League semifinals for the Lester Patrick Cup opened.

Vancouver dumped Portland's Buckaroos, regular season champs and last year's winner of the cup, 8-4, while Victoria tripped San Francisco 6-3 in a game protested by the California manager.

Vancouver broke a 3-3 tie with four goals in the second period and coasted to the victory that gave the Canucks the first game in the best-of-seven series.

The three who led the league in scoring continued their hot pace. Portland's Cliff Schmautz, who ended the season with 104 points, had a goal and an assist. Teammate Art Jones, tied with Vancouver's Billy McNeill with 102 points, had two goals and McNeill topped them both with a pair of goals and an assist. Brian Hextall also had two goals for Vancouver.

San Francisco manager Bud Poile fired off a wire to Al Leader, WHL president, protesting the fact his Seals had been forced to use Bob Gray, an amateur in the nets.

"All the other clubs are able to play pros," Poile said after the game. "I don't see why we should be forced to play an amateur."

Jack McCartan, regular Seal goalie is out with an injured knee, and Leader ruled earlier the San Francisco club would have to use Gray.

The Seals also protested the first Victoria goal that tied the score at 1-1 early in the first period. It came when Gray dropped to his knees to try to stop a backhander by Lou Jankowski, who wheeled back and fired in the rubber. The Seals said the whistle should have blown but they were overruled.

Milan Marcetta and Fred Hucul had two goals each for Victoria and Wayne Connelly had a pair for San Francisco.

The series resumes in Victoria Saturday. Portland and Vancouver meet again in the Canadian city tomorrow.

TIRED JUDGE—Circuit Judge Elmer Roller (right) talks to Wisconsin Attorney General Bronson La-Follette after coming out of his chambers last night. The judge worked 37 straight hours on the Milwaukee Braves antitrust ruling before announcing his decision. (UPI Telephoto)

Judge Roller Worked 37 Sleepless Hours

By RUDI SCHIFFER

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The National League Braves faced the possibility today of being the only major league baseball tea min history to be welcomed in two cities in the same season.

"If the Braves return to Milwaukee they will be mobbed," said Willard Stafford, the attorney who had led Wisconsin's forces in successful prosecution of the state's antitrust suit against baseball.

"I don't mean it will be an angry mob," the silver-haired lawyer said. "It would be more of a second honeymoon.

Stafford said, "I think this trial has purged the ill feeling of the average fan — and one thing is sure — we can do better than 10,000 attendance on the second night."

The remark referred to the 12,721 fans the Braves drew at their second game in Atlanta last night.

"FAIR"

Stafford described as "reasonable and fair" the court ruling won by Wisconsin last night ordering the Braves to return from Atlanta unless Milwaukee is granted a 1967 expansion team by May 16.

"The next move is up to baseball," Stafford said.

Atty. Gen. Bronson La Follette, third generation member of a Wisconsin political dynasty, had no ready answer for enforcement of any state contempt action that might arise if the order was ignored.

"It's premature to speculate on what course of action we would take if other states didn't cooperate on any contempt actions," said La Follette.

Auto dealer Allen H. (Bud) Selig, president of the Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club, Inc., which was turned down last December in its request for a 1966 expansion team, said, "We are ready, willing and able to immediately begin the active running of a Milwaukee franchise."

SOLACE

Amid hometown optimism, there was even solace offered to Atlanta by Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis.

"I would go so far as to say that even the citizens of Atlanta might hopefully share in the rightness of this decision," Zablocki said. "They can do so because the legal principles applied here might also someday protect them from the same sort of base commercial rape attempted in Milwaukee by the Braves owners."

The decision was handed down about 10 p.m., EST, yesterday by Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller, who had worked 37 hours without sleep to complete the 176-page ruling.

Judge Roller had arrived at the courtroom at 9 a.m., EST, Tuesday. His wife, Eunice, and their attractive daughter Jeanne, 18, came by early yesterday to pick him up.

APPEARED HAGGARD

They were still there at 5:30 p.m., trying to get the 64-year-old judge to go home and rest.

Roller appeared and told newsmen that he had nearly finished but would have to inform attorneys of the decision before releasing it. He appeared haggard with a white bristle on his face.

"I told him I thought he should come home and all he said was, 'Yes, dear, yes, dear,' and showed me out of the chambers," said his daughter.

La Follette spent 13 hours in the vigil. The youthful attorney general said, "I've had two children and waiting for them wasn't as bad as this."

It's Hail To Baseball, Yachting, And Farewell To Skiing Season

It's hail and farewell this week. Hail to baseball and the opening day of sailing season on May 1, and farewell to a great ski winter. It's been fun to report the activities of Marinites on the slopes in the Sierra and on trips to Colorado and Utah. We hope to see you on the hills next season.

But, there's still one big last fling before we store the skis and boots away for the summer.

TOP NOTCH racers expected include Jimmy Heuga of Tahoe City, member of the U.S. Olympic team, and Nancy Greene of Canada, who last year clowned it up on the kangaroo jump in a red flannel granny gown and skis.

By race time, the three feet of wet snow which last Saturday's storm brought will be packed down into a fast course.

So, pack a gourmet lunch with lots of cold beer or iced wine to stow in the snow, take the lift up Lincoln and find a nice rock onw hich to spread out, watch the races and get a suntan.

FOR THOSE skiers who just never give up, there's the Squaw Valley Memorial Day Race, Sunday, May 29; and on July 3 the Mid-Summer Derby will be held at Squaw. For information, drop a line to Hans van Nolde, Squaw Valley, Tahoe City.

THE SHOW OF the Western Winter Sports Representatives Assn., which presents all the new equipment and clothes for the next season (wholesale only), will be in San Francisco on May 1 through 5.

If you really have ski fever, join the ski tour to Portillo, Chile, departing on July 2, under auspices of the Far West Ski Assn.

Clarke's Records Approved

OSLO (AP) — The International Amateur Athletic Federation has recognized two performances by Australian long-distance runner Ron Clarke as world records.

The Norwegian Athletic Association said today it had been informed by the IAAF that Clark's 27 minutes, 39.4 seconds for the 10,000 meters and his 26:47.0 for six miles now were listed as world marks.

Clarke held the previous record for the 10,000 meters — 28:15.6. The former record for the six-mile run was 27:11.6 by Billy Mills and Gerry Lindgren of the United States.

Big Boxing Card Tonight For San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Charley Shipes of Oakland battles to defend his California state welterweight boxing title tonight facing San Jose's Henry Aldrich at the San Francisco Civic Auditorium.

They'll got at 12 rounds or less for the title and each of the 147-pounders has lost but one bout in his pro career. Shipes took over the state title when Gabe Terronez retired and has successfully defended it, the last time with an easy victory over Al Andrews.

Ridzik To Phils

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Some Striped Bass Are Still Swimming In San Pablo Bay

STEVENS

The report from Ben Shintaku of 60 Main Bait Shop at Isleton tells the tale of striper striving in the hinterland. Says Ben: Combined with Easter, unupredictable weather and a sardine shortage, Sunday's take of bass was disappointing." Saturday's score, however, is proof that the fish are willin gto cooperate, but merely an overabundance of bad weather and a shortage of anglers on Sunday caused many to doubt.

The action on Saturday, even though the afternoon was wet, proving the fish are still around and eager to do battle. Here are a few of Saturday's results at various points: At Uncle Bob's on Saturday 17 boats took 28 bass to 17 pounds — B. Ramus and wife each had a limit to 17 pounds.

AT CURLEY'S place 25 boats came in with 63 bass to 24 pounds. From Louie Patrick's place on 3 Mile Slough 17 boats landed 22 stripers to 20 pounds, mostly on cut bait. Considering the adverse condition it seems like a pretty good score.

A tale with great suspence but with a happy ending is told of two avid anglers, Mas Teba and Maki Matsumoto. Seems that the boys laid their catch on the boat ramp while collecting the gear. One 20-pound striper flopped and flopped until he gained the water where he sank out of sight. There were loud lamentations from the two fishermen, but Curley told them not to worry but watch. In 10 minutes the 20-pounder appeared at the surface, where he was quickly scooped up.

NOW FOR a quick look-see at what has happened locally. Stripers are still hanging around in San Pablo Bay. Alice Quan of China Camp reported spotty fishing part of the weekend due to adverse weather and rather few customers. One boat, we know, took fairly easy limits on Saturday. Several other skiffs had fish. Not so good on Sunday but at around noon on Monday oe boat registered 7 bass, all large fish.

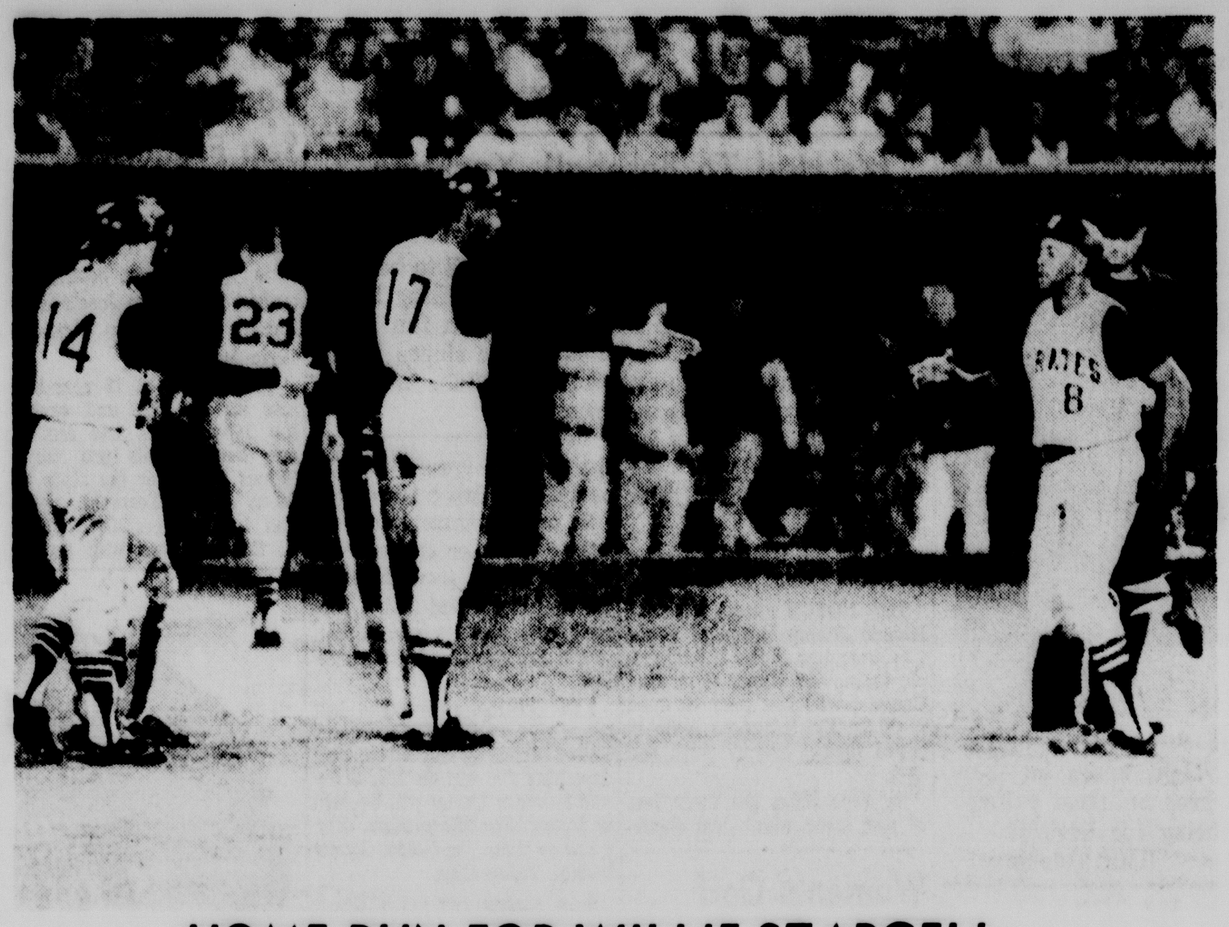
LEE ANDERSON'S bait shop in Oakland reported the Sea Horse on Monday taking 25 salmon to 25 pounds and the Miss Dragnet had 19 to 25 pounds, both boats working the Duxbury area. Hal Boener told me the scuttlebutt has it that trolling for bass on the Berkeley Flats is perking. We should hear more soon.

From China Camp comes word that flounders and redtail perch are being caught and that's good news.



HOME RUN FOR WILLIE STARGELL

Pittsburgh Pirate Willie Stargell is greeted by teammates Donn Clendenon (17) and Gene Alley (14) after hitting a home run in the third inning against the Atlanta Braves yesterday. The Pirates went on to blank the Braves 6-0 on Vernon Law's four-hitter. (UPI Telephoto)

Nicklaus Is Top Choice In Tourney Of Champs

LAS VEGES, Nev. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, tired and happy but still soewhat puzzled by the golf galleries in his Masters triumph, occupied the role of favorite today as play began in the $100,000 Tournament of Champions.

Twenty-six professionals, including defending champion Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper, Doug Sanders and Gary Player, who were rated pretty well behind Nicklaus in pre - tournament speculation, were on hand for a shot at the $20,000 top money.

Nicklaus said he was a trifle weary from travel after his unprecedented repeat victory in the Masters at Augusta, Ga., Monday, and he promised no miracles, especially in the first round or two.

"When a tournament ends on a Sunday, I'm generally back in form by Thursday. In this case, I might be a day or so late," said the good-natured big bear from Columbus, Ohio.

Betting - minded Las Vegas golf fans rated Nicklaus the favorite and Palmer and Casper co-choices for second, with Sanders and Player next in line.

Nicklaus was asked about the gallery conduct at the Masters. He said he thinks a "new element" in fans is coming into golf.

He was not critical of what appeared to be a pro - Arnold Palmer sentiment and said:

"I felt that the same people who were happy with a bad shot I made in one round were happy with a good one I made the next day. I think they didn't want anyone to run away with the tournament."

This was a reference to Nicklaus' runaway with the Masters one year ago.

Nicklaus said it seemed to him that most of the vocal reaction came from youngsters in the gallery and that some of the conduct was not in keeping with the dignity of golf.

"You expect boos and cheers in baseball, in football and some other sports, but not in golf," he said.

The big redhead was sharply critical of some of the reactions expressed by the crowd at the play of underdog Gay Brewer, who got into a three-way playoff with himself and Tommy Jacobs.

Nicklaus said he heard the crowd cheer when Brewer missed a putt on the 18th green last Sunday and said this was most unfair to Brewer.

Azalea Open Golf Tourney Starts Today

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — The "hungry golfers" tournament, the 18th annual Azalea Open, began today with a field of 140, composed chiefly of lesser lights on the PGA tour and area players.

Most of the stars are at Las Vegas, Nev., for the Tournament of Champions or are leisurely making their way to Dallas for next week's tournament.

Officials say the minimum purse of $20,000 may be nearer $30,000 when pay-off time comes after the 72nd hole Sunday.

Randy Glover, the sturdy little Florence, S.C., professional who has been winning money instead of tournaments, staked a claim to the role of favorite with an eight-under-par 64 in Wednesday's pro-amateur preliminary.

Play Resumes Tonight In NHL Stanley Cup Series

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Stanley Cup playoffs resume in Toronto and Detroit tonight with both home teams decided underdogs now in the National Hockey League's best-of-seven playoff competition.

The Leafs, down 0-3 to Montreal's powerful Canadiens, are in a bad way especially. The Red Wings are a little better off. They trail the Chicago Black Hawks, 1-2 in games.

Despite his team's standing, Toronto Coach Punch Imlach looks at the future optimistically. "Nothing's impossible," he said. "It depends on how much you want something."

Only one team in playoff history — the 1942 Maple Leafs — has overcome a 3-0 deficit. Toronto dropped three in a row to Detroit that year in the Cup final and then won the next four games.

The Leafs, riddled by injury and illness since the start of the series, still have three players below par physically.

Frank Mahovlich, the scoring leader, is nursing a bad knee. Rookie Brit Selby has a cracked toe and Eddie Shack suffered a bruised left ankle in Tuesday night's 5-2 loss to Montreal. Each is expected to play tonight, however.

The Canadians, who finished first in the regular season and captured the Cup last year, will be without Henri Richard. The little center has twisted knee ligaments.

To replace the injured players, the Hawks called up Dennis Hull, Oscar Gaudet and John Miszuk from St. Louis of the Central Professional League.

The fifth Chicago-Detroit game is scheduled for Chicago Stadium Sunday afternoon and will be televised nationally.

In the other semifinal, a Toronto victory tonight will set up a fifth game Saturday night in Montreal where the Canadiens won the first two games, 4-3 and 2-0.

Just a taste is all we ask ...it's all we've ever needed.

WHY?

Because this is the most expensively made* Bourbon in Kentucky... and probably in the world.

We offer the rare mellowness of our new 86.8 proof OLD FITZGERALD Prime Straight or the famous flavor of our original Bottled in Bond. All we ask is that one taste. (Wouldn't you if your Bourbon was the most expensively made?)

Market Shuts Higher After Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed sharply higher today in heavy trading which piled up one of the biggest volume totals in recent history.

Coppers roared ahead again. Anaconda was up 5 and Kennecott 4 in late dealings.

Trading was so heavy that brokers did not see how the pace could be sustained without the market "tiring" and there were some signs of weakness near the close.

Volume for the day was estimated at 12.6 million shares compared with 10.44 million yesterday.

News that Chile had raised copper prices in the export market gave an additional boost to the already-advancing copper stocks.

Anaconda rose 7. Kennecott 4. Copper Range 4. Newmont Mining 3, Cerro and Magma Copper 2, Phelps Dodge 1¼ and American Smelting 3½.

Boeing, up 5, and United Aircraft, up 3½, responded anew to the $525 million contract for mammoth jet airliners from PAN American which spurted more than 3. Eastern Air Lines gained 4, United 2 and American 1.

Roan Selection Trust, the African copper miner which was most active stock Wednesday, rose 2½ to 15 on a delayed opening block of 500,000 shares and seemed destined to lead the market on volume again.

Also up about 2 points were Textron, American Metal Climax, Liggett & Myers and Radio Corp. IBM advanced 15 points. Texas Instruments rose about 4. Gains of around 3 were made by Xerox, U.S. Smelting, Admiral and Anken Chemical.

Texaco rose 2. Fractionally higher were General Motors, American Telephone, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Union Carbide and General Electric.

Bank Merger Turned Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — An application to allow the Bank of Sonoma County, Sebastopol, to merge with the Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco was denied yesterday by the Federal Reserve Board.

Wells Fargo, California's third largest bank, is already one of eight banks which operate branches in the Sebastopol-Santa Rosa Area. The board said a merger might harm competition.

Wells Fargo has deposits of about $3.5 billion, the Sonoma County bank $17 million.

The board said the proposed merger would have provided added convenience to Sebastopol residents, but said that Wells Fargo is already one of the dominant forces in that bank market area.

Videotape Industry Fetes Tenth Husky Anniversary

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Ten years ago today the television industry was impressed by the unveiling of a videotape recorder.

It was a $75,000 electronic marvel that recorded live-quality pictures and sound on magnetic tape, just as the ordinary recorder tapes sound only.

The video recorder was displayed at the 1956 New York convention of the National Assn. of Broadcasters by the then little Ampex Corp. of Redwood City.

Today, the videotape recording field has grown into a $100 million a year business. Ampex says it provides 65 to 70 per cent of all videotape recorders sold.

Last month, at the four-day National Assn. of Broadcasters convention in New York, Ampex says it wrote orders for another $4.5 million in recorders and accessories, primarily in expensive color equipment. Sales at the 1965 convention amounted to $2.8 million.

Big professional studio recorders cost about what they did 10 years ago—from $60,000 to $100,000. But now they handle live quality color. Duplicate tapes with master quality can be made. Tapes can be edited electronically and automatically.

Hexcel Announces Plans To Relocate

BERKELEY — Hexcel Products, Inc., has announced plans to close its Berkeley and Oakland facilities by the end of this year and to move its headquarters to the company's more modern plants in Arizona, Maryland and Texas.

Negotiations are being completed for a new administrative headquarters and research facility in the Bay Area.

By JOHN T. CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The dramatic encounter in recent months over wage-price guidelines ended in victory for the administration and defeat — and price rollbacks — for business.

But is it so? In the immediate conflict business has been the loser. But there is evidence business learned quickly how to get its way while apparently observing the guidelines.

This has been done by mixing price cuts with price advances, by making increases small, by making no announcements of increases, by dealing with customers individually, by maintaining the old price list but putting more of the transportation burden on the buyer and by eliminating discounts.

In addition, an attempt at a price or wage increase, publicly announced, has a good chance of attracting no reprisal from Washington. The administration has been selective. Some increases get by.

Early in March, U.S. Steel Co. boosted prices on a big tonnage item, steel plate, by an average of $2.92 a ton. At the same time it cut prices on another product it said could be substituted.

U.S. Steel called the net result of "standoff." And Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, commented:

"In the Council's judgment, relative price adjustments can contribute to economic efficiency when they take place within a framework of price stability."

But was it a standoff? Although the increase — decrease arrangement could confuse an electronic computer — U.S. Steel tossed away its price lists for some nails and a type of wire rod and decided to negotiate prices instead — some observers now feel the full impact was an increase. For one thing, the increase in the total price of steel caused by U.S. Steel's price rise seems to be of the same magnitude as would have been caused by Bethlehem Steel Co. abortive attempt to raise prices Jan. 1.

For another, the price decrease on sheet steel — which without the purchase of costly new machinery by the buyer.

Wages also have gone beyond the guideposts. The Labor Department said major 1965 wage increases averaged 3.9 per cent, the highest since the guideposts were established.

Some evidence exists, then to suggest that the power of the guideposts isn't as dramatic as exhibited in the dramatic rollback of prices in aluminum and steel.

New Branch Bank Opening

Tiburon National Bank will open its fourth Marin County office tomorrow in the Paradise Shopping Center.

The new branch, which follows by only four months the opening of the bank's office in Strawberry, is at 5587 Paradise Drive, a temporary location. The bank plans to erect a building on a site in the same area later.

The office will be under management of Stanley Lynott of San Anselmo, who also manages the bank's Kentfield branch. Lynott will divide his time between the two offices.

Kenneth Battersby, of Santa Rosa, has been appointed assistant manager. A native of Canada, he was previously employed by the Bank of California.

Former Theater Property Leased; France Resident Vice President

Several leases have been taken by Edgewater Properties for space in the Sausalito Little Theater Building at 745 Bridgeway. Sausalito now being remodeled by Joseph Filippo, with date of occupancies scheduled for about the middle of next month.

Joyce Curry, who had the Sandal Shop before the remodeling began, of course will reopen again. New occupants include an imported gift shop of Henry Takahashi, San Francisco; Earl Smitherman of San Francisco, women's fashion designer; and John Stanton of San Mateo, a goldsmith.

This will fill up the building. Dee Barger of Edgewater handled the lease transactions.

Neighbor

Mrs. Turoff

Promotions for both men are well justified. Palmer York Jr., head of the firm, reports that the San Rafael office was the most profitable of the company's five offices during the last quarter and the staff will be increased this year. The company's headquarters are in San Francisco.

TED M. NEIGHBOR of Mill Valley has been promoted by Insurance Securities, Inc., San Francisco to assistant general sales manager from supervisor of the representative services department. He became a representative for the firm in Marin County in 1962 and joined the home office staff in San Francisco in 1964. Previously he worked 11 years in sales and sales management for Pebble Beach Sportswear.

INSURANCE. Mrs. Arline Turoff of Ignacio has been appointed an agent for Allstate Insurance Companies and will be based in the office at 1535 South Novato Boulevard, Novato. She has completed a training course at the Menlo Park regional office.

CAMPBELL-BISHOP CHEVROLET. Corte Madera is sponsoring Marin entrants in the July 16 run-off at Fremont for the All-American Soap Box Derby. First prize at Fremont is a $500 Savings Bond and an expense-paid trip to the national race in August at Akron, Ohio, where something like $30,000 will be given out in prizes and scholarships.

Applications are available for youngsters from 11 to 15 years of age at Campbell-Bishop—see Stan Wisnes, who is in charge. Mechanic Bill Crosby here will also act as a technical advisor in building your own cars.

FOURTH ANNIVERSARY of Steve Liggett Beauty Supplies, San Rafael will be celebrated May 2 at Bob's of Marin, Corte Madera with a show for hairdressers, presented in association with Clairol, Inc. Salvatore Megna and his award winning style techniques will be featured. Entertainment. Reservations are required.

France

Croke

JESS J. FRANCE of Forest Knolls, resident manager of the San Rafael office of York Securities Corp. since it was opened in 1959, has been elected a member of the board of directors and now boasts the new title of "resident vice president."

A former president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, France was vice consul to Bolivia in 1945-1946, and then went with the U.S. Department of Commerce for several years. He has been in the investment securities field since 1953. He usually has classes going on this subject either at Tamalpais High School or Sir Francis Drake High School adult sessions.

George E. Croke Jr. of Fairfax, who has been with York since 1962, has been appointed new resident manager in San Rafael. He founded the House of Colors on the Miracle Mile, San Rafael in 1959 and sold the store three years later to go with York. Previously he had been a close follower of the investment security market.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Salmonella Food Poisoning Is Becoming More Common

VAN DELLEN

Food poisoning due to Salmonellae organisms is rising. No one knows how many people will develop the disease 'salmonellosis) because only a small fraction are reported to the health department. If the estimate that 1 to 2 per cent of our population will be affected is correct, there will be 2 to 4 million victims this year.

The upsurge of salmonellosis has been traced to pets, human carriers, and mass marketing of contaminated processed foods. Many types of poultry are tainted, possibly because salmonellae organisms are in animal feed. One infected bird in a giant processing plant can contaminate other fowl and the handlers.

SEVERAL families from a western city developed food poisoning after eating turkeys purchased from different supermarkets of the same chain. One family recalled that the drumstick was "not quite done."

An epidemic involving more than 18,000 residents of a California town was traced to a contaminated nonchlorinated deep well. Some pet turtles, birds, cats, and dogs harbor salmonellae. Last year an outbreak was traced to Easter chicks. Epidemics have stemmed from bakeries using contaminated egg mixes.

Many warnings have been sounded against the use of cracked eggs. One piece of meat could theoretically contaminate a slicer or a grinder thus conveying the organisms to all the meat processed that day. The butcher (or any food handler) could do the same if he was a carrier and careless about his health habits and cleanliness.

MOST OF the victims develop fever, nausea, vomiting, or diarrhea. Some suffer from respiratory distress ranging from sore throat to pneumonia. Unless stool cultures are done the doctor and the patient let it go as food poisoning or intestinal flu rather than salmonellosis.

The best remedy is to trace the source of every epidemic and take appropriate health department action. It may be impractical to examine food handlers at frequent intervals, but an attempt should be made to do so, and to educate them on sanitation.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BLOOD SUGAR

V. F. R. writes: Are people who set up a high level of efficiency for themselves more likely than others to be troubled with low blood sugar?

No. On the other hand, individuals with low blood sugar may not be capable of doing as much as they want to. Unless these persons lower their sights it will be difficult to do efficient work. The condition can be remedied through diet.

HEART ATTACK

V. C. writes: will a man be able to drive a car after recovering from a heart attack?

REPLY

Yes, but in the final analysis the answer depends upon whether this person develops chest pain because driving is a chore and is hard on the nervous system.

BACKACHE

F. E. writes: Please tell me in plain English the meaning of myalgia lumbosacral spine?

REPLY

Myalgia means muscle pain. The lumbrosacral part of the spine refers to the lower back. When added together, the term means low back pain of muscular origin.

TRANQUILIZER

F. M. writes: I take one mild tranquilizer every day. Do you think this is excessive?

REPLY

Probably not, but define your tranquilizer next time.

LONG SHOT

Mrs. D. writes: Could a chronic kidney infection be responsible for morning nausea?

REPLY

This is a remote possibility because kidney infection may lead to reflex changes in the gastrointestinal tract. There are many other origins of this symptom that should be investigated first.

SNUFF

E. W. Z. writes: Does snuff have the same effect on the system as smoking?

REPLY

Yes, but the effect is not as marked. It does not irritate the lungs.

HEAT AND COLD

Mrs. A. J. writes: Does an overheated apartment make a person more susceptible to the cold when he goes out in winter weather?

REPLY

Not unless the apartment or home is extremely dry and has left the mucous membranes of the nose and throat so parched they offer no defense against cold germs.

Inheritance Aide Idled For Assessor Link

SACRAMENTO (AP) —State Controller Alan Cranston has suspended Albert F. Skelly, a San Francisco inheritance tax appraiser who testified he split several legal fees with San Francisco Assessor Russell Wolden.

The assessor is on trial, charged with ten counts of bribery and one of conspiracy. Both Wolden and Skelly are attorneys.

Cranston said he put Skelly on inactive status Monday. "It would be wholly improper to fire Mr. Skelly, to demand his resignation or even to make any comment in the midst of a trial in which Mr. Skelly is a witness," Cranston said yesterday.

Skelly is not receiving any new cases or work from the San Francisco Probate Court, Cranston added. The state controller appoints all inheritance tax appraisers.

Yesterday Assemblyman Houston I. Flournoy, R-Claremont, demanded that Skelly be fired because of his testimony in the Wolden trial. Flournoy is seeking the Republican nomination for controller.

Poison Suspected In Dog Deaths

Two Corte Madera residents, living in different areas of town, reported to police yesterday that their dogs had died of poisoning.

Gayle A. Pickrel of 3 Chickasaw Court said his dog was sick when it returned from a vacant lot on the north side of the court yesterday. He took it to Madera Pet Hospital where it died of poisoning. He said several other pets in the area have been poisoned recently.

Dorothy Thiele of 121 Grove Avenue, Apt. 3, told police that her dog had died and the veterinarian reported cause of death may have been metallic poisoning.

Burglars Take TV Set, Suits

Loss of an estimated $365 worth of items including a television set and two men's dress suits in burglary of the home of Robert B. Edwards, 71 Sydney Court, Santa Venetia, was reported today by sheriff's officers.

Deputies said entry was by prying open a patio door, apparently with a screwdriver, between 7 a.m. Tuesday and 12:15 a.m. yesterday.

Mrs. LaSalle McReynolds, 59 Cole Drive, Marin City, told officers someone apparently entered an unlocked rear door of her apartment and made off with a .22 caliber rifle, a rifle telescope, a half-box of ammunition, and three transistor radios.

False Arrest Suit Is Filed

Donald Lee Bellar today filed a $50,000 false arrest and imprisonment suit in Marin Superior Court against Shoreline Market in Tamalpais Valley and two other defendants.

Bellar, of 610 Eastwod Way, Tamalpais Valley, charges that Lee Gorman, store employee, and Alfred J. Santos, an owner, falsely accused him of petty theft in the store last Sept. 1. He was booked in counuty jail on a citizen's arrest, but was acquitted by Marin Municipal Court jury Dec. 9.

Best-seller time is tonight

For every I-J advertiser, an advantage in selling

When you, as an advertiser, purchase space in the I-J, your message gains a TIME ADVANTAGE worth dollars and cents in the till. For as an EVENING NEWSPAPER, the I-J reaches your customer prospects at the PRIME BUYING TIME . . . in the evening, when people have the MOST TIME to read and consider your merchandise and prices.

This EVENING READING TIME is nothing to pass over lightly. This is when buying decisions are made . . . when people are relaxed, receptive, actively in search of advertised values. Contrast this with radio, with morning newspapers, with circulars. In the I-J, readers search the ads, page by page. They WANT TO READ, have TIME to read . . . have time to "talk it over," compare, decide. Even the kids get into the act! Small wonder the I-J is Marin's first choice for advertising . . . by both readers and advertisers.

The I-J out-sells all other newspapers in Marin. More daily Marin circulation than the Chronicle and Examiner combined.

BROWN CONFIDENT OF BUDGET WIN

Says GOP Will Surrender On Accrual 'After They've Had Their Little Fun'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown predicted today that the Republicans will drop their blockade of his $4.62 billion budget and the accounting change he seeks to balance the record spending program.

Reiterating that "new taxes this year are not negotiable," Brown told his news conference the GOP minority "after they've had their little fun up here will vote for accrual."

The governor said several Republican assemblymen, whom he did not name, already have told him they will vote for the bookkeeping change which would count as income money that is owed the state but has not yet been collected.

"We've had these little games in the past three or four sessions, then they've found some way to save face and voted for the budget," he said.

The regular budget session ended without a budget when lower house Republicans held firm and refused to give votes to the spending program so long as the accrual system was used to balance it. The budget requires a two-third majority and Democrats in the Assembly lack five votes of that margin.

The governor renewed his strong support of pending revision of the state constitution and of pending legislation to fight the state's smog control laws, despite some protests that one firm would get a monopoly on automobile smog devices.

Brown said he is supporting "with all of my heart" the proposed constitutional changes which would create a fulltime legislature empowered to set its members own salary.

He also backed a bill by Assembly Majority Leader Jerome R. Waldie, D-Antioch, to set lawmakers' salaries at $18,000, subject to reforms in fringe allowances and tighter curbs on conflicts of interest.

On smog, Brown said he strongly favors a bill to require smog control devices on motor vehicles even if only one such device is available. He said the public can be protected through a price ceiling on the devices.

"If one company can come up with a device that can cut smog in California, then I'm one hundred per cent for it," he said.

The governor likened the situation to the development of the Salk polio vaccine, and said no one would have held up innoculation because there was only one vaccine on the market.

The legislature wrote in a requirement last year that two devices be approved before smog curbs could be required. The action came after charges that the American Machine Foundry Corp., represented by a son-in-law of the governor, would have had a monopoly if only one approved device could trigger the requirement.

On other subjects, the governor:

Announced formation of a new statewide citizens commission to develop a master plan for elementary and secondary education similar to a pioneering state master plan of 1960 for higher education. The committee will be financed by a $400,000 federal grant and headed by former State Savings and Loan Commissioners Frederick E. Balderston, a Univerisity of California economics professor.

Said he is consulting with state and federal officials on the possibility of Soviet fishing trawlers, now off the Oregon coast, moving to California waters. He said he hopes to get an international agreement emphasizing conservation of fish so the stocks won't be depleted. He said the Russian methods could seriously damage California's $300 million annual commercial fishing industry.

Reiterated that he will seek a "little Wagner Act" next year to set up machinery for certifying unions to represent farm workers. Brown noted that the 1959 legislature defeated such legislation, now being sought by farm workers.

"We had another kind of march then, a march of the farmers," he said in reference to the 300-mile march of striking Delano grape pickers demanding union recognition.

Palomar Mountain, location of the giant 200-inch Hale telescope, was the home of band-tailed pigeons, hence the Spanish called it "Palomar" meaning "Place of the pigeons," or pigeon roost.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Accreditation Report Answers Might Support Unification Need

An argument for school district unification might be found in the answers to one of the myriad questions contained in Tamalpais High School's accreditation report, prepared by the school's staff last spring for the Western Assn. of Schools and Colleges.

Teachers in each department were asked to "discuss the adequacy of provisions for the articulation of sequential subject matter with that of the 'feeder' school."

ART DEPARTMENT: "There are no provisions . . . as no consistent program of art education exists in our 'feeder' schools."

English: "None at the present time, formally. Correlation is a need that has been empressed (sic) by many department chairmen."

Foreign languages: Conferences have been held, but "the wide differences in preparatory background of 'feeder' schools and non-conformity of instructional material not only in each 'feeder' school but in high schools as well make articulation somewhat inadequate."

INDUSTRIAL ARTS: "No articulation at present due to lack of program in 'feeder' schools."

SOCIAL STUDIES: "There are no such provisions."

In response to scarcely any other of the many questions repeated for each department were the departments so near unanimity.

The three high schools of the Tamalpais district were reaccredited by the association last year. The reports they prepared were therefore somewhat different from those of San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools, which were being accredited by the Western Assn. of Schools and Colleges for the first time. Much of the reaccreditation report consisted of responses on what had been done as result of suggestions in the earlier accreditation (and a great deal of both the suggestions and the responses was just so much verbiage).

The reports were not smaller because of this. That for Tamalpais High School contained 284 mimeographed pages, plus pictorial section dividers.

The Tam High report disclosed that its faculty included none with a doctor's degree, but 44 with master's, 43 with bachelor's plus 40 units, and seven with only the bachelor's degree.

Contrary to popular impression, however, not all high school teachers have majors in the subjects they teach.

At Tam, of five business education teachers, two had majors in this subject, two in related subjects, and one in Spanish. Of 16 English teachers, 11 were English majors. Of nine foreign language teachers, six had majored in one or more languages. One of two home economics teachers had a home ec major.

However, both of the music teachers and all four of the industrial arts teachers had majors in their teaching subjects.

Of nine mathematics teachers, five were math majors. Of the boys' physical education teachers, three of five were p.e. majors; of the girls', three of four. Eight of the nine science teachers had majored in some field of science. Of 13 social studies teachers, 10 had majored in history or social studies.

One of the English teachers, one of the home economics teachers, one of the math teachers, and one each of the boys' and girls' physical education teachers had neither major nor minor in the subjects they were teaching.

The report showed that in the three years 1962-64, some 68.5 per cent of Tam graduates went on to college.

However, of the seniors, 102 of 162 who answered the question said training in fire prevention was inadequate, 91 of 166 found instruction in harmful effects of alcohol and narcotics inadequate, and 74 of 139 said there was inadequate instruction in manners and morals.

HERE'S WHY BEAUTYREST IS MORE COMFORTABLE

ORDINARY MATTRESSES have 200 to 300 wired-together springs. Push one down . . . and the other nearby springs sag down too. They can't support body hollows . . . give a "hammock" kind of sleep.

BEAUTYREST has over 800 individual springs . . . not tied together . . . each is in separate cloth pockets. Each spring works independently to push up under the back . . . give firm, buoyant support to all parts of the body.
